JULY 1, 2014 MEETING

At the first meeting, the Office of the Secretary of State outlined how it currently handles charitable registrations and noted the delay in processing charitable registration documentation, which is currently 6-8 weeks from the time the documentation is received. The workgroup recommended condensing and simplifying registration forms, especially for smaller organizations who do not owe a registration fee. It was also noted smaller organizations are unaware of the filing requirement altogether. The group suggested combining all different registration forms into one registration document. The NASCO representative alerted the workgroup that there is a multi-state filer system that is being worked on by several states for charity registration. The system is expected to be operational in 2-3 years.

The workgroup set the agenda for future meetings and planned how the workgroup should move forward. It decided to first review the items currently required by the Secretary of State for compliance with registration for charitable organizations, professional solicitors, fund-raising counsel, and public safety solicitors. After that is established, the workgroup would move forward with determining how that information can be effectively and efficiently collected to prevent an undue burden on the reporting organizations and how that information can be shared by government agencies. The meeting closed with a request to review the current registration forms of the Secretary of State so that recommendations for changes can be made at the next meeting.

SEPTEMBER 10 AND OCTOBER 15, 2014 MEETINGS

At the second meeting held on September 10, 2014, the workgroup broke into three subgroups to review all of the relevant forms. The first subgroup reviewed charity registration documents - the Exempt Organization Fund-Raising Notice, the Registration Statement for Charitable Organizations-Form COR-92, and the Certification form. The second subgroup reviewed financial reporting forms - the Annual Update of Registration, COF-85 (state financial form for charities that do not file a 990 or 990-EZ with the IRS), and the Accounting Report for Professional Solicitor. The third subgroup reviewed the registration forms for Professional Solicitors, Fund-Raising Counsel, and Public Safety Solicitors; and the Fund-Raising Notice form for Professional Solicitor. Each subgroup discussed recommended changes to the forms and presented their recommendations to the group for discussion. After discussion and a thorough review, changes were adopted by general consensus to be incorporated into the Secretary of State's final documents. Overall, members agreed there should be instructions that accompany each form to provide greater guidance on how to fill out the forms. In addition, many of the forms should be reformatted to allow for greater comprehension and consistency. Each form will now have the official seal of the Office of the Secretary of State.

At the third meeting held October 15, 2014, the workgroup further reviewed the changes to forms required for charitable organizations, solicitors, and fund-raising counsel. At the conclusion of that meeting, the workgroup recommended several additional revisions. Below are material changes to each of the forms reviewed.

REVISIONS TO CHARITY FORMS

The Exempt Organization Fund-Raising Notice is filed annually by charitable organizations that received less than $25,000 per year in charitable contributions in their most recently completed fiscal year as required by statute. The workgroup found that the form should be reorganized and that certain requested personal information should be better protected, such as bank information and Social Security Numbers.

For example, Item 1 should be changed to simply ask for name instead of legal name. Item 17 was reworded to make its purpose more obvious. The term “contribution” needed to be defined so it can be distinguished from public grants. Under the term “check one”, the information should be reworded to “did not receive more than $25,000 to date”. Changing the wording refers to the current status. There should also be a box included so people have the option to check one of the two. Moreover, there should be a note which makes it clear that if an organization cannot check either of the boxes they are filling out the wrong form. Third, information about paid fundraisers needed to be added.

The Registration Statement for Charitable Organizations-Form COR-92 is the initial registration statement for organizations that receive over $25,000 in charitable contributions in their most recently completed fiscal year. This can also be filed by organizations receiving $25,000 or less per year if they choose to use this form instead of the Exempt Organization Fund-Raising Notice form (organization under $25,000 may voluntarily file because they anticipate receiving over $25,000 within the next year or two). The workgroup decided that the alternate address required on the form could be a home or business address for the purpose of having additional contact information for the charity. Under the instructions on the first line of the form, there should be a fee chart incorporated or a reference to where the fee chart can be found. On item 7, Federal I.D. number should be changed to EIN number. The workgroup suggested putting “yes or no” in parenthesis because this question should be as intuitive as possible. This form also asks for a home or alternative business address. There needs to be a note on the form that informs people the alternative address can be a business address.

The Annual Update of Registration form and Certification Form are both used to complete the annual registration process for charitable organizations. The forms are of the same value, both contain the affidavit required by statute when filing the annual update of registration. The only difference is that the Annual Update of Registration form also contains a checklist of items to file along with the form to complete an organization's annual filing. It was recommended we make this one form and create instructions, eliminating the need for duplicate forms. It was suggested that we name the new form Annual Update of Registration form because that is how the law defines it. The instructions for this form now include a checklist and a chart for the annual registration fee. The workgroup suggested that since the title of the form has changed, there needs to be a note online that there has been a change in name so that people are not confused. Lastly, there should be an attachment that states, "I have attached all of the forms required for registration."

The COF-85 is a financial report form, specific to Maryland charities that file a registration but are not required to file a 990 or 990-EZ with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). The original form was four pages in length and sought information on revenue received, a breakdown of expenses, a balance sheet and a board of directors list along with information on paid members of the organization. Notably, the threshold for filing a 990-EZ or 990 with the IRS is between $50,000 and $200,000 in charitable contributions, which is a higher threshold than some of the registered Maryland charitable organizations receive. The COF-85 form was last updated around 2006-2007 and was modeled after the first three pages of the IRS Form 990. It was pointed out that the COF-85 form was more detailed than the 990-EZ, but was required by organizations with less revenue. Knowing many of the smaller organizations may not have the technical resources of a certified public accountant to fill out more complicated forms, the workgroup recommended simplifying the COF-85 and creating detailed instructions to aid in its completion. The form could be revised into three different categories: contributions, program service revenue, and investment income.

The Accounting Report for Professional Solicitors is filed by professional solicitors when a fundraising campaign has been completed. It requires the gross contributions received from the fundraising campaign, a breakdown of expenses (mostly related to salary paid to solicitors), total expenses and the net contributions received that are retained by the charity. This information is collected to determine how much of the funds from each fundraising campaign are actually allocated to the charity's cause. Under expenses, the line that is titled "other expenses" should be titled "difference". This helps to analyze the percentage of income that goes directly to the charitable organization. The workgroup agreed that this form should be made more widely available to the public by the Office of the Secretary of State.

The Professional Solicitor, Fund-Raising Counsel, and Public Safety Solicitor forms were separate forms that collected near identical information. There was only one different item on each form. The workgroup agreed the three separate forms should be combined into one document. This allows for less paper and documentation to be filled out, but gives the filer the opportunity to most efficiently select which type of charitable representative they are on the form. The newly merged form required further revisions relating to jurisdiction and venue.

The Fund-Raising Notice form is filed by professional solicitors prior to the start of a new fundraising campaign. This form provides basic information on the professional solicitor, the charity with which they will be soliciting on behalf of, when the campaign is scheduled to begin and end, where they expect to solicit in Maryland and their methods of doing so. It also provides names of those who will be soliciting for the professional solicitor on behalf of the charity. It was recommended that the second page, which the Office of the Secretary of State does not use, be deleted. A copy of the new fundraising agreement/contract will/should? be required to be sent in with this form. The instructions needed additional language to inform individuals that if they already submitted a contract, the submission of this form is not necessary.

CONCLUSION

Since July 1, 2014, the workgroup has studied the information that should be reported to the Secretary of State by charitable organizations, charitable representatives, and fund-raising counsel. As a result, the workgroup recommended a number of changes to all of the charity forms and the Office of the Secretary of State has updated all of the documents and created new instructions for each form. Copies of the forms and instructions are included as appendices. In 2015, the workgroup will focus our attention on effective and efficient ways to collect registration documents and fees with consideration on how that information can best be shared with other agencies and the public.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMPLETING EXEMPT ORGANIZATION FUND-RAISING NOTICE FORM

This form is required if you are soliciting charitable contributions in Maryland and received less than $25,000 in charitable contributions in your most recently completed fiscal year. This form is also required for when you are soliciting charitable contributions for a named individual and the gross amount is delivered to the individual (example: Jane Doe is sick and in the hospital, she cannot afford her medical bills, a fundraiser is held to raise money to give to Jane Doe to pay her medical bills). You cannot use the services of a Professional Solicitor and file this form.

This form should be filed prior to any solicitation occurring and then annually thereafter. This form must be completed annually as long as you are soliciting charitable contributions in Maryland.

Print this form, complete it, and mail it to:

Charitable Organization Division, Secretary of State, State House, Annapolis, MD 21401.

For questions about the form, please call us at 410-974-5534 or email us (contact us:

<http://www.sos.state.md.us/ContactUs.aspx>).

Directions for completing this form are as follows:

If the organization has never filed with the Secretary of State prior to completing this form, it should check 'New.' If the organization has filed this form with the Secretary of State prior to completing this form, it should check 'Renewal.'

1. Check one: If the organization solicits for a named individual, it should check the first box. If the organization is exempt because it has received less than $25,000 in its most recently completed fiscal year, it should check the second box. If the organization cannot check either one of these statements, this is the incorrect form. The organization will most likely need to file the documentation found on the Registration Instructions and Checklist page found at this link: <http://www.sos.state.md.us/Charity/Instructions.aspx>.
2. Enter the most recently completed fiscal year. Provide the month and year in which the organization's most recent fiscal year ended. For example, if your fiscal year ends on December 31st, you should write "December" into the month field. If completing this form in 2015, your most recently completed fiscal year would have ended in December 2014.
3. Enter the name of the charitable organization. This name should match the name on the current version of your Articles of Incorporation. If not incorporated, use the name under which you are or plan to solicit charitable contributions. If you are filing this form because you are soliciting contributions for a named individual, you should enter the name of the person for whom the fundraising is being conducted.

4. Enter the organization's Federal Employer Identification Number (EIN), also known as Federal Tax Identification Number. If you do not have one, enter the Social Security Number of the person for whom the fundraising is being conducted. If you do not wish to provide a Social Security Number, you should obtain an EIN from the IRS. There is no cost to obtain an EIN. You can apply online, at the IRS' website, www.irs.gov.
5. Please provide the mailing address for the charity. If the street address is different than the mailing address, please provide that as well.
6. Provide city/state/zip code for the mailing address. If the street address is in a different city, state, or zip, please provide that information for the street address as well.

10. Enter the organization's email address.
11. Enter the purpose or purposes for which contributions are to be used. If the purpose is very long, please attach a separate page and write "see attached." Please note that we have limited space to enter the purpose of the organization into our system. If the purpose is too long, we will use as many sentences as possible until space runs out.
12. If your organization has received a letter of determination from the IRS, giving 501(c)(3) status, please check 'yes' and attach a copy of the IRS Tax Determination Letter to the form. If the organization has applied for 501(c)(3) status from the IRS but has not yet received its letter of determination, please check 'pending.' If the organization was denied 501(c)(3) status, has not yet applied for it, or has no intention of applying for it, please check 'no.' You can file this form even if you are not a 501(c)(3). There is no penalty for checking 'no.'
13. Identify your methods of fundraising. You can identify multiple methods. Please select all that apply to your organization. "Canisters" are can or collection jars left in the public view, often times at a place of business, and often times asking people to place their change in them. If you solicit from a method other than the 5 listed, please list them in the space provided after "Other." These methods can include fundraising events, email, raffles, etc. You should describe any method listed in other.
14. Enter the name and address of the individual with custody of financial records for the organization. This is often times the Treasurer
15. Enter the names and addresses of persons who have final responsibility for the custody and final distribution of the contributions received by this organization.

16. Provide the name of the bank at which your contributions are deposited and the bank account number into which contributions are deposited. This information will remain confidential.
17. If the organization has completed any of the listed IRS forms, please check the one it has completed. For organizations that have filed a 990 or 990-EZ, please attach a copy of that to this form. There is no need to complete parts A and B if a 990 or 990-EZ was submitted.

If the organization has completed the 990-N or none of the listed forms, it will need to complete parts A and B of this section. Part A should provide the amount of contributions received in the most recently completed fiscal year; it should be the amount received in the fiscal year noted on the first page. Part B should provide the amount of contributions received to date in the current fiscal year; the fiscal year that is occurring at the time this form is being completed.

18. Check the correct answer for whether or not your organization is affiliated with a Maryland State agency. "Organization affiliated with a State agency" means a charitable organization which engages in activities for the benefit of the State agency or to further the purposes of the State agency, or both, through the use of contributions solicited from the public. If the organization circles 'yes' it must list the names of the agencies with which it is affiliated. If it answers 'yes' and it has raised more than $100,000 in charitable contributions, it must also submit an Agreed Upon Procedures Report along with the organization's annual registration. See what is required in an Agreed Upon Procedures Report at this link:

<http://www.dsd.state.md.us/comar/getfile.aspx?file=01.02.04.20-1.htm>.

Please note that we have limited space to enter the purpose of the organization into our system. If the purpose is too long, we will use as many sentences as possible until space runs out. This purpose will be displayed on our website for people searching for information on your organization. You should try to keep this purpose to 25 words or less.
14. If your organization has contracts/fundraising agreements with a Professional Solicitor write "yes" into the appropriate field. If not, write "no" into the appropriate field. Do the same for Fund-raising counsel. You will only need to answer "yes" if the company solicits contributions on your behalf in Maryland or advises about a solicitation that will occur in Maryland. If you enter "yes" to either or both, attach a copy of the contract(s) and give the name and address each company with which a contract exists.

Also, answer yes or no to the two questions regarding potential conflicts of interest. If you answer "yes" to the question, you should provide details of why you answered "yes." These details should include your involvement with the charity and your involvement with the company with which the charity does business including your influence in the decision-making processes for the charity and company.

15. Check one of the three boxes. If all taxes owed to the State of Maryland, a county in Maryland, or Baltimore City for the prior year have been paid you will want to check the first statement. If you did not owe any taxes to the State of Maryland, a county in Maryland, or Baltimore City, you will also want to check the first statement. You will only check the second statement if not all taxes due from the prior year have been paid to the State of Maryland, a county in Maryland, or Baltimore City or there is a dispute over taxes owed to State of Maryland, a county in Maryland, or Baltimore City from the prior year. If you have not paid all of your taxes due to the State of Maryland, or county in Maryland, or Baltimore City but they are not under dispute you will check the third statement.

16. Check the appropriate line to answer for whether or not your organization is affiliated with a Maryland State agency. "Organization affiliated with a State agency" means a charitable organization which engages in activities for the benefit of the State agency or to further the purposes of the State agency, or both, through the use of contributions solicited from the public. If the organization circles 'yes' it must list the names of the agencies with which it is affiliated. If it answers yes and it has raised more than $100,000 in charitable contributions, it must also submit an Agreed Upon Procedures Report along with the organization's annual registration. See what is required in an Agreed Upon Procedures Report at this link: <http://www.dsd.state.md.us/comar/getfile.aspx?file=01.02.04.20-1.htm>.
17. By signing this form, you are certifying that you have attached all required forms from these instructions.

Unless the home or alternative addresses are included in the IRS Form 990, please submit a separate list of home or alternative business addresses.
7. A copy of all contracts with professional solicitors or fund-raising counsel and all subcontracts or other contracts in furtherance of such an agreement under which solicitation is conducted in Maryland.

The extension of the filing deadline for Maryland will be extended to the same date provided on the IRS Form 8868 (*For example, the organization's fiscal year ends in December and it must file its 990 or 990-EZ with the IRS by May 15th of the following calendar year. If the organization files an IRS Form 8868 seeking an extension of the filing deadline with the IRS until August 15th and sends a copy of that extension request to us, we will grant an extension for your Maryland charitable registration deadline. ## INSTRUCTIONS FOR ANNUAL FINANCIAL REPORT FOR CHARITIES- FORM COF-85

A COF-85 is required to be filed as part of an organization's initial and annual registrations. The COF-85 is required only when an organization files a 990-N with the IRS or files nothing with the IRS at all. This form is not required for organizations that file a 990 or 990-EZ with the IRS. If your organization files a 990 or 990-EZ with the IRS, a signed copy of that form will satisfy the registration requirement.

The directions for the IRS Form 990 are thorough and do a good job of explaining what is needed. You will see italics at the end of various numbers in the instructions. Those italics reference the corresponding lines on the 990 that will also be helpful in completing this form. You should consult the directions for the 990 if further research is needed.

At the top of the form, be sure to note the name of the organization for which this financial report is completed, the mailing address of the organization, the EIN of the organization, and the fiscal year end that is being reported. Please note both the month and year of the fiscal year end being reported.

Print this form, complete it, and mail it to:

Charitable Organization Division, Secretary of State, State House, Annapolis, MD 21401.

For questions about the form, please call us at 410-974-5534 or email us (contact us:

<http://www.sos.state.md.us/ContactUs.aspx>).

Directions for completing the financial report, form COF-85:

Part I-Statement of Revenue:

1. Enter the gross revenue received from charitable contributions, grants, and all other gifts received by the charitable organization for the fiscal year being reported. This amount should include all donated goods, both cash and in-kind. If the organization is a 501(c)(3), the amount reported on this line should be close or the same as the amount of tax deductible contributions that were received by the charitable organization. Do not include any money received from the government (any level of government) on this line. See instructions for IRS Form 990, Part VIII, Line 1a, 1b, 1c, 1d, and 1f for further guidance.
2. Enter the gross revenue received by the charitable organization from the government. All government money should be included on this line. The money reported on this line is not considered a charitable contribution by Maryland. It should not be counted towards an annual registration fee. See instructions for IRS Form 990, Part VIII, Line 1e for further guidance.
3. Program service revenue includes income earned by the organization for providing a government agency with a service, facility, or product that benefited that government agency directly rather than benefiting the public as a whole. Program service revenue also includes tuition received by a school, revenue from admission to a concert or performance, museum, and registration/user service fees. See instructions for IRS Form 990, Part VIII, Line 2 for further guidance.

4. Membership dues and assessments received that compare with the membership benefits provided by the organization should be reported on this line. Benefits would include subscriptions, newsletters, use of an organization's facilities, and discounts on services or admissions to events that a nonmember can buy. See instructions for IRS Form 990, Part VIII, Line 2 for further guidance.
5. The amount of revenue received from savings accounts, investments, and securities. See instructions for IRS Form 990, Part VIII, Lines 3-4 for further guidance.
6. Fundraising/Special events revenue is reported on line 6. Special events include dinners, dances, concerts, sporting events, auctions, carnivals. The gross revenue received from these events should be entered on line 6a. The expenses directly associated with making the Fundraising event occur should be entered on line 6b. The difference between 6a and 6b should be reported on line 6c (equation is 6a minus 6b equals 6c). If 6c is a negative amount, please indicate that by putting the number in parenthesis. If gaming occurs at a fundraising event, the income and expenses from this should be reported on line 7, separate from the rest of the Fundraising event. See instructions for IRS Form 990, Part VIII, Lines 8a, 8b, and 8c for further guidance.
7. Gaming events revenue should be reported on line 7. Gaming events include raffles, pull tabs, and any other form of gambling that occurs with a gaming device. A gaming device, according to Maryland law, means:
  - i. A gaming table, except a billiard table, at which a game of chance is played for money or any other thing or consideration of value; or
  - ii. A game or device at which money or any other thing or consideration of value is bet, wagered, or gambled.A gaming device includes a paddle wheel, wheel of fortune, chance book, and bingo. The gross revenue received from these events should be entered on line 7a. The expenses directly associated with making the gaming event happen should be entered on line 6b (this includes payment of cash prizes). The difference between 7a and 7b should be reported on line 7c (equation is 7a minus 7b equals 7c). If 7c is a negative amount, please indicate that by putting the number in parenthesis. See instructions for IRS Form 990, Part VIII, Lines 9a, 9b, and 9c for further guidance.
8. Sales of inventory should be reported on line 8. Sales of inventory include sales of items that are donated to the organization, that the organization makes to sell to others, or items that the organization buys for resale. You should not include the sale of goods related to a fundraising event, as that should be reported on line 6. Gross revenue from the sales of inventory should be reported on line 8a. The cost of the items sold should be reported on line 8b. The difference between 8a and 8b should be reported on line 8c (equation is 8a minus 8b equals 8c). If 8c is a negative amount, please indicate that by putting the number in parenthesis. See instructions for IRS Form 990, Part VIII, Lines 10a, 10b, and 10c for further guidance.
9. Report all revenue not reportable on lines 1-8 here. Provide an attachment explaining how that revenue was generated.
10. Enter the total revenue received on line 10. This amount should equal the sum of lines 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6c, 7c, 8c, and 9.

Part II- Statement of Expenses:

11. The total cost of all program services expenses should be reported on line 11. Program services expenses are activities which the organization was created to conduct and which form the basis for the organization's tax-exempt status. Each major program service shall be distinguishable from all other program services and shall include activities, the costs of which can be practicably segregated and accounted for in the records of the organization. Examples of program services expenses include, but are not limited to, the following:

- a. Research;
- b. Public education;
- c. Professional education and training;
- d. Patient services; and
- e. Community services.

The expenses of public education materials and activities which include a specific appeal for financial support, may be jointly allocated with other functions according to the Financial Accounting Standard Board's Statement of Position 98-2 and any subsequent accounting guidance. This section is taken from the Code of Maryland Regulations 01.02.04.04A. See instructions for IRS form 990, Part IX, Column B for further guidance.

12. The total cost of all management and general expenses should be reported on line 12. Management and general expenses are the expenses which are not directly identifiable with any of the organization's program service activities or fund-raising activities but are indispensable to the conduct of each of them and to an organization's existence. They include expenditures for the overall direction of the organization, general record keeping, business management, general board activities, and related purposes. Examples of management and general expenses include, but are not limited to, the following:

- a. General board and committee meetings;
- b. Executive direction;
- c. General staff meetings;
- d. Office management;
- e. Accounting, auditing, and budgeting;
- f. Legal services;
- g. Personnel procurement;
- h. Purchasing and distribution of materials unrelated to fundraising activities
- i. Receptionist, switchboard, mail distribution, filing, and other central services;
- j. Administrative reporting;
- k. Legal and accounting services generated by papers required to be filed by the Act;
- l. Fees required by the Act; and
- m. Organization and procedure studies.

If the chief officer or any member of his staff spends a portion of their time directly supervising fund-raising or program service activities, their salary and expenses shall be prorated among those activities. If the chief officer or any member of the staff spends all of their time supervising the overall direction of the organization, their salary and expenses shall be management and general expense. Direct supervision of program services and of fund-raising shall be allocated to those activities and not to the management and general expenses. This explanation is taken from the Code of Maryland Regulations 01.02.04.04B. See instructions for IRS Form 990, Part IX, Column C for further guidance.

13. The total cost of all fund-raising activities should be reported on line 13. Fund-Raising expenses are the expenses of those activities of which the intent and purpose is an appeal for financial support or the solicitation of funds. They include expenditures for activities that constitute an integral and inseparable part of an appeal for financial support. Examples of fund-raising expenses include, but are not limited to, the following:

- a. Transmitting appeals for contributions to the public;
- b. Salaries of personnel associated with campaigns or other solicitations;
- c. Fund-Raising services and materials received from affiliates;
- d. Publicizing fund-raising campaigns and special events
- e. Conducting fund-raising campaigns, including the services of fund-raising consultants and professional solicitors; purchasing, preparing, maintaining, and revising mailing lists; recruiting and training volunteer solicitors and other campaign personnel, soliciting in person or by mail; acquiring and distributing of seals and other enclosures with appeals for contributions, campaign kits, coin containers, and other fund-raising materials; and maintaining fundraising records;
- f. Participation in local federated and governmental fund-raising campaigns, including attendance at pre-campaign budget reviews;
- g. Participation in fund-raising special events by employees of the organization benefited;
- h. Solicitation of bequests, foundation grants, and other special gifts;

- k. Feasibility studies;
- l. Goods, food, entertainment, or drink sold or provided in connection with an appeal for contributions; and
- m. Postage and printing expenses incurred in connection with an appeal for contributions.

An organization shall allocate to fund-raising expenses an appropriate portion of the salaries of regular staff members who devote time to record keeping relating to fund-raising activities whether during a campaign period or other period of solicitation. This explanation is taken from the Code of Maryland Regulations 01.02.04.04C. See instructions for IRS Form 990, Part IX, Column D for further guidance.

14. Report all expenses not reportable on lines 11-13 here. Provide an explanation as to how that expense was incurred.
15. Enter total expenses on line 15. This should equal the sum of lines 11, 12, 13, and 14.

Part III-Totals:

16. Enter the excess or deficit for this fiscal year. This figure will give how much money the organization made or lost in the fiscal year. The equation for this line is line 10 minus line 15 equals line 16.
17. Enter the net assets or fund balance from the beginning of the fiscal year. This is the amount of assets or funds that the organization had in its possession at the end of the

INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMPLETING APPLICATION TO REGISTER AS A PROFESSIONAL SOLICITOR, FUND-RAISING COUNSEL, OR PUBLIC SAFETY SOLICITOR FORM

Overview of filing requirements for Professional Solicitors, Fund-Raising Counsel and Public Safety Solicitors

Professional Solicitors & Fund-Raising Counsel:

This application to register must be submitted annually by professional solicitors and fundraising counsel who wish to solicit in Maryland. The annual filing fee for a Professional Solicitor is $350. The annual filing fee for a Fundraising Counsel is $250. Copies of all new contracts with charitable organizations shall be submitted by the Professional Solicitor or Fundraising Counsel. If the applicant has already submitted a copy of the contract, the applicant does not need to submit it again. Any amendments to contracts that have been made must be submitted as part of this filing unless the applicant already submitted the amendment to the contract. Professional solicitors must also include a Surety Bond or irrevocable letter of credit in the amount of $25,000.

If a currently registered professional solicitor is applying for a new registration, it must submit any outstanding final accounting reports as required by the Maryland Solicitations Act, Business Regulation Article 6-506 or an interim accounting report for each individual charity with which the professional solicitor has an on-going contract as required by the Maryland Solicitations Act, Business Regulation Article 6-306. Final accounting reports from the prior year do not have to be submitted with this application if they were already submitted to the Secretary of State. Interim accounting reports should be submitted on the same Accounting Report for Professional Solicitor form as a final accounting report is submitted on. You will check the box on that form to indicate that it is an interim report.

A professional solicitor should also be sure to include any new Fund-Raising Notice forms that must be submitted. If the Fund-Raising Notice form was submitted since the last application was filed with this office, the applicant does not have to submit it again.

Public Safety Solicitors:

Also, this application should be accompanied by a Surety Bond in the amount of $25,000. If the organization has a current Surety Bond on file with the Secretary of State it does not have to provide a separate Surety Bond for each application. The same Surety Bond can be used for each application as long as it is current.

***If the organization acts as more than one of these, it should file a separate application for each (for example, if the organization has contracts in which it acts as a professional solicitor and other contracts in which it acts as a public safety solicitor, it must submit separate applications to register, one to register as a professional solicitor, and one (or more) to register as a public safety solicitor)***

The initial Charitable Enforcement and Protection workgroup meeting, as required by House Bill 1352/Chapter 654, was held on July 1, 2014. Chapter 654 provides the Maryland Attorney General greater power to investigate and enforce provisions of the Maryland Solicitations Act regarding charitable organizations and representatives. Prior to this bill, the Attorney General could only enforce and investigate charitable organizations by request of the Secretary of State. This workgroup was created to discuss what information should be reported to the Secretary of State by charitable organizations, charitable representatives, and fund-raising counsel, and to determine how that information can most effectively and efficiently be collected and shared with other government agencies to protect the public and charitable assets.

The meeting began with an introduction of all attendees. Richard Tabuteau led a preliminary discussion about instances of charitable asset fraud and embezzlement, making the broadening of the Attorney General's enforcement power a necessity. Chapter 654 extends the Attorney General's power to investigate the misapplication, diversion, or waste of charitable assets.

Peter Fosselmen next provided a brief overview of the current application process and filing procedures required to register as a charitable organization. The application is done by paper and is manually processed and scanned by the Secretary of State's office. After the applications are reviewed and processed, the Secretary of State then mails the applicant responsive correspondence. Registration is due within 6 months at the end of that fiscal year. As a result of this manual processing, there is a backlog of at least 60-90 days before an application may be reviewed; a core goal of the workgroup is to create a more efficient way to collect applicant information and dissemination to the Secretary of State.

Michael Schlein further elaborated on the registration process required for charitable organizations to solicit contributions in Maryland. Beginning October 1, 2014, the application fee will be $250 for registration as a fund-raising counsel, and $350 for registration as a professional solicitor. Along with the registration fee, the application must include the name and address of the charitable organization and of any affiliate in the State; the name and address of each officer with final responsibility for the custody and final distribution of the contributions made to the organization; a statement of purpose for which the organization was formed and will be used; whether the organization intends to solicit directly or have a professional solicitor or fund-raising counsel solicit charitable contributions on its behalf; a copy of the articles of incorporation or other instrument of the charitable organization; a copy of a letter from the Internal Revenue Service, or other documentation showing the organization's tax-exempt status; along with several other forms provided in Chapter 654.

Schlein distributed 9 forms to the workgroup that are used in the registration process. Those forms included: a Registration Statement (COR92), Certification form, Annual Update of Registration form, Fund Raising Notice, Exempt Organization Fund-Raising Notice, Application to Register as a Professional Solicitor, Accounting Report for the Professional Solicitor, and a Financial Form to be Filed by Organizations not Filing Form 990.

An organization soliciting in Maryland is required to register each year it continues to solicit in Maryland. Each organization collecting more than $25,000 in charitable contributions must pay an annual fee ranging from $50 - $300, depending on the amount of charitable contributions received by the organization.

Robin Jacobs recommended a more efficient registration process such as cross-sharing required documentation to encourage organizations to work together.

Fosselmen recommended condensing the registration forms into one. Karl Emmerson agreed with Fosselmen that application forms should be condensed and simplified.

Chris Cash commented that his goal is to simplify the registration process within 2-3 years.

Jon May asked what the overarching point was to the registration of the organizations receiving less than $25,000 in charitable contributions, since they don't have to pay an annual fee. He wanted to know what they were trying to accomplish with this registration.

Mike Schlein answered that it was a way to track them and to help inform them who is out there and how to find them if there's a problem.

Jon May then asked how they could get more of these smaller charities to register. He hypothesized that they're probably not registering because they don't know they have to. He then said that the goal should be to get the registration process down to a point where these organizations can register easily and quickly.

Robin Jacobs then noted how complicated and lengthy the registration process can be, especially since these organizations have to do both the IRS filing and the state level filing.

Jon May said that it would be great if we could link the IRS and the state filing processes together. This would make the whole process quicker and more efficient.

Fosselman then asked whether registration could be condensed to one initial form. Then, based on the organizations' answers to questions on that form, they could be directed to more forms tailored to what they need to file.

Mike Shlein replied that it was probably possible to get it down to one form, but the form might be longer.

Karl Emerson then recounted a story from his time working in Pennsylvania. When he looked at the registration packet, he was shocked to see that it was 26 pages long. He said it was too long and too confusing. He was told that everything had to be in there, though, and that it couldn't be changed. However, he was eventually able to eliminate 16 pages from the registration packet, and turned it into more of a one-size fits all system. He found that there had been a lot of duplicate information throughout the packet. Shortening the registration process made the system better and more efficient.

Chris Cash then discussed how the National Charities Organization is trying to develop a national filing system where everyone could easily file from any state. He is hoping that this system will be in place in 2-3 years.

Henry Bogdan suggested using an online application process for registration.

Kisha Brown suggested focusing on collecting and revising forms, and possibly creating new forms, for the remainder of this year. She also suggested that next year's focus be on how to most effectively disseminate that information to the public.

Jon May commented that the group should focus on "what" first and then move to "how." He said that once we figure out what information we need, it will make it easier to figure out how to put in place the best possible system.

The group then discussed the timeframe of receiving a determination letter from the IRS, which Mike Shlein said is usually between 6-12 months.

Henry Bogdan then talked about how, by the time the report on a charitable organization comes out, the information is no longer current. It is usually 18 – 24 months old. Sometimes there have been significant organizational changes in the charity by the time the report comes out. It may not even look like the same charity anymore. If everything was filed online, we could get better and more current information.

The group then started discussing how they could target bad charities and look for red flags.

Karl Emerson talked about how he didn't have the power to tell citizens whether a charity was legitimate or not. He could only provide them with information about the charity. If a citizen wanted to donate to a charity that he knew only used 2% of their money on their charitable purpose, he couldn't tell that citizen that the charity was probably not legitimate. All he could do was provide the citizen with the relevant information and let them decide.

The group then discussed how most people assume that it's only the big charities that are deceptive. This is not always the case, and it is important to remember that these smaller volunteer organizations can commit fraud as well.

Mike Shlein then started discussing the exemption for public safety organizations, like fire departments. He further discussed the role of professional solicitors within the public safety organizations. The current filing process aims to have more accountability for public safety solicitors. Several investigations were conducted into certain public safety solicitors and it was found that there were some former criminals doing it. Additionally, some were unregistered and employing deceptive practices aimed at confusing and deceiving the potential donors. Now they ask for contracts in hopes of minimizing fraudulent practices.

Kisha Brown proposed breaking into subgroups and to work on collective meetings, and also proposed that the next meeting focus on the forms required for registration, because that was the primary means of collecting data.

John May suggested that the workgroup participants make a broad list of the information currently on the forms, and what needs to be added to the forms, to discuss at the next meeting.

The workgroup set the next two meeting dates for: September 10th, 2014 and October 15th, 2014, both from 10 A.M. until 12:00 P.M. The interim report containing the findings and recommendations of the workgroup is due on or before December 1, 2014

Following the introduction was the approval of the July 1, 2014 meeting minutes.

The meeting began by mentioning an assignment from the previous meeting which was to review the forms required in the registration process for charitable organizations and note any revisions. The workgroup was then instructed to break into 3 smaller subgroups. Each subgroup was assigned 3 or 4 forms required in the registration process for charitable organizations and representatives. Their task was to review the forms and recommend changes to them. The forms reviewed were grouped in several ways: registration, accounting, and notice requirements. Each subgroup was asked to consider 3 questions when reviewing their designated forms: 1) Does the information sought serve a material purpose? 2) Is there unnecessary duplication? 3) Is any part of the form unclear, ambiguous, or vague? The overall goal of each subgroup was to update and simplify the forms. Once each of the subgroups discussed the material, they presented their recommendations to the larger workgroup. The subgroups were as follows:

- Subgroup 1: Robin Jacobs, Karl Emerson, Jonathan May, Chris Cash

- Subgroup 2: Peter Fosselman, Carole Carlson, Ryan Galloway
- Subgroup 3: Richard Tabuteau, Michael Schlein, Melanie Styles

The workgroup members broke into subgroups at 10:25 A.M.

The workgroup reconvened at 11:24 A.M. The presentations began with subgroup 2. This subgroup was responsible for the annual update of registration form, certification form, accounting report form, and form COF-85. Carole Carlson led the presentation for this subgroup.

Subgroup 2's presentation began with a discussion of form COF-85. The subgroup concluded that this form was not needed because if the organization's revenue is between a certain amount, the information has already been supplied. The form is ultimately aimed at organizations that collect under $50,000 in charitable contributions. It was noted that the purpose of the accounting report form was to include the information that was really needed. The subgroup concluded the discussion about this form by saying the best remedy is to combine forms with the questions that need to be asked. One form allows people to know what to fill out.

Subgroup 2 then moved on to discuss the accounting report form. They wondered if there was a legal reason for all of the detail in the form. The response was that the form goes to the solicitor. That is why there is a small breakdown. This helps to keep track of what people at the top are doing. Furthermore, none of the forms looked official. There is no State of Maryland emblem on any of the forms. It was also noted that definitions should be included on the forms because people may not understand all of the terms.

The subgroup's discussion then turned to the annual update of registration form. The subgroup asked why there was an alternative address section on the annual update of registration form. The response was that there is a statute that requires the alternative addresses, but there is really no practical use. Larger organizations often have a third party filer as the alternate address. There is really no need for alternative addresses. When it comes to some of the hot topic issues such as gun rights, the organizations use third party filers as their alternate address because people do not want their address listed publically. It is a safety concern. Maryland is the only state to require an alternate address.

Some final points were made on the forms assigned to subgroup 2. On the annual update of registration form, on the line that asks for an email address, the word "recommended" needs to be removed. It was then asked if all of the dollar amount levels are the same now that there has been a change in statute. It was pointed out that new fee levels need to be added to reflect the statutory changes.

The workgroup then moved to subgroup 3. The designated forms for this group were the application to register as a professional solicitor, application to register as a fund-raising counsel, application to register as a public safety solicitor, and the fundraising notice form. Michael Schlein led the presentation for this subgroup.

Subgroup 3 started their presentation by saying that the 3 applications (application to register as a professional solicitor, application to register as a fundraising counsel, and the application to register as a public safety solicitor) should be consolidated into one form with questions that are relevant for every solicitor or counsel. There is tremendous duplication across each of the forms. The application to register as a professional solicitor should be the base form. Most of the changes are the addition of legal terms so that the questions become relevant to everyone. The new form would also have check boxes.

The final form discussed by this subgroup was the fundraising notice form. In between registration, organizations are required to send this form. On the first page of the form, items 1 through 4 are relevant. However, items 5 through 8 are not important. It is known how solicitors raise money, so many of these questions are not needed. The third page of the form can be kept. It was added that there should also be a request for email addresses added to the fundraising notice form as well.

The final group to present was subgroup 1. They were responsible for evaluating the registration statement for charitable organizations and the exempt organization fund raising notice forms. Jonathan May led the presentation.

The presentation started with the subgroup's evaluation of the registration statement for charitable organizations form (COR-92). The group did not have many changes. The core information on the form is important. However, the group did wonder about the practical need for addresses in several places. Item 10 on the form (which asks for the names and addresses of any chapters, branches, or affiliates in Maryland) is the most irrelevant. Subgroup 1 then went on to ask about item 13 on the form- is having to write out the purpose for each contribution made or used helpful? If this information is not helpful, then it is just extra information. The response to the subgroup's question was that the information is put into a public database. The information is helpful, but could be obtained from the 990 EZ.

Subgroup 1 addressed questions 15 and 16 on the form (COR-92). They pointed out that question 15 is statutory, but questioned whether there was a statutory purpose for 16. It was responded that there is a statutory purpose for question 16 on the form. Also, an important point was raised about item 17 on the form. This year there were amendments to Title VI of the Solicitations Act. The form needs to be consistent with the new law that will take effect in a few weeks.

Subgroup 1 then moved on to address the exempt organization fundraising notice form. It was noted that the question which pertains to the level to file this form is statutory, but there is a gap. Therefore, this form should be tied to the 990 to fill the gap. It was explained that item 16 should be moved to the top of the form to let people decide if they should continue on with the form. The subgroup then discussed item 2, the social security number of the individual. It was pointed out that the social security portion of the form can be changed. Subgroup 1 also mentioned that to encourage compliance, there should be a statement that the information is confidential. As to item 10, the question should be rephrased. It should ask, do you have 501(c)(3) status or is it pending? This helps to break the question down. It was added that the question serves a consciousness raising function as well. The hope is that those filling out the form look at the information and question it.

The final point made about the forms assigned to subgroup 1 related to the possibility of combining the two forms. It is not possible on paper because of the differences in the way the forms work. However, there is a possibility of combining the forms online. There could be a decision tree format. The answers to questions could lead you to other questions.

Kisha Brown concluded the meeting. The workgroup is scheduled to meet again on October 15, 2014 from 10:00 A.M. until 12:00 P.M. The next meeting will be focused on refining the findings of the last two meetings and preparing for the interim report that is due on or before December 1, 2014.

The meeting began with the approval of the previous meeting's minutes. In the last meeting, the workgroup broke into subgroups to review forms required in the registration process for charitable organizations. At the conclusion of that meeting, the workgroup recommended several revisions. The goal of this meeting was to review the revisions that were incorporated into the forms by Michael Schlein.

The first form reviewed was the exempt organization fund-raising notice form. The workgroup discussed the changes made to the form. Item 1 includes an explanation that assists people in deciding if this is the proper form for them to fill out. Item 1 also asks for the legal name of the organization. This is ambiguous and it assumes that the organization is incorporated. It was concluded the language should change to simply ask for name instead of legal name. Item 17 was reworded to make its purpose more obvious.

The workgroup then discussed additional changes that need to be added to the form and the instructions. First, the term "contribution" needs to be defined so it can be distinguished from public grants. It should be noted that government grants are not included in public grants. Second, under the term "check one", the information should be reworded to "did not receive more than $25,000 to date”. Changing the wording refers to the current status. There should also be a box included so people have the option to check one of the two. Moreover, there should be a note which makes it clear that if an organization cannot check either of the boxes they are filling out the wrong form. Third, information about paid fundraisers needs to be added. For instance, there should be language that references the fundraising start date.

The second form reviewed was the registration statement for charitable organizations (COR-92). There was a typo at the top of the page and parenthesis missing in the telephone number. Under the instructions on the first line of the form, there should be a fee chart incorporated or a reference to where the fee chart can be found. On item 7, Federal I.D. number should be changed to EIN number. Item 14 is unclear. The workgroup suggested putting “yes or no” in parenthesis because this question should be as intuitive as possible. This form also asks for a home or alternative business address. This is a statutory requirement. However, there needs to be a note on the form that informs people the alternative address can be a business address.

The third form discussed was the annual update of registration form. Prior to last meetings suggestions, this was initially 2 forms. This form incorporates the certification form as well. The instructions for this form now include a check list and a chart for the annual registration fee. The workgroup suggested that since the title of the form has changed, there needs to be a note online that there has been a change in name so that people are not confused. The workgroup also pointed out a typo. Under directions for the completion of this form, the language says circle the correct information. Instead, it should say “check” the correct information. The final point made about the instructions was in reference to a certification attachment. Some people do not like to read instructions, so there should be an attachment that says, “I have attached all of the forms required for registration.”

The fourth form evaluated was the application to register as a professional solicitor. Initially, this form was 3 separate forms. This form has merged the application to register as a professional solicitor, application to register as fund-raising counsel, and the application to register as a public safety solicitor. The workgroup suggested that the form title should change to reflect this. There were also two other major changes. First, the bottom of page 4 needs to be removed. All of that information is in the instructions. Second, the jurisdiction and venue information on page 4 needs to be updated. The new changes to Title VI are not specific to Anne Arundel County. The language needs to incorporate all counties.

The fifth form analyzed was the fund raising notice form. This form was originally 3 pages, but it has been consolidated into 2 pages. There were 3 major changes. First, there needs to be a line on item 1 next to professional solicitor. There needs to be space for individuals to write their name. Under the same item there should also be a line added for an email address. Second, the instructions need language to inform individuals that if they already submitted a contract, the submission of this form is not necessary. Third, the law is stated at the top of the form. This should be moved to the instructions.

The sixth form discussed was the accounting report form for professional solicitors and public safety. There were minor changes for this form. Under expenses, the line that is titled “other expenses” should be titled “difference”. This helps to analyze the percentage of income that goes directly to the charitable organization.

The COF-85 form was the last to be evaluated. The workgroup was concerned with the complexity of this form. It was pointed out that the State is asking for more information than the federal government. The form could be revised in three different categories. Those categories are: contributions, program service revenue, and investment income. Smaller organizations do not have the sophistication to complete a form this complicated.

The workgroup was instructed to email any additional questions to Michael Schlein. The workgroup will begin to work on the interim report that is due on or before December 1, 2014.
