Executive Summary

The number of youth involved in all levels of the juvenile justice system in Maryland has seen a significant long-term decline over the past decade, including a steep decrease during the COVID-19 pandemic (FY 2021). Since then, numbers for complaints – and subsequently detentions and commitments – rose, but remained below pre-pandemic levels. Complaints and detention decreased again in FY 2025.

Complaints

The number of juvenile complaints in Maryland declined significantly over the past decade, but after a three-year rebound, decreased in the last year. The overall number of complaints is below pre-pandemic levels.

↓ 10-Year Trend: Number of Complaints Down 40.5%.

Number with Crimes of Violence: Up 11.5%

Number with Non-Violent Felonies: Down 32.7%

Number with Misdemeanors: Down 46.9%

↓ 1-Year Change: Number of Complaints Down 6.4%.

Number with Crimes of Violence: Down 10.5%

Number with Non-Violent Felonies: Down 22.6%

Number with Misdemeanors: Down 2.6%

Diversions from Court

Through FY 2022, DJS steadily increased the proportion of complaints diverted from juvenile court, either by resolving complaints, or by entering into informal pre-court agreements. Diversions have declined in the most recent three years, including a slight decrease in the rate of pre-court supervision. Youth that have been diverted have a high rate of success, with few having new offenses within a year.

↑ 10-Year Trend: Diversion Rate is Up from 51.2% to 52.8%.

↓ 1-Year Change: Diversion Rate is Down from 57.1% to 52.8%.

Community Supervision

The number of youth supervised by DJS in the community has declined over ten years to an even greater extent than the decline in complaints. Pre-court cases for youth informally diverted from court rose from FY 2021 - FY 2024 but declined again last year as the rate of informals decreased.

↓ 10-Year Trend: Overall Caseload is Down 57.5%.

Probation Caseload: Down 54.6%

Informal Pre-Court Caseload: Down 61.6%

Aftercare Caseload: Down 61.8%

↑ 1-Year Change: Overall Caseload is Up 13.6%.

Probation Caseload: Up 23.1%

Informal Pre-Court Caseload: Down 14.5%

Aftercare Caseload: Up 22.7%

Detention

The long-term and recent trends in the number of youth detained by the juvenile court generally mirror the overall trend in juvenile complaints. The number of youth detained under juvenile court jurisdiction declined significantly through FY 2021 and then increased for four years, remaining well below the last year pre-pandemic (FY 2019). Meanwhile, the number of youth under adult court jurisdiction detained in a DJS facility has risen, and such cases make up a majority of the DJS detained population. In the most recent year, overall detention is down again, driven by a decrease in adult transfers, but pre-d detention is slightly up.

↓ 10-Year Trend: Detained Population is Down 5.4%.
Juvenile Court Pre-Disposition: Down 55.6%
Juvenile Court Pending Placement: Down 16.6%
Adult Court Detained: Up 106.3%

↑ 1-Year Change: Detained Population is Down 0.5%.
Juvenile Court Pre-Disposition: Up 14.9%
Juvenile Court Pending Placement: Down 4.3%
Adult Court Detained: Down 4.9%

Youth Committed to Out-of-Home Treatment Programs

Average committed population declined steadily and steeply through FY 2022. As intake increased for the next few years, commitments stayed fairly flat. This reflects the willingness of the court to order in-home supervision and services in lieu of placement. In addition, it reflects a willingness of DJS to divert cases from court. The number of youth in out-of-state placements remains small, with an average of just 8.0 youth in FY 2025.

↓ 10-Year Trend: Committed Population is Down 73.7%.
DJS-Operated Programs: Down 49.0%
Contracted In-State: Down 82.0%
Out-of-State: Down 85.9%

↑ 1-Year Trend: Committed Population is Up 1.7%.
DJS-Operated Programs: Down 2.1%
Contracted In-State: Up 7.1%
Out-of-State: Down 3.0%

Offense Category for Committed Youth (FY 2024-2025):
The share of commitments for Crimes of Violence increased from 57.2% to 57.4%.
The share of commitments for Felonies decreased from 20.4% to 15.8%.
The share of commitments for Misdemeanors increased from 22.4% to 26.8%.

Justice-Involved Youth Outcomes

Recidivism rates for youth placed on probation and youth released from a committed treatment program are lower now than they were a decade ago.

Probation: 83.0% of FY 2023 probation cases had no new sustained juvenile or adult offense within a year of being placed on probation.

Committed Treatment Programs: 81.5% of youth released from committed treatment programs in FY 2023 had no new sustained juvenile offense or adult conviction within a year.

Gender and Race Equity

Youth of color are overrepresented in facilities relative to intakes, and that trend has worsened in recent years, though it was slightly down for pre-d detention in FY 2025.

- The percentage of pre-disposition detention placements that are youth of color increased from 85.8% in FY 2016 to 89.5% in FY 2025.
- The percentage of commitments that are youth of color increased from 79.5% in FY 2016 to 90.6% in FY 2025.

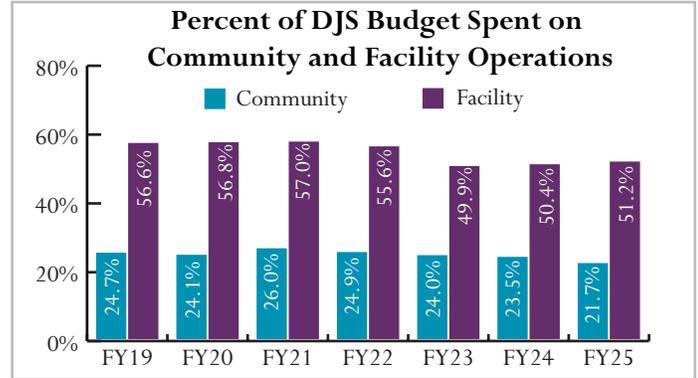

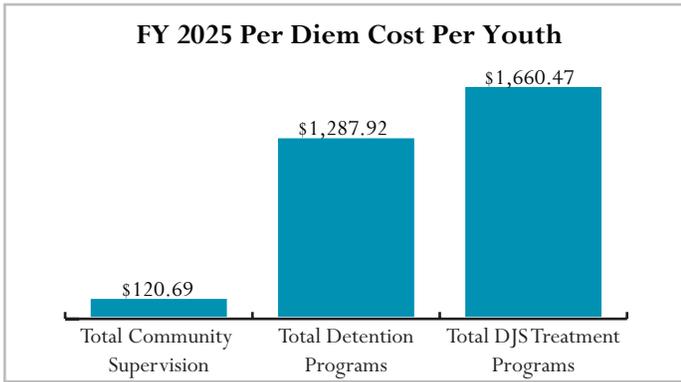

The percent of referrals to DJS Intake for girls has been remarkably flat over the past decade, at just under 30%.

- Girls were decreasing as a proportion of pre-disposition admissions to detention from 14.5% in FY 2016 to 9.0% in FY 2023, before increasing in FY 2024.
- Committed placements decreased from 16.1% in FY 2016 to 7.0% in FY 2025.
- Relative to boys, there is still a considerably smaller number of girls committed to DJS. FY 2025 had 26 girls committed in total as compared to 347 boys.

Expenditures

Although many more DJS youth are supervised in the community than are housed in either detention or treatment facilities, the cost of operating and contracting out-of-home programs for youth detained or committed has made up at least half of the DJS budget in recent years.

The daily cost to house a youth in facilities is vastly higher than the cost to supervise and provide services to youth in their home.

- In FY 2025, the in-home per-diem rate was $120.69.
- For detained and committed youth, the per diem cost was well over a thousand dollars a day.

Introduction to the Maryland Department of Juvenile Services

The Maryland Department of Juvenile Services (DJS) is the state agency responsible for managing, supervising, and providing community and residential programs for youth involved in the legal system. Our mission is to transform young people’s lives, create safer communities, and build more equitable systems through community-based partnerships that hold youth accountable while supporting their strengths and connections. DJS is engaged at every stage of the youth legal process, working in partnership with police, the courts, community organizations, and families. The Department maintains local offices in all 23 counties and Baltimore City, operates detention centers for youth awaiting hearings, and manages treatment facilities for those committed to out-of-home placement by the courts. Through collaboration with community and agency partners, DJS strives to achieve meaningful, positive outcomes for the youth and families we serve. The following updates highlight recent developments in the Department’s work and provide context for the data presented in this Guide.

SUPPORTING OUR YOUTH AT HIGHEST RISK OF GUN VIOLENCE TO THRIVE

In September of 2023, DJS launched the Thrive Academy to serve youth at the highest risk of becoming victims or perpetrators of gun violence. The program uses an intensive case management model that pairs young people with credible messengers, individuals with lived experience in the justice system and/or with gun violence, who serve as “life coaches”. Over the next year, DJS plans to strengthen the program by helping youth build practical skills that encourage positive behavior change. This will include interrupting harmful patterns early and providing guidance to make healthier choices. These efforts will be paired with supports that participants are already receiving, such as work or service stipends, tuition assistance for college or vocational training, relocation support, and group activities.

INVESTING IN COMMUNITIES MOST IMPACTED BY GOVERNMENT SYSTEMS

DJS, in collaboration with the Department of Public Safety and Correctional Services (DPSCS) and the Department of Social Services (DSS), launched the Safer Stronger Together (SST) initiative in three communities across the state: Salisbury, East Baltimore, and Hagerstown. The three agencies reviewed data to identify neighborhoods with the greatest overlap of families involved in multiple systems and living in areas heavily impacted by crime and violence. In these communities, residents and stakeholders are collaborating to co-design bold and innovative strategies that improve safety. SST also provides family navigators who assist multi-system involved families by coordinating supports and services for the entire household. Over the next year, SST will expand to a site in Prince George’s County.

BOLSTERING THE SERVICE CONTINUUM, INCLUDING WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

DJS is focused on building a continuum of services to meet the needs of justice-involved youth, their families, and communities. With support from a federal grant, the Department is conducting a statewide assessment to identify both opportunities and gaps in the service continuum. While this assessment is underway, DJS is strengthening partnerships with local organizations and other state agencies to improve service delivery.

To lead this work, DJS established the role of Assistant Secretary of Community Resources. This office is also spearheading efforts to expand education engagement strategies and workforce development programming to prepare youth for meaningful careers. By partnering with state and local workforce agencies, community colleges, employers, unions, training providers, and other youth-serving programs across Maryland, DJS is working to create and expand opportunities for youth. DJS is leveraging existing infrastructure and funding to connect young people to paid work experiences and training programs where they can build skills, earn income, and begin a path toward long-term career success.

OBJECTIVE ASSESSMENT TOOLS

Key decisions within DJS are guided by objective screening and assessment tools. The three tools currently in use are: the Detention Risk Assessment Instrument (DRAI), used to guide detention decisions; the Intake Decision Tool (IDT), used by Intake Officers to review juvenile complaints and determine which should be forwarded to the State’s Attorney’s Office (SAO) for formal petitioning and which can be handled informally (all felony offenses and handgun violations must be referred to the SAO); and the Maryland Comprehensive Assessment and Service Planning (MCASP) process, which helps develop individualized treatment plans.

The Intake Decision Tool (IDT), implemented in July 2020, is currently being revalidated to ensure that DJS decision-making is based on predictive factors. The updated tool will also better support frontline staff in identifying the most appropriate service connections for youth based on their needs. The IDT is intended to promote equitable decisions that are developmentally appropriate, culturally responsive, and tailored to each youth’s risks, needs, and strengths (See Appendix N).

The Detention Risk Assessment Instrument (DRAI), updated in February 2025, is under review to confirm it is achieving its intended outcomes. DJS anticipates making further updates to ensure the tool continues to guide appropriate detention decisions—reserving secure detention only for youth who pose a public safety risk, a risk to themselves, or who are unlikely to appear in court (See Appendix O).

For youth adjudicated delinquent, the MCASP Risk & Needs Assessment guides the development of an individualized Treatment Service Plan (TSP). By using objective tools, DJS is better able to match youth with the most appropriate interventions across the continuum of care, to meet both the needs of youth and address the underlying factors contributing to delinquent behavior.

PARTNERSHIPS

Across Maryland, DJS works with local government, law enforcement, DJS, courts, health departments, attorneys, and other stakeholders to ensure youth are safe and supported. The Department is committed to strengthening and rebuilding confidence in its day-to-day operations. Strong partnerships with stakeholders, youth, families, and communities are critical to the agency's success. To that end, DJS is expanding its outreach efforts by attending community meetings, meeting directly with local leaders, and listening to how communities experience the legal system. These conversations help identify opportunities for collaboration and ensure youth receive the services and support they need to be successful.

REIMAGINING RESIDENTIAL CARE

Most youth who interact with DJS remain in the community throughout their legal system involvement. In some cases, however, juvenile courts may order that a young person be removed from their home and placed in an out-of-home residential placement.

One of the first actions of the new administration was to review the agency's facilities and operations. Frontline staff play a critical role in the success of these facilities, and the Department is investing in them through Rewire CBT skills training. By equipping staff with additional tools to support behavior change, DJS strengthens the quality of care provided to young people in placement. The Department is also expanding access to meaningful programming within facilities, giving youth opportunities to build new skills and prepare for their return home.

All community case managers have already been trained in Rewire CBT skills. Extending this training to facility staff will create greater consistency and ensure a smoother transition for youth as they move back into their communities.

MANAGING WITH DATA

DJS is committed to making decisions and shaping policy based on data. Information gathered from assessment tools, caseworkers, investigators, auditors, and facility staff is used at all levels of Department management. This Data Resource Guide represents the most comprehensive report of DJS's aggregated data and is updated annually as new information becomes available.

Data are presented at the state, county, and program levels, which is critical for analysis because statewide trends can sometimes mask local patterns. DJS is also focused on leveraging data to increase transparency and improve operations. Later this year, the Department will make data available through interactive dashboards on its website, allowing stakeholders to filter information by county. DJS also plans to expand the range of data available on these dashboards. Additionally, executive staff review data weekly to identify trends, enabling them to make timely decisions that adjust policy, address emerging issues, and build on successes.

COMMITMENT TO CONSTANTLY IMPROVING EDUCATION

The Juvenile Services Education Program (JSEP), launched on July 1, 2022, is an independent education program housed within the Maryland Department of Juvenile Services. Previously, educational services for DJS youth were provided by the Maryland State Department of Education. JSEP provides comprehensive educational services to all students in DJS residential facilities. For each student, JSEP develops an Individual Learning Plan (ILP) that builds on their strengths and prepares them for continued success and positive engagement in their communities. DJS is committed to strengthening its partnership with JSEP to ensure staff have the skills and resources necessary to support youth and meet their educational needs.

GENDER-RESPONSIVE APPROACHES TO WORKING WITH GIRLS AND GENDER EXPANSIVE YOUNG PEOPLE

DJS established a workgroup composed of staff from across the agency to review practices for serving girls and gender-expansive youth and to develop strategies for better supporting this population. With technical assistance from the Justice + Joy National Collaborative (funded by the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention), the group met monthly to examine individual cases, workshop approaches to meet each youth's unique needs, and identify systemic barriers.

PRIORITIZING EQUITY AND INCLUSION

The Office of Equity and Inclusion (OEI) is responsible for implementing the Maryland Department of Juvenile Services' (DJS) Race Equity Framework through collaboration, strategic reforms, and agency capacity building. The Office's mission is to identify opportunities within the youth justice system to reduce racial and ethnic disparities in policies and practices and to work with local partners to address these disparities.

OEI ensures equitable outcomes by guiding the agency in applying the principles of the Race Equity Framework. The framework strengthens DJS's will, skill, and knowledge to operationalize racial and ethnic equity in order to achieve meaningful and sustainable results. As part of this work, DJS launched the Roots to Rise initiative, which acknowledges the historical impacts of systemic inequities and the Department's role in perpetuating disparities, and uses that understanding to inform reforms and strengthen community trust.

DJS Strategic Plan

MISSION OF THE MARYLAND DEPARTMENT OF JUVENILE SERVICES (DJS)

To transform young people's lives, create safer communities, and forge more equitable systems through community-based partnerships that hold youth accountable while building on their strengths and support systems.

Successful Youth, Safer Communities, Strong Leaders, Sustainable Partnerships

Vision

Providing pathways to success for youth and families through partnerships across Maryland

We Value:

- the youth, families, and communities we serve.
- people who are providing positive opportunities for youth in our care.
- the safety, experience, expertise, diversity, passion, and integrity of our staff.
- the delivery of meaningful services, supports, and opportunities to youth and families.
- race equity and work to dismantle systemic and institutional policies and practices that perpetuate racial disparities.
- cultural humility and celebrate all human differences, including race, ethnicity, gender, religion, and sexual orientation.
- partnering with youth, families, and communities to leverage opportunities that promote positive growth and development.
- a community-based approach that holds youth accountable with the least-restrictive and most appropriate interventions, recognizing the need for trauma-informed care and a holistic approach to healing.
- those impacted by crime.
- the voices of youth, families, staff, and community members, including those with experience inside criminal and juvenile justice systems.
- continuous learning and responsibility throughout the system.
- change for the growth opportunities it brings.
- teamwork, interagency coordination, and grass roots partnerships.

DJS Goals and Strategies

Goal 1: Improve Public Safety

Strategy 1: Target Highest-Intensity Resources to Highest-Risk Youth

Strategy 2: Create an Intensive Intervention for Youth at Risk of Gun Violence Involvement

Goal 2: Improve Youth Outcomes

Strategy 3: Deliver Meaningful Programs to Youth and Families

Strategy 4: Start Planning for Re-Entry Services upon Admission

Goal 3: Build Partnerships to Improve All Outcomes

Strategy 5: Create and Implement a Comprehensive Community Investment Strategy

Strategy 6: Prioritize Youth and Family Voices in Care Planning

Strategy 7: Broaden Restorative Justice Opportunities for DJS Youth and Victims

Goal 4: Achieve Organizational Excellence

Strategy 8: Right-Size Spending and Space

Strategy 9: Deliver Continuous Learning for All Employees

Strategy 10: Implement Technology Solutions to Serve Youth, Families, Staff, and Communities

Strategy 11: Eliminate Bureaucratic Inefficiencies

The Role of DJS

The juvenile justice process in Maryland begins when a juvenile complaint is brought to one of the DJS intake offices across Maryland either because the youth was arrested or charged by the police or is the subject of a citizen complaint.

DJS is involved in each stage of the juvenile justice process in Maryland. However, DJS is not alone in the process. DJS collaborates with law enforcement, courts, attorneys, youth, families, communities, and other state agencies and service providers at various stages.

The Department DOES:

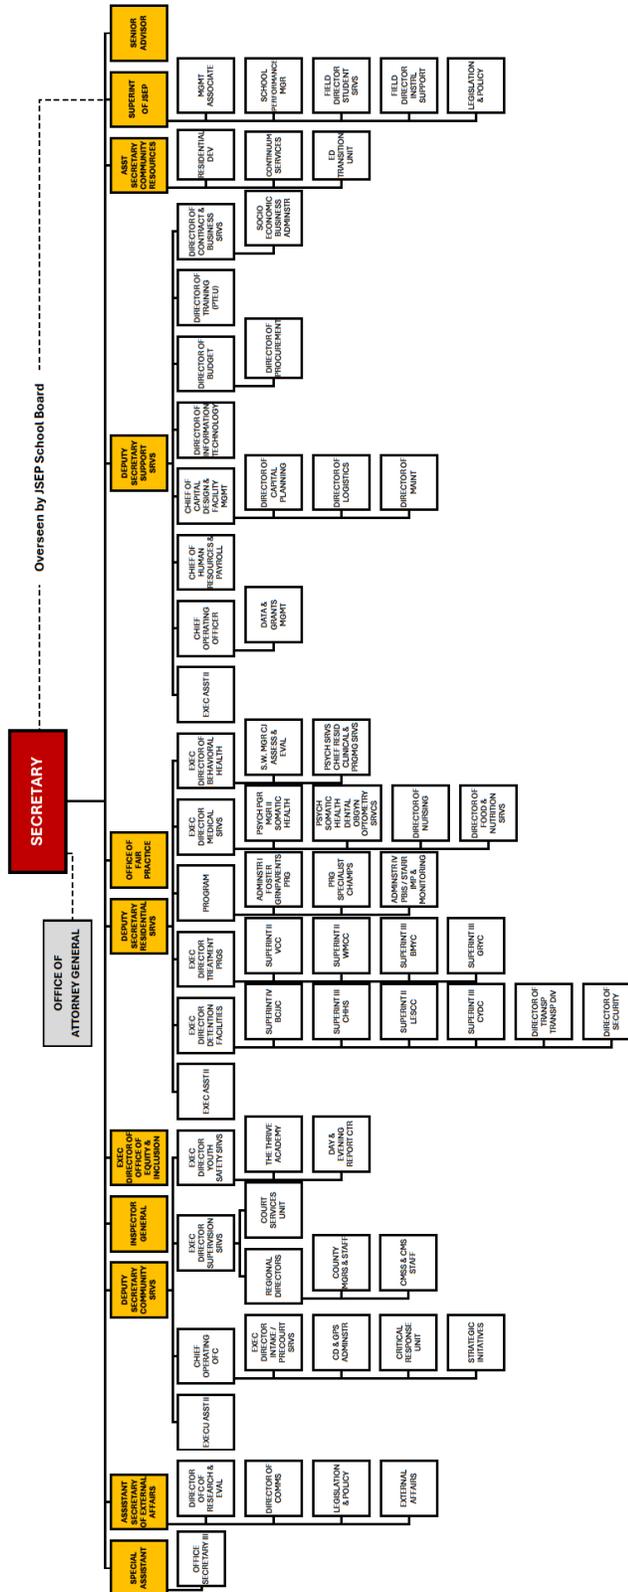

- Assess every youth who is brought to a DJS intake center in the areas of public safety, flight risk, prior court records, family/home life, school and work status, and medical and mental health issues.
- After completing the assessment of a youth, DJS Intake officers review complaints to determine if the juvenile court has jurisdiction and whether judicial action is in the best interest of the public and child. DJS may disapprove, resolve the matter with or without services, propose a pre-court diversion agreement, or authorize a petition to the juvenile court. Diversion of violent felonies and handgun violations must be approved by the State's Attorney.
- For cases sent to court, DJS provides the juvenile court a report of findings and makes recommendations to the court regarding the best course of action for the youth, such as treatment and services. DJS shares the recommendation with the court who has the discretion to approve, deny, or modify DJS recommendations.
- Based on the court's decision, DJS could be responsible for connecting the youth and family to services or supervising the youth.
- Assign one or more case managers to every youth involved in the juvenile court system.
- Provide intensive community supervision for youth deemed most vulnerable to become perpetrators or victims of crime. If a youth is placed on community supervision (Probation or community detention) DJS may make contacts with the youth and family via phone, in person at their home or school, or in the local DJS office. DJS also monitors compliance with any other conditions imposed by the court and reports back to the court regularly with updates.
- Coordinate services, such as substance abuse programs and mentoring, for youth in DJS care living in the community.
- Operate juvenile detention programs throughout Maryland.
- Operate and contract with juvenile treatment programs throughout Maryland and out of state.
- Operate and contract with shelter programs in Maryland.
- Provide medical services to every youth residing in DJS-operated facilities.
- Provide mental health services to every youth residing in DJS-operated facilities.
- Provide schooling, in collaboration with the Juvenile Services Education Board and Program, to every youth residing in DJS-operated facilities.
- Offer vocational training opportunities to youth who reside in certain DJS-operated facilities and youth residing in their community.
- Develop re-entry and aftercare plans for every youth returning to their community from an out-of-home treatment program.

The Department DOES NOT:

- Arrest youth.
- Serve youth with arrest or search warrants.
- Investigate crimes with youth suspects.
- Charge youth with offenses.
- Make final decisions as to whether a youth will be detained in the community or a secure detention facility.
- Make final decisions regarding whether a youth will receive treatment in the community or a secure treatment facility.
- Make final decisions regarding whether a youth will be released from a secure detention facility or secure treatment.
- Emancipate minors from their parents.

DJS Organizational Chart

As of October, 2025

DJS Operating Expenditures, FY 2025

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 2025, the Department expended a total of $353.3 million. The first pie chart reflects the major cost centers for which these funds were expended, and the second shows the expenditures by major object group. See Appendix B for additional information on facility costs.

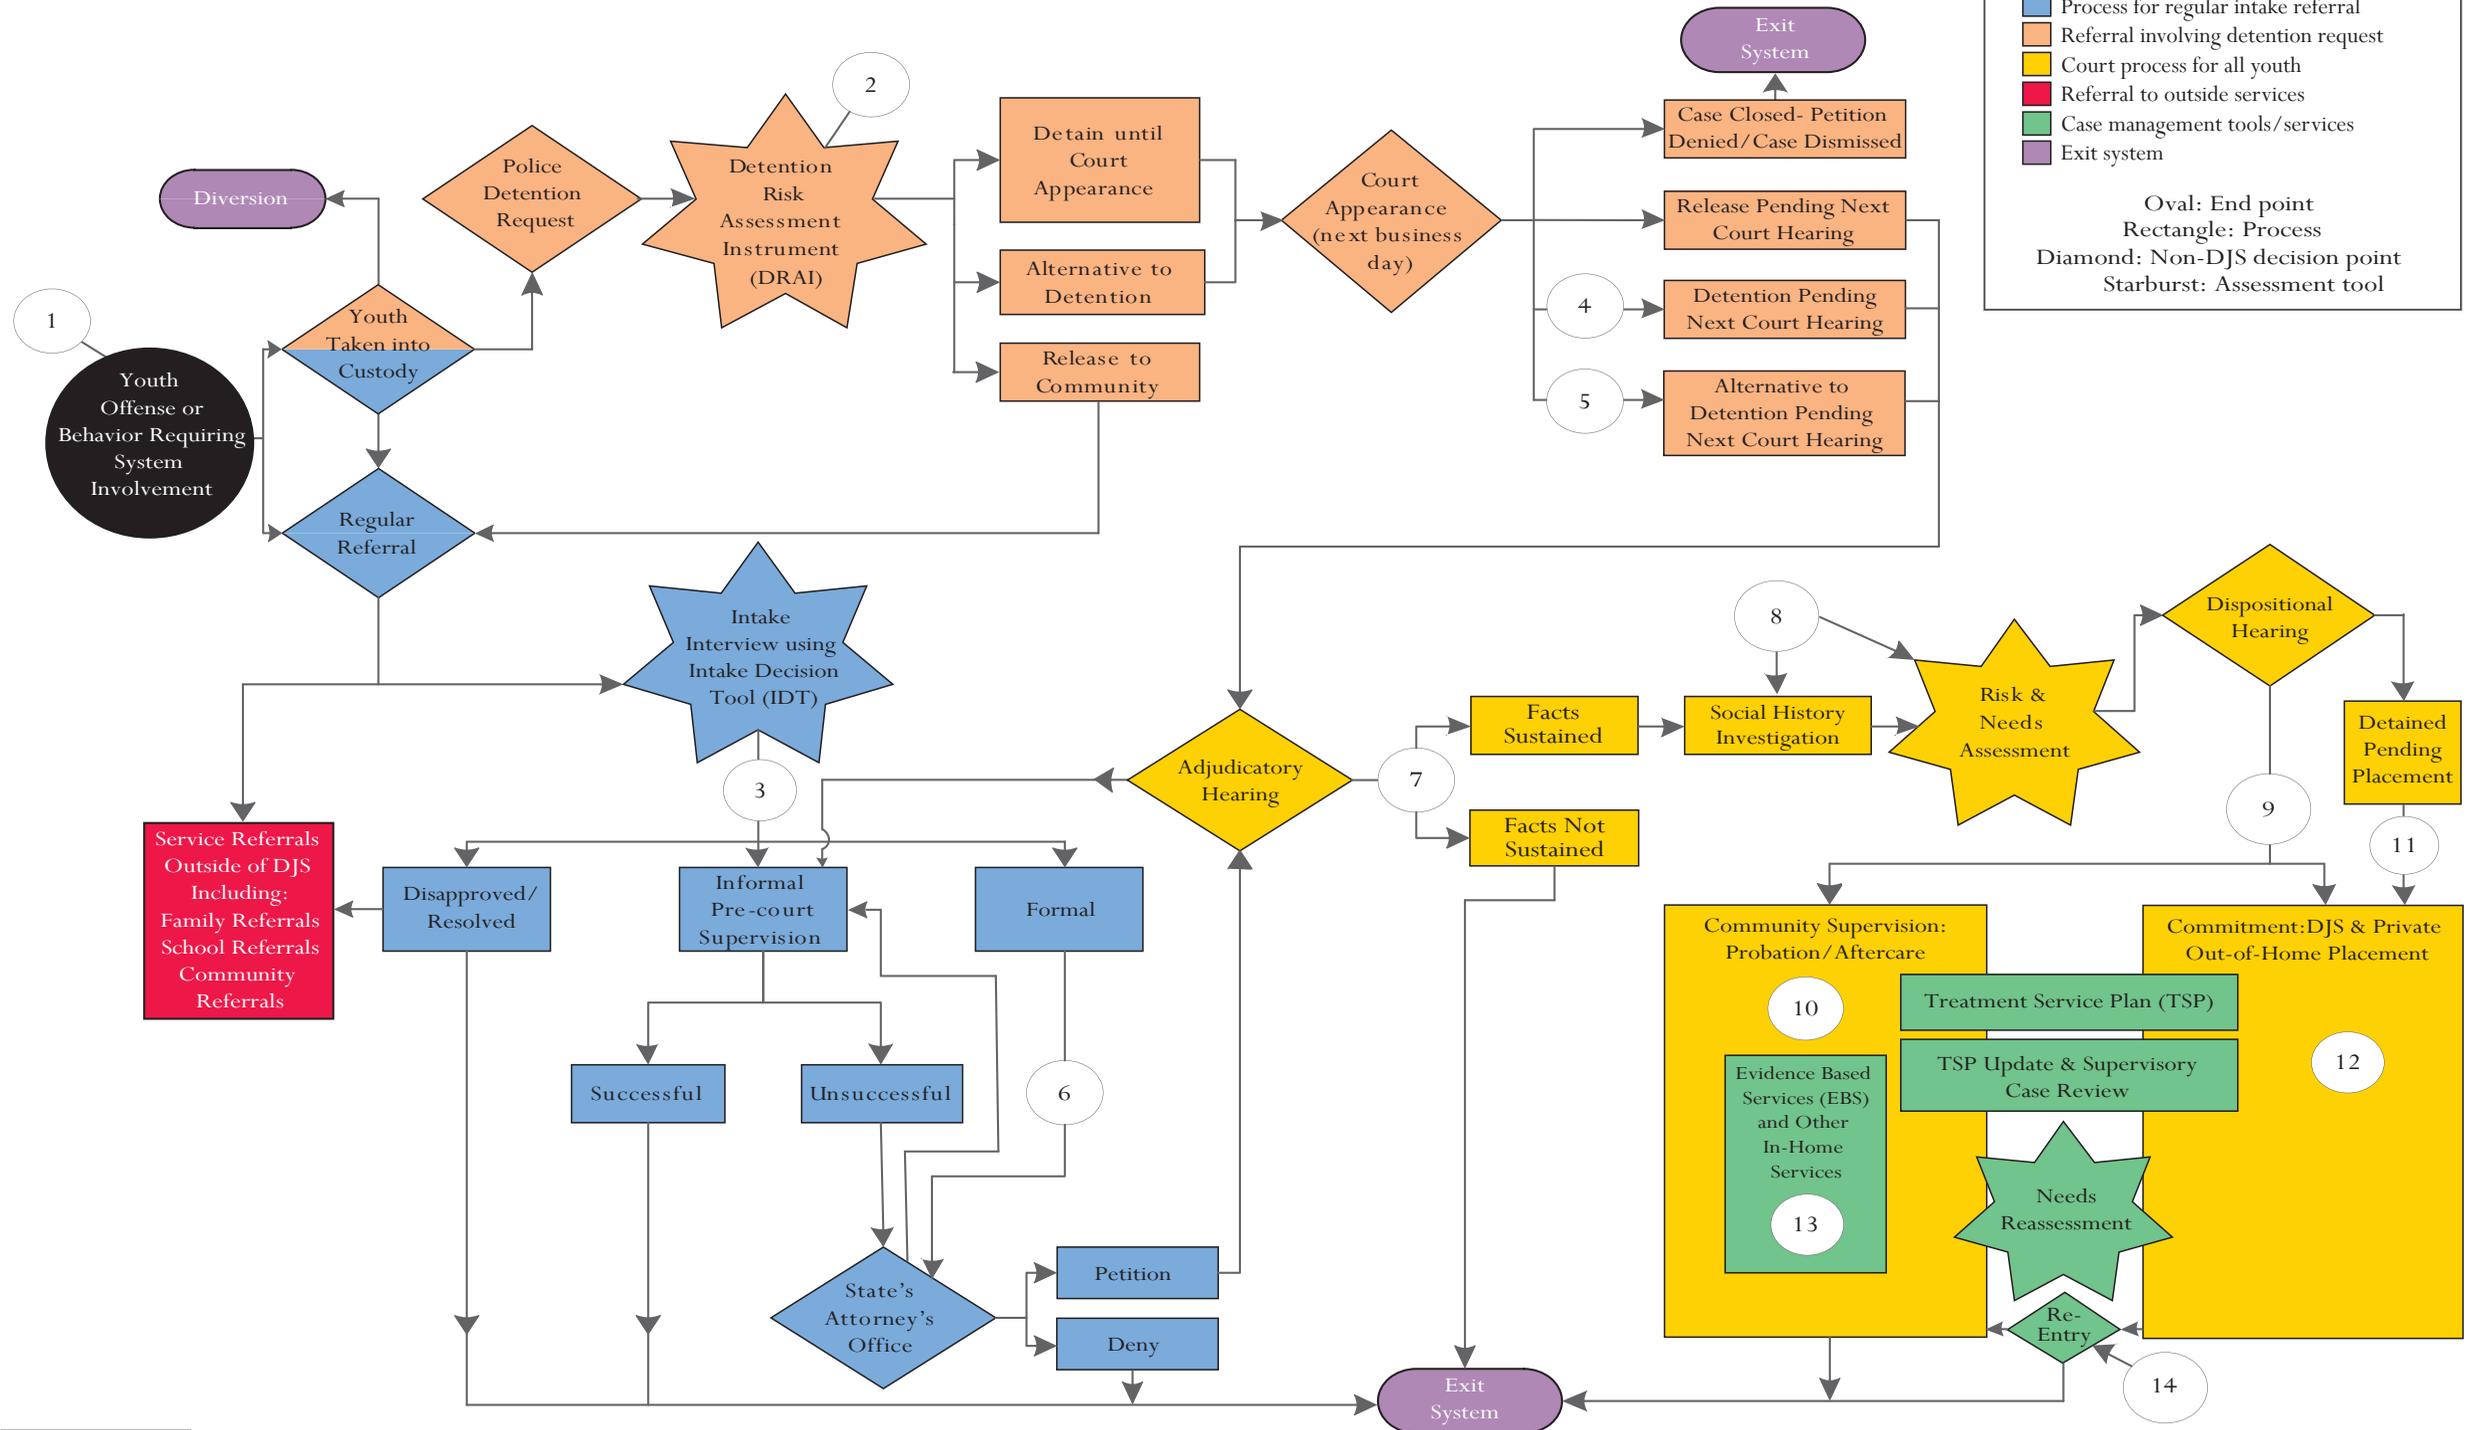

Percentages may not add to 100% due to rounding.

Department of Juvenile Services Historical Evolution Highlights Since 2014

For more detailed information as well as the Department's history prior to 2014, please see the DJS website.
See Appendix Q for a list of commonly used acronyms.

Maryland Juvenile Justice System Process Flowchart

STEPS IN THE JUVENILE JUSTICE SYSTEM (SEE PROCESS FLOWCHART)

1. Youth can be referred to DJS by law enforcement, schools, citizens, and parents. Some police departments run diversion programs, and only those youth who fail out of the program would be referred to DJS. Youth may also be apprehended by law enforcement agencies (on a writ or warrant) for failing to appear in court or violating the conditions of supervision while in an alternative to detention program, for example. Youth who have been charged as an adult who are transferred to the juvenile system are also then processed by DJS Intake as a juvenile complaint.
2. If requested by law enforcement, DJS makes an emergency detention decision to determine if a youth requires secure detention until the next court day. This decision is guided by the Detention Risk Assessment Instrument (DRAI).
3. Guided by the Intake Decision Tool (IDT), the intake complaint is assessed by an intake officer, who has statutory authority to determine how the case should be handled. The options are:
  - Disapprove as legally insufficient - refer to services as appropriate;
  - Resolve, when it is determined that furthering the case would be disadvantageous to the interests of the youth and to public safety. Refer to services as appropriate;
  - Enter into a pre-court supervision agreement where the family agrees to certain conditions, including participation in treatment services as appropriate, without court involvement. This is the main DJS court diversion program; or
  - Formally authorize the State's Attorney to petition the juvenile court for a hearing.
4. At the detention hearing, the juvenile court determines if detention is required until the adjudicatory or dispositional hearing. Youth may also be detained directly by the juvenile court in cases where the youth is presented during court hours, either on a new charge, a writ or warrant, or due to a violation or sanction of a supervision order (probation, community detention, drug court, etc.). DJS operates all secure juvenile detention centers.
5. Youth who present a lower risk may also be supervised in programs providing alternatives to secure detention. These programs ensure that the youth is available to attend the adjudicatory hearing. Youth must comply with certain restrictions, which may include house arrest, electronic monitoring, or evening reporting centers. Structured shelter is also used for cases where the youth cannot return home after arrest but otherwise represents a lower risk.
6. DJS formally authorizes the State's Attorney to petition the juvenile court. The State's Attorney then reviews the complaint and may dismiss it, file a petition to the juvenile court, or return the case to DJS Intake for pre-court diversion.
7. At the adjudicatory hearing (a fact-finding hearing), the juvenile court determines the outcome of the petitioned charges, which can be sustained or not sustained.
8. While a youth is awaiting disposition and/or supervision or placement, DJS conducts a series of assessments and investigations which will guide the DJS recommendation to the court on how the case should be handled.
9. For cases where a charge is sustained, a disposition hearing is held to determine if the youth is delinquent. If the youth is found delinquent, the court determines whether the youth requires DJS supervision and treatment under a probation order or a commitment order. A commitment order usually indicates an out-of-home placement.
10. Youth with a court-ordered disposition of probation receive supervision and services while they reside at home. Supervision intensity varies depending on the risk level of youth. Standard community supervision levels include low, moderate, high, and intensive supervision.
11. Youth with a court-ordered disposition of commitment who require placement in an out-of-home program may continue to wait in detention (pending placement) until an appropriate placement becomes available.
12. Youth who are committed to an out-of-home placement may be placed in a broad variety of programs (state-run or private, secure or non-secure) depending on the risk level and treatment needs of the youth.
13. DJS provides committed diversion programs for youth who might otherwise be placed out of home. These in-home programs provide services and treatment to the youth and family, and include Functional Family Therapy (FFT), Multisystemic Therapy (MST), and Family Centered Treatment (FCT).
14. Youth returning home from a committed placement are supervised on aftercare by DJS case managers who ensure that youth are connected in the community with required services including education, employment, and health services.

Juvenile Services Education Program (JSEP)

During the 2021 legislative session, the Maryland General Assembly passed, and the Governor signed SB 497 Chapter 145, Juvenile Services Education Board and Program, into law. The legislation transferred the responsibility of the education program in the Department of Juvenile Services (DJS) facilities from the Maryland Department of Education (MSDE) to the Juvenile Services Education Program (JSEP) Board. SB 497 further stipulated that JSEP would be an independent unit housed within the DJS, with DJS having the responsibility of providing support to JSEP in the following eight areas: information and technology services; procurement services; fiscal services; capital planning and capital budgeting; human resources; facility and office maintenance; research and program evaluation; and investigating and monitoring.

Data reported for the DRG has been divided into four quarters to reflect the fiscal year. Typically, JSEP reports its data in a five-session format, highlighting all four academic quarters and the summer session.

Vision:

We believe in the potential of every student. JSEP schools facilitate individualized education that builds on students' strengths, preparing them for continued success and positive engagement in their communities.

Mission:

The Juvenile Services Education Board will provide leadership, set policy, and advocate to ensure the Juvenile Services Education Program:

- Provides individualized education
- Prepares students to engage with their communities successfully
- Collaborates with youth, families, communities, and other stakeholders
- Ensures the effectiveness of school-based professionals
- Utilizes innovative practices and data-driven decision-making

Juvenile Services Education Program Board

The Juvenile Services Education Program Board is comprised of 11 members, including the Secretary of DJS, the Secretary of Higher Education or their designee, the Attorney General of the State or their designee, the State Superintendent of Schools or their designee, a representative for the State Superintendent of Schools Association, five board members appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate, and one teacher from JSEP elected by their peers. The Board must meet a minimum of ten times per year and appointed members serve four-year terms.

JSEP Board responsibilities include:

- Appointing the JSEP Superintendent;
- Developing accredited education programs;
- Reviewing quality assurance reports, student outcomes, and measures
- Conducting performance reviews of the Superintendent every four years; and
- Approving the education curriculum, including post-secondary education, vocational, and online programs.

Student Outcomes and Measures

Data critical to JSEP are collected throughout the fiscal year to provide information for effective policy-making and educational decisions regarding school improvement and improving student outcomes. JSEP aims to accelerate student achievement in preparation for a successful return to the community. Data collected during FY 2025 includes the number of academic credits earned, post-secondary enrollments, service learning hours, Accuplacer scores (reading and math), Star assessment scores, number of students served (middle and high school), Career and Technical Education (CTE) certificates obtained, and the passing rate for the GED test and subtests.

Data Quality

JSEP data are reported in two formats. Data outcomes such as attendance, grades, and credits are stored within the student information system and retrieved when needed. All JSEP schools also submit a monthly report covering various data points, including post-secondary information. All data are reviewed and analyzed weekly, discussed quarterly with program leadership to inform school performance, and reported as school performance measures at the end of each fiscal year.

PowerSchool:

JSEP uses PowerSchool as its student information system. PowerSchool provides real-time analytics based on student performance. PowerSchool creates report cards, transcripts, and progress reports. In addition, it monitors progress in grade books, attendance, reports, and state-standardized exams.

Earning Credits Toward High School Graduation:

Students enrolled in JSEP Schools are offered various opportunities to meet their educational goals. Many students enrolled in JSEP schools are over-aged and under-credited based on educational placement. Courses can be taken for original credit or as recovery to compensate for lost credits. Courses are conducted face-to-face, in a blended learning environment, or entirely online, depending on each student’s needs and course availability. JSEP offers courses aligned to the Maryland College and Career Readiness Standards, Next Generation Science Standards, and Maryland Social Studies Standards and Framework.

Credit Attainment:

Students who enter JSEP schools continue their path to graduation as if they had remained in their Local Educational Agency (LEA). Students are enrolled in their required courses and continue to earn credits based on the state and local graduation requirements. Final course grades are a weighted average of students’ grades in their LEA and JSEP courses.

CREDITS EARNED

	FY2023	FY2024	FY2025
Credits Earned	2,048.5	2,595.8	3,858.5

Graduation and GED Information:

There are two paths to graduation in a JSEP school. A student may meet the graduation requirements of their local school system and be granted a diploma from the local school system, or they may pass all sections of the General Education Development (GED) test and be granted a diploma from the State of Maryland. State residency is not required for a student to receive a diploma or GED. Graduation from a local school system requires the school counselor to work with the student and the school system to ensure all graduation requirements are met. The local school system then certifies the student’s graduation and issues a diploma. Graduation through the GED path requires a student to pass all four sections of the GED: Math, Language Arts, Science, and Social Studies. To be eligible to take one or more sections of the GED in a JSEP school, a student must meet the following criteria: be at least 17 years of age, have passed the Official Practice Test (OPT) with a score of 145 or above, and have parental permission. When all four sections of the GED are passed, the student will be issued a Maryland High School Diploma. An applicant who is 16 years of age may be eligible to take the GED assessment if a Superintendent’s Waiver is granted and all other eligibility requirements are met.

The Pearson VUE-approved GED Mobile Labs allow JSEP to administer all four sections of the GED exam at remote locations. The GED mobile is a testing site and functions at all JSEP schools.

Post-Secondary:

JSEP works to identify the unique educational and/or employment needs and goals of each post-secondary student. Students are provided with opportunities to complete college placement tests, earn industry-recognized certifications, and complete specialized training in-person or virtually. Additionally, students can enroll in credit-bearing college courses, as well as non-credit workforce development and continuing education courses through our partnerships with institutions of higher education, including Allegany Community College, University of Maryland Eastern Shore, Bowie State University, Garrett Community College, Frederick Community College, Anne Arundel Community College, the Community College of Baltimore County, Baltimore City Community College, and Wor-Wic Community College.

	FY2023	FY2024	FY2025
Post-Secondary Enrollments	70	72	140

Accuplacer:

Accuplacer is a post-secondary assessment administered by JSEP to help colleges evaluate student readiness for introductory credit-bearing courses and make informed placement decisions for students.

Accuplacer Test Administered	15	17	7

Career and Technical Education (CTE):

JSEP CTE program offers secondary students MSDE graduation-required courses, electives, and Career and Technical Education programs. JSEP offers Foundations of Computer Science and Foundations of Technology, both of which are provided in many LEAs and serve to satisfy the MSDE Technology Education or Computer Science graduation requirement. The JSEP CTE program works to collaborate with community partners in higher education, local businesses, and nonprofits, as well as other government agencies.

The primary JSEP CTE program implemented statewide in the 2023-24 school year is Career Research and Development (CRD). CRD is designed to prepare students with the requisite academic and technical knowledge, skills, and abilities to make informed career choices and decisions, seeking further education or training. The CRD program consists of three courses: CRD I, CRD II, and Work-based Learning. Additionally, students at BMYC have the opportunity to participate in C-TECH, and GRYC students can take an Introduction to Construction course.

Special Education:

JSEP is dedicated to helping all students achieve their full academic potential by addressing their individual educational needs. JSEP fosters a collaborative environment in which students, families, educators, and community partners work together to ensure that students with disabilities are learning, progressing, and held to high expectations.

Special education services are available in all JSEP schools. In accordance with the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) and the Maryland Code of Regulations (COMAR), the Department of Special Education ensures that all eligible students receive a free and appropriate public education (FAPE). This is achieved through close coordination with parents, guardians, and relevant agencies.

Each student who qualifies for special education services has an Individualized Education Program (IEP), which is developed by a team that may include teachers, qualified school staff, parents or guardians, and the student. The IEP outlines the student's educational goals and support services and is reviewed at least annually and revised as needed, in compliance with state and federal regulations.

Legislative Changes from HB 814

House Bill 814 went into effect November 1, 2024. Key changes that specifically impact DJS are listed below. (Note: Red text indicates new items or changes to existing items.)

Juvenile Court Jurisdiction

Maryland juvenile courts have jurisdiction if a child is:

- 13 and up: when alleged to have committed an act that would be a crime if committed by an adult
- 10-12: only when alleged to have committed an act that if committed by an adult would be:
  - A crime of violence (Criminal Law Article §14-101)
  - Aggravated cruelty to animals (Criminal Law Article §10-606)
  - Handgun offenses (Criminal Law Article §4-203 & §4-204)
  - Sex offense in the 3rd Degree (Criminal Law Article §3-307)
  - Firearm offenses (Public Safety Act §5-133, §5-134, §5-138, §5-142, §5-203, & §5-703)
- Maryland juvenile courts do not have jurisdiction of children under 10

Intake Changes to Inquiry Timeline

- 15 business days: to complete an inquiry (changed from 25 days)
- 2 business days: to make an inquiry if law enforcement requests detention and intake does not authorize detention

Case Forwarding Decisions

Intake must forward a complaint to the State's Attorney when:

- Proposing an informal adjustment OR
- Denying authorization to file a petition if a young person is alleged to have committed
  - Specific handgun offenses (Criminal Law Article §4-203 & §4-204)
  - All felony offenses (violent and non-violent)
  - Specific firearm offenses (Public Safety Article §5-133, §5-134, §5-138, §5-142, §5-203, and §5-703)
  - Any offense if the young person is under court ordered DJS supervision at the time of the alleged offense.

Intake shall forward a complaint to the State's Attorney when there is a failed informal adjustment AND Intake denies authorization to file a petition. (Intake may proceed with an informal adjustment while the State's Attorney conducts a preliminary review.)

Inquiry Interview Requirements

Inquiry DOES NOT need to include an interview of the young person if the complaint alleges:

- A crime that would be a felony if committed by an adult (violent or nonviolent);
- Handgun offenses (Criminal Law Article §4-203 & §4-204); or
- Firearm offenses (Public Safety Article §5-133, §5-134, §5-138, §5-142, §5-203, and §5-703).

DJS requires all young people and their parents/guardians/custodians be interviewed, no matter what the complaint alleges consistent with the DJS vision and values.

Under 13 Motor Vehicle Theft

Intake shall authorize the filing of a Child in Need of Services (CINS) petition if a complaint alleges a child under the age of 13 committed a motor vehicle theft. Law enforcement is REQUIRED to forward the complaint to DJS to file a CINS petition if the officer alleges a child under 13 committed a motor vehicle theft.

Case Authorization Denial

When intake denies authorization to file a petition or peace order, intake shall notify BY ELECTRONIC MEANS the: victim, arresting officer and the person/agency filing the complaint.

Detention Eligibility

A young person may not be placed in detention before a hearing if the most serious offense would be a misdemeanor UNLESS:

- Alleged act was a specific handgun offense (Criminal Law Article §4-203 & §4-204) OR a firearm offense (Public Safety Article §5-133, §5-134, §5-138, §5-142, §5-203, & §5-703);
- The child has been adjudicated delinquent at least twice in the past two years (changed from one year); OR

- The child was under court ordered DJS supervision when the alleged act occurred, and the alleged act carries a penalty of two or more (2+) years of imprisonment (EXCEPT 2nd Degree Assault).

A child under 13 may be detained if:

- The alleged act would be a misdemeanor handgun offense (Criminal Law Article §4-203 & §4-204) or a firearms offense (Public Safety Article §5-133, §5-134, §5-138, §5-142, §5-203, & §5-703) AND
- Has a prior adjudication for one same listed offense.

Detention Review: a 14-day detention review hearing may be waived one time with the consent of the Court, the State's Attorney, and the child's counsel.

Electronic Monitoring Notification

If a child on pretrial electronic monitoring or GPS violates the Community Detention Agreement, DJS is required to notify the Juvenile Court, the State's Attorney's Office, and the child's Counsel WITHIN 24 HOURS.

Probation Operations Requirements

Probation Extension Definitions:

- Good Cause: good cause to extend probation exists when a young person has two or more unexcused absences from a probation mandated treatment program unless the child has substantially completed the treatment program.

Court Notification: DJS shall provide the court with a progress report if a young person has two or more unexcused absences from a probation mandated treatment program.

Probation Extensions

Misdemeanors: misdemeanor offenses and most serious adjudicated offense is a misdemeanor

- Initial Term of Probation: total probation time cannot exceed one year (changed from six months)
- Extension: after initial term, the court may hold a hearing and extend by terms of 3 months if the court finds good cause AND the purpose is to ensure the young person completes treatment or a rehabilitative program.
- Total probation time including extensions cannot exceed two years (changed from one year)

Felonies: felony offenses and most serious adjudicated offense is a felony (not including a crime of violence).

- Initial Term of Probation: total probation time cannot exceed two years (changed from one year)
- Extension: after initial term, the court may hold a hearing and extend by terms of 3 months if the court finds good cause AND the purpose is to ensure the child completes treatment or a rehabilitative program.
- Total probation time including extensions cannot exceed three years (changed from two years) unless:
- Court extends past the three year maximum if there is good cause AND it is in the best interest of the young person. If extending past three years, total probation time including extensions cannot exceed four years (changed from three years)

Crimes of Violence: crimes of violence and most serious adjudicated offense is a crime of violence. There is no statutory time frame for probation.

Violation: If a young person violated probation (NOT a technical violation), after a hearing, the court may place the young person on a new term of probation with a timeframe consistent with the act for which the young person was originally placed on probation.

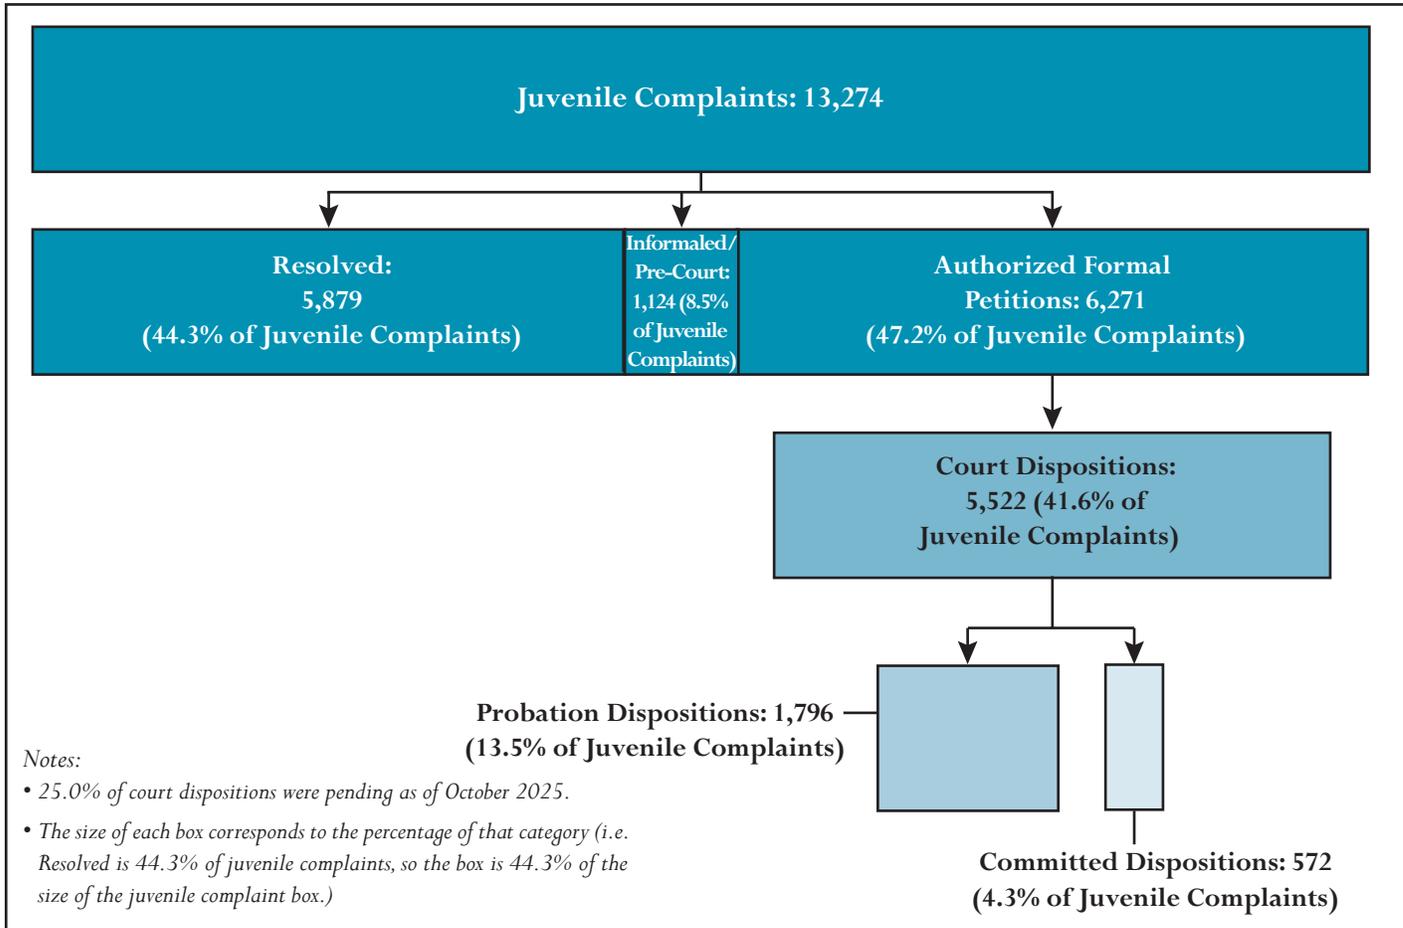

Treatment Service Plan Requirements: If the court adopts a Treatment Service Plan (TSP) at disposition, DJS shall:

- Ensure implementation occurs within 25 days after disposition
  - Implementation is considered to have occurred ONLY when the specific action occurs (e.g., supervision, mentoring, mediation, monitoring, or placement).
- Provide certification in writing to the court within 25 days after disposition if TSP implementation has occurred and explains attempts made to ensure implementation.
  - DJS shall forward a copy of certifications to the new Commission for the purpose of evaluating patterns of failed implementation.

General Notes

- If a young person is taken into custody, pursuant to the law, the law enforcement officer shall:
  - Complete and forward a written complaint or citation to DJS OR
  - Complete and forward a written report to DJS indicating no further action was taken.
- If a young person is taken into custody, pursuant to the law, the law enforcement officer shall:
  - Complete and forward a written report including the identified diversion program to DJS.

Flow of FY 2025 Case Referrals*

Notes:

- 25.0% of court dispositions were pending as of October 2025.
- The size of each box corresponds to the percentage of that category (i.e. Resolved is 44.3% of juvenile complaints, so the box is 44.3% of the size of the juvenile complaint box.)

In FY 2025:

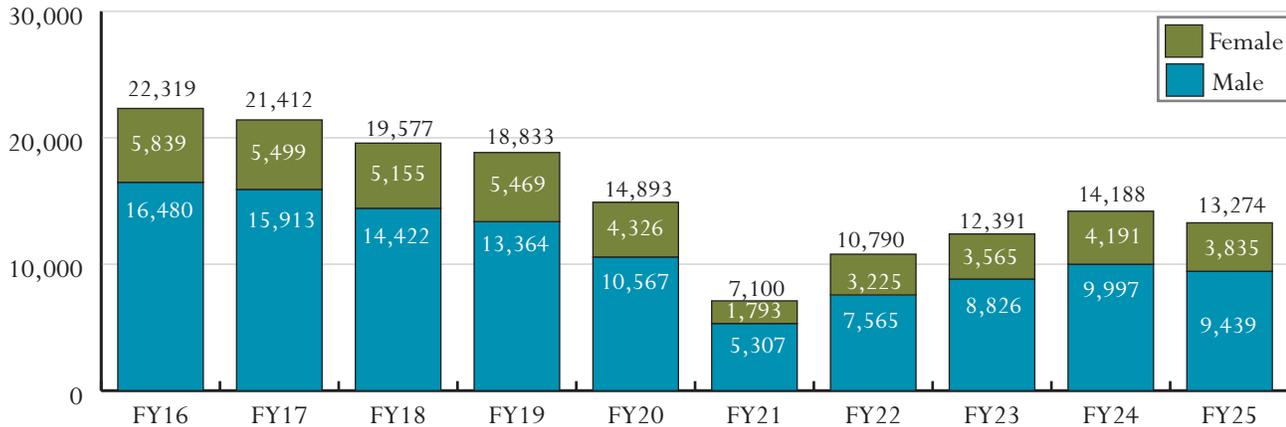

- There were a total of 13,274 juvenile complaints processed by DJS.
  - 47.2% (6,271) of those juvenile complaints were referred to the State’s Attorney for the authorization of a formal petition (as opposed to being resolved at intake or youth receiving pre-court supervision).
- Of the 6,271 juvenile complaints referred to the State’s Attorney, 88.1% (5,522) were petitioned and resulted in a court disposition. The remaining 11.9% includes 9.1% not petitioned (572), 2.6% denied by State’s Attorney (161), 0.3% initial petition withdrawn (16).
- Of the 5,522 court dispositions:
  - 25.0% (1,381) were pending dispositions as of October 2025.
  - 32.5% (1,796) received probation, and 10.4% (572) were committed to DJS.
  - The remaining 32.1% (1,773) included CRIA, stet, jurisdiction waived to adult court, dismissed, closed, nolle prosequi, services not ordered, and committed to other agency. (See Intake & Community Supervision, Case Forwarding Decision and Formalized Case Outcome table for more detail.)
- Of the 572 committed court dispositions, 66.1% (378) were committed admissions (268 distinct youth). The remaining 33.9% (194) include community commitments and youth who had already been in a committed placement prior to the new intake.
  - Of the 378 committed admissions, 77.5% (293) were placed into DJS-operated facilities, while 22.5% (85) were placed into non-DJS operated facilities.
  - Of the 85 committed admissions to non-DJS operated facilities:
    - 49.4% (42) were group home admissions, and 35.3% (30) were RTC admissions.
    - The remaining 15.3% (13) were out-of-state admissions.

* Many FY 2025 cases were pending court action at the time of final data collection for this Data Resource Guide.

Long-Term Trends

JUVENILE COMPLAINTS TOTAL AND BY SEX FY 2016-2025

- Overall, juvenile complaints decreased 40.5% between FY 2016 and FY 2025. Both sexes saw a decrease during that time period; males decreased 42.7% and females decreased 34.3%.

JUVENILE COMPLAINTS BY RACE/ETHNICITY FY 2016-2025

- Between FY 2016 and FY 2025, juvenile complaints decreased for all races/ethnicities: black youth (37.3%), white youth (55.3%), and youth of other races/ethnicities including Hispanic youth (10.1%).

INTAKE COMPLAINTS BY IDT RISK LEVEL, FY 2016-2025

- Between FY 2016 and FY 2020, complaints with a low risk increased from 63.0% to 63.3% and the percentage with a high risk decreased from 7.4% to 6.3%. Between FY 2021 and FY 2025, the percentage with very low risk increased from 7.6% to 11.8%, and the percentage with a high risk decreased from 12.6% to 7.5%.

*The Very Low category was added in FY 2021 when the tool changed to the IDT. Data prior to FY 2021 are not directly comparable to FY 2021 and after due to the reorganization of all categories.

DJS CASE FORWARDING DECISIONS FY 2016-2025

• Authorized formal petitions comprised the highest number of case forwarding decisions until FY 2019 and again in FY 2025. Between FY 2016 and FY 2025, authorized formal petitions decreased 42.4%, the number of cases being resolved decreased 25.9%, and informals decreased 67.8%.

DJS COMMUNITY SUPERVISED YOUTH FY 2016-2025

• Between FY 2016 and FY 2025, total caseload decreased 57.5%, aftercare cases decreased 61.8%, informal cases decreased 61.6%, and probation cases decreased 54.6%.

COMPLAINTS TRANSFERRED FROM ADULT COURT, FY 2016-2025

• Between FY 2016 and FY 2025, the number of complaints transferred from adult court increased 106.7%. During the same time period, the percentage of total complaints that were transferred from adult court increased from 1.3% to 4.6%.

CASES WITH PROBATION DISPOSITION, CASES WITH COMMITTED DISPOSITION, AND VIOLATIONS OF PROBATION (VOPs) RESULTING IN COMMITTED DISPOSITION, FY 2016-2024*

• Between FY 2016 and FY 2024, cases with probation dispositions decreased 34.5%, cases with committed dispositions decreased 51.6%, and VOPs resulting in a committed disposition decreased 85.5%.

* Many 2025 cases are still pending disposition; therefore, data for FY 2025 are not presented here.

PERCENTAGE OF COMMITTED DISPOSITION FOR VOP FY 2016-2024*

• Between FY 2016 and FY 2024, the percentage of committed dispositions for VOP decreased from 27.5% to 8.2%. In FY 2024, the percentage of committed dispositions for VOP was at its 10-year low.

* Many 2025 cases are still pending disposition; therefore, data for FY 2025 are not presented here.

DETAINED AVERAGE DAILY POPULATION (ADP) FY 2016-2025

• Between FY 2016 and FY 2025, ADP for the total detained population decreased 5.4%, ADP for pre-disposition decreased 55.6%, ADP for pending placement decreased 16.6%, and ADP for youth charged as adults increased 106.3%.

PRE-D DETENTION PLACEMENTS BY RISK LEVEL*, FY 2016-2025

• For pre-d placements with a completed DRAI, the percentage with a low risk increased and the percentage with high risk decreased between FY 2019 and FY 2022. Between FY 2023 and FY 2025, the percentage with low risk decreased and the percentage with high risk increased.

*The vertical lines on the graph indicate DRAI score range changes. Data from one period are not directly comparable to other periods due to category reorganizations.

DETENTION ALOS FOR PRE-D, PENDING PLACEMENT*, AND ADULT COURT, FY 2016-2025

• Between FY 2016 and FY 2025, ALOS for pre-d detention increased 36.2%, adult court ALOS increased 36.9%, and pending placement ALOS increased 88.4%.

* Includes post-removal detention ADP

PERCENTAGE OF PRE-D PLACEMENTS THAT ARE FEMALE AND YOUTH OF COLOR, FY 2016-2025

• The percentage of pre-d placements that are female increased from 14.5% in FY 2016 to 16.9% in FY 2025. The percentage of pre-d placements that are youth of color increased from 85.8% in FY 2016 to 89.5% in FY 2025.

PERCENTAGE OF COMMITMENTS THAT ARE FEMALE AND YOUTH OF COLOR, FY 2016-2025

• The percentage of commitments that are female decreased from 16.1% in FY 2016 to 7.0% in FY 2025. The percentage of commitments that are youth of color increased from 79.5% in FY 2016 to 90.6% in FY 2025.

COMMITTED PLACEMENTS BY RISK LEVEL, FY 2016-2025

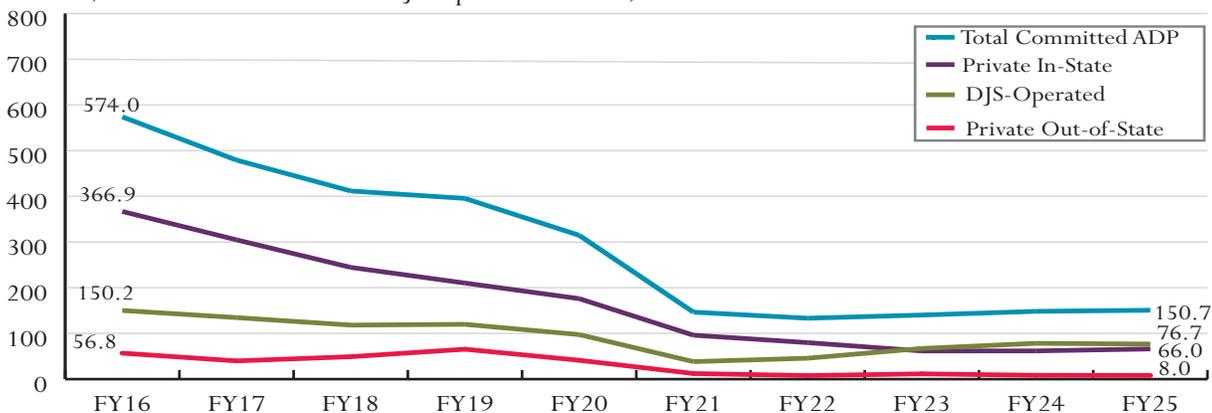

• For placements with a pre-validation MCASP, the percentage with a low risk decreased from 12.8% in FY 2016 to 10.4% in FY 2019, and the percentage with a high risk increased from 53.2% to 65.6%. For placements with a post-validation MCASP, the percentage with a low risk increased from 7.0% in FY 2020 to 14.2% in FY 2025, and the percentage with a very high risk decreased from 50.1% to 26.0%.

*The Very High category was added in FY 2020. Data prior to FY 2020 are not directly comparable to FY 2020 and after due to the reorganization of all categories. Since FY 2020 commitment placements for MCASP risk level only contains placements with post-validation assessments.

COMMITTED RESIDENTIAL AVERAGE DAILY POPULATION (ADP) FY 2016-2025

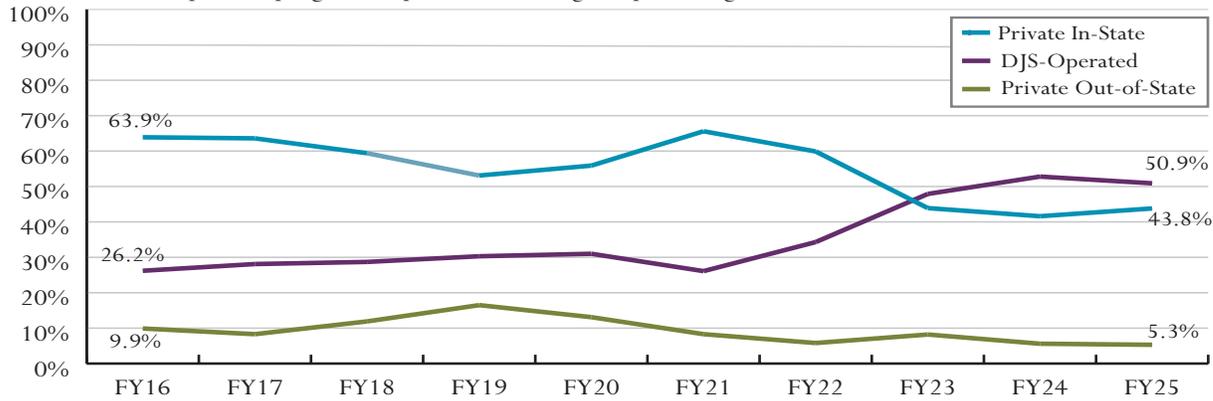

• Between FY 2016 and FY 2025, ADP for the total committed population decreased 73.7%. ADP for Private In-State facilities decreased 82.0%, ADP decreased 49.0% for DJS-Operated facilities, and decreased 85.9% for Private Out-of-State facilities.

YOUTH IN TREATMENT PROGRAMS AS A PERCENTAGE OF ADP, FY 2016-2025

• Between FY 2016 and FY 2022, the highest percentage of the total committed ADP was represented by private in-state programs. Since FY 2023, DJS-operated programs represented the highest percentage of the total committed ADP.

ALOS FOR PROBATION CASE CLOSURES AND COMMITTED PLACEMENTS, FY 2016-2025

• Between FY 2016 and FY 2025, ALOS for releases from probation dispositions have consistently been higher than ALOS for committed placements. ALOS for releases from probation dispositions decreased by 32.0% while ALOS for committed placements decreased 32.4%.

RRI FOR ALL YOUTH OF COLOR COMPARED WITH WHITE YOUTH AT KEY CONTACT POINTS, FY 2019-2025

- Each year between FY 2019 and FY 2025, youth of color were overrepresented at the key contact points of: intake (overall decrease), detention (overall decrease), and petition (overall decrease) with each having statistically significant results.
- Youth of color were underrepresented each year at diversion with each being statistically significant and showing an overall stable rate.
- At the secure confinement point, rates increased between FY 2019 and FY 2025 (FY 2019, FY 2023, and FY 2025 were statistically significant).
- For probation, FY 2023 was the only year where youth of color were overrepresented.

Note: The red line represents an RRI of 1.0 meaning no disproportional contact. A rate higher than 1.0 indicates that youth of color are overrepresented at that decision point, and a rate below 1.0 shows they are underrepresented. See the Appendix Section for more information on the RRI and key contact points. ^ Starting FY2024, cases diverted include pre-court supervision and resolved at intake, which may not be comparable to previous FYs.

Section II: Intake and Community Services

Youth engagement activities in Garrett County include go cart riding, miniature golf, and bowling at Deep Creek Lake.

Introduction to Intake and Community Services

The Department provides a continuum of services to youth in the community across multiple stages of the juvenile justice system. DJS Intake receives complaints from persons or agencies (e.g., community members, schools, victims, or law enforcement) and assesses whether the juvenile court has jurisdiction, if judicial action or another resolution is warranted, and in some cases, whether to detain youth temporarily until the court can make a determination. Case Managers supervise DJS-involved youth placed on informal (Pre-Court) supervision as well as court-ordered probation and aftercare supervision.

Intake Services

The DJS Intake Services division includes statewide Intake, Pre-Court Supervision, and Pre-Adjudication services. Intake manages and monitors the review of intake complaints to ensure a uniform statewide approach. Staff conduct youth assessments and reviews, and make service referrals to help promote the best interest of the child and public safety.

Intake Process

Intake officers review all delinquent and Child in Need of Supervision (CINS) complaints, citations, referrals for service, and peace order requests that are submitted to DJS. Intake officers determine whether the juvenile court has jurisdiction and if judicial action is in the best interest of the child and/or the public. DJS Intake Officers are authorized to: (a) disapprove a complaint as legally insufficient; (b) decline to authorize the filing of a petition by the State’s Attorney’s Office (i.e., resolve the matter at intake with or without services); (c) propose an informal adjustment period (also called Pre-Court supervision); or (d) authorize the filing of a petition by the State’s Attorney’s Office. DJS can informally handle most misdemeanor complaints; however, all felonies and handgun violations must be reviewed by the State’s Attorney and approved for informal adjustment (see HB 814 summary on page 16 for other related changes effective 11/1/2024). The intake decision-making process may involve an interview with the youth, parent and/or guardian, and where applicable, the victim(s).

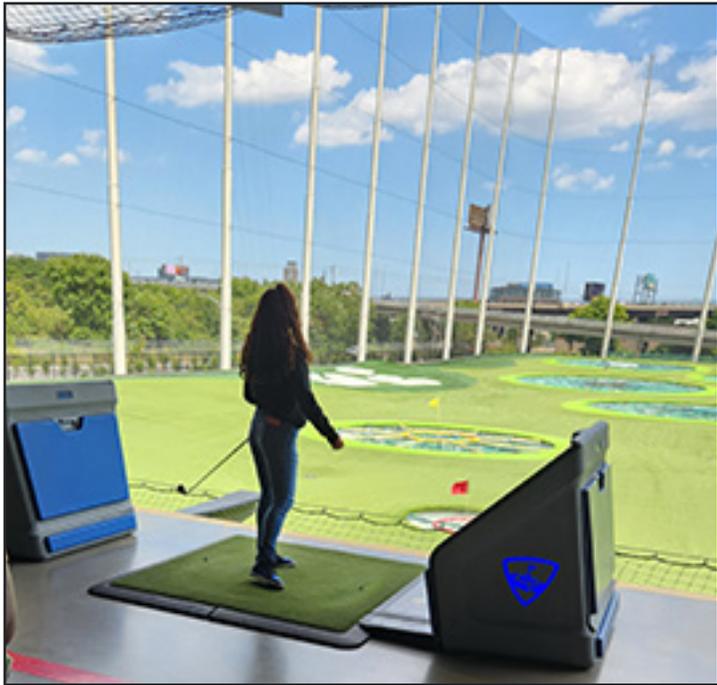

Intake decisions must be fair and equitable, despite the fact that systemic racism, biases, and prejudices can influence which youth are referred to DJS Intake. In 2017, the Department began revising its intake policies and procedures to integrate national best practices in the juvenile justice field in conjunction with lessons learned based on data analysis and the experiences of youth who present at DJS Intake. Specifically, the Department partnered with the Institute for Innovation and Implementation at the University of Maryland School of Social Work to develop a validated, objective intake decision tool that would identify a youth’s risk of recidivism, strengths, and service needs. This Intake Decision Tool (IDT - see Appendix

Pre-Adjudication Services Principles:

- Divert youth from court involvement when possible;
- Hold youth accountable for harm to victims and communities;
- Increase access to services and supports that address risk and needs;
- Increase opportunities for positive outcomes in school, workforce, and community;
- Ensure developmentally appropriate decisions;
- Prioritize restorative approaches;
- Foster positive youth development and resiliency;
- Engage youth and family in case planning; and
- Identify trauma and understand the impact of traumatic experiences.

N), implemented in July 2020, guides the intake decision making process and is intended to ensure fair and equitable decisions that are developmentally appropriate, culturally proficient, and tailored to the risks, needs, and strengths of youth. This tool includes a revalidated version of the former MCASP Intake Risk Screen, the tool used by the Department to guide intake decisions between FY 2010 and FY 2019. The validated risk screen is incorporated into the Intake Decision Tool and generates a risk score, which measures the risk of reoffending. Importantly, the IDT collects detailed information on social history factors, e.g., school, use of free time, employment, relationships in the community, and family, that are used to identify service needs, and prompt the appropriate service referrals. The tool also requires that Intake staff consider any aggravating and mitigating factors, as well as any access barriers to youth obtaining services.

Throughout the intake process, the focus is on positive youth development (recognizing and building on the strengths and assets of youth) and family engagement (actively involving the youth and family voice in all aspects of case planning) – both of which promote successful outcomes. Supported by the IDT, the Department aims to divert youth from court involvement when possible and refer the youth and family to services when needed, including high-risk youth who may be safely supervised by DJS with interventions that reduce the risk of recidivism.

Pre-Court Supervision (Informal Adjustment)

As discussed in the Intake Process section, one option for a case received at DJS Intake is to handle the case informally, without involving the juvenile court, through an informal adjustment option called Pre-Court supervision. This is conducted under an agreement executed by the DJS Intake Officer that stipulates conditions of the supervision period; it requires consent by the youth, parent/guardian, and victim (where applicable). Approval by the State’s Attorney’s Office is required if the case involves felony offenses, specific handgun or firearm offenses, or when the youth is under formal supervision with the court in another matter (see HB 814 summary on page 16 for related changes effective 11/1/2024). For misdemeanor cases, when the alleged offense does not involve the use of a handgun or threat to cause physical injury or bodily harm, after conducting an intake conference, DJS can proceed with Pre-Court supervision and does not need approval from the State’s Attorney’s Office. DJS must make reasonable efforts to contact the victim prior to proceeding with the Pre-Court supervision agreement.

Pre-Court agreements are tailored to the individual circumstances of the case, and they may include the payment of restitution, the completion of community service hours, participation in specialized community-based services, and counseling or treatment programs such as substance abuse treatment. Agreements are generally in effect for a period of 90 days; however, in some circumstances the period may be extended to 180 days to allow for the youth to participate in a substance abuse or mental health treatment program. If a youth fails to meet the conditions of the agreement, DJS must forward the case to the State’s Attorney’s Office for review (see HB 814 summary on page 16 for related changes effective 11/1/2024).

Detention Decision

DJS staff are responsible for assessing the merit of complaints received at intake and making a case forwarding decision. If a youth has been taken into custody and there is a request for secure detention, Intake Officers are responsible for determining whether the youth requires secure detention or may be released to a parent, guardian, or other responsible adult and, if so, under what conditions. Intake Officers are directed by statute (Md. Code, Courts and Judicial Proceedings, §3-8A-15) to authorize detention if deemed necessary to protect the youth or others, or if the youth is deemed likely to leave the jurisdiction of the court.

The decision to authorize detention is guided by an objective, independently validated decision-making tool called the Detention Risk Assessment Instrument (DRAI). The DRAI is designed to assess the probability that a youth will reoffend/fail to appear for future court dates. The tool, which is validated every five years as required by statute, includes scored risk items which are validated through statistical analysis of the outcomes of youth who were not detained. (See Appendix O for the current DRAI). Because detention and case

Rewire: Learning Skills for Change

In FY 2022 the Department began an exciting new initiative to train staff in Cognitive Behavioral Theory (CBT) principles in community supervision practices across community service programs. In this three-year partnership with Roca Impact Institute, community detention, pre-adjudication and post-adjudication case managers receive training in practical skills to teach youth about interrupting problematic thoughts, feelings, and actions in order to make positive change. When staff complete the training, they receive coaching as they implement Rewire. In FY 2023, DJS staff who excel in Rewire began training as trainers and coaches to pass along the Rewire skills and culture to their peers.

forwarding decisions are somewhat independent of one another, youth may be released or put on an alternative to detention (ATD) but still have their case formally processed in court or receive a pre-court supervision. DJS's detention or assigned ATD decisions for youth are reviewed the next court day by the juvenile court, which may continue the placement or release the youth. By statute, the court must consider the DRAI when making this determination.

Intake services are provided by the DJS regions during normal working hours (Monday-Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.). The Centralized Intake Unit is available after hours to provide statewide intake services, including the completion of a DRAI to make detention decisions during non-traditional work hours and weekends/ holidays for all regions across the state.

Alternatives to Detention (ATD)

Youth not detained by DJS are released to a caregiver. Some may have no additional restrictions or conditions, while others are required to participate in an ATD program pending their court hearing. These include:

- Community Detention (CD) - available statewide. This may also include electronic monitoring (EM) or GPS monitoring.
- Evening Reporting (ER) - encompasses programs that provide supervised activities, enrichment, meals, and transportation during hours in which youth are most at risk of committing delinquent acts, usually after school through late evening.

Shelter care may be utilized for youth requiring care in a non-secure setting. Additionally, shelter care can be utilized if a parent, guardian, or custodian is not available to provide supervision and care until the youth returns to court.

Community Detention

The Department provides regional Community Detention services, with or without electronic monitoring, typically for youth whose cases have been forwarded to the juvenile court at Intake. The program operates 24/7 and serves as DJS's primary ATD. Community Detention allows youth to continue participating in community activities such as school or work, and it helps maintain community ties and support systems.

Community Detention Officers (CDOs) conduct regular check-ins with youth, which include in-person meetings and virtual contacts. The level of supervision is determined by the assessed supervision needs of each youth and the court-ordered release conditions. CDOs are trained to monitor successful youth completion of court-ordered release conditions, which may include problem solving for changes in a youth's home or school attendance that pose risks to the youth's safe supervision in the community. Community Detention utilizes graduated responses (Accountability Incentives Management - AIM) to promote program compliance and address program violations. Depending upon severity of violation, this may result in curfew adjustments (at the discretion of DJS), enhanced supervision, extension of program time, or apprehension and referral back to the Court for further action. Additionally, youth are supported with helpful resources specific to their needs, which ensure they grow productively in the community. Youth under supervision are also incentivized by innovative engagement measures (positive court reporting, outings, and decreased supervision levels) to promote program success.

The electronic monitoring component provides an additional layer of supervision. Compliance with the program is monitored via an electronic ankle device worn by the youth. The CDOs receive real time electronic notifications related to equipment functionality, compliance, and event alerts. They carefully review the information to ensure alleged supervision violations receive thorough intervention and follow-up. Interventions are the CDO's proactive response to alerts ranging from phone calls to community visits in which compliance is addressed and/or equipment troubleshooting takes place. Multidisciplinary case conferences are held to engage all invested parties in the youth's life to discuss progress, link them with community resources, and tailor approaches for optimal program outcomes.

Court and Supervision Services

Community Services operates local offices throughout the state that oversee a variety of youth-centered operations. Community Services also includes the Resource Units, which assist in facilitating in-home and out-of-home treatment services for youth. After disposition, DJS case managers regularly review youth's progress and length of stay on probation, in placement, or on aftercare to ensure services are being delivered and are moving the youth towards successful closure. DJS has moved towards a system of continuous case management, where – to the extent possible – a youth's case will be assigned to and managed by the same case manager for the duration of court-ordered supervision. Court Services is responsible for representing the Department in the majority of court proceedings, operating the Youth Family Team Process (YFTP), managing the Transfer of Jurisdiction (TOJ) or waiver process in each of DJS's five regions, and for leading efforts to expedite the movement of youth through the case processing timeline to reduce unnecessarily long lengths of stay and facilitate returning youth to the community when appropriate.

Disposition Recommendation

After adjudication, efforts to divert youth from the deep end of the system focus on community-based treatment rather than out-of-home committed care. When youth are evaluated for services, a community treatment plan is part of the review to ensure that only the most at-risk youth receive out-of-home residential treatment. At the start of probation supervision (or in some instances, prior to disposition if ordered by the juvenile court), a Social History Investigation and report are completed by the assigned CMS. This report describes the social adjustment and circumstances of the youth and their family. The CMS also completes the MCASP Risk & Needs Assessment, which builds on the IDT but provides a much broader and more comprehensive assessment of individual risk, needs, and strengths. The MCASP Risk & Needs Assessment categorizes youth as having low, moderate, high, or very high risk of recidivism. It also assesses the level of need on each of the following treatment domains (which have been shown to influence risk for reoffending): (a) School; (b) Use of Free Time; (c) Employment; (d) Community Relationships; (e) Family; (f) Alcohol and Drugs; (g) Mental Health; and (h) Attitudes & Behavioral Indicators. See Appendix P for more information on MCASP Risk & Needs Assessment items. The CMS uses the Social History Investigation and MCASP Risk & Needs Assessment to develop recommendations to the juvenile court.

The Multi-Disciplinary Assessment Staffing Team (MAST) is a specialized diagnostic team responsible for assessing youth detained pending court disposition and at risk of placement. The MAST includes a psychologist, social worker or professional counselor, substance abuse counselor, community case manager, detention facility case manager supervisor, resource specialist, and a Juvenile Services Education Program (JSEP) representative. Following completion of assessments, a MAST or community staffing meeting is held, which includes the participation of youth and family. MAST completes an in-depth review of the case information, and the team develops and submits a report, which includes both security and treatment recommendations, to the juvenile court for consideration at disposition.

The Youth Family Team Process (YFTP) is a youth-centered decision-making process that engages the young person and their family members in a collaborative, strengths-based process grounded in the principles of rehabilitation, positive youth development, and adolescent brain science. Youth Family Team meetings are facilitated by Department of Juvenile Services (DJS) staff trained in YFTP by nationally recognized experts. The facilitator guides the young person and their support team, including their family, their DJS case management team, and other adults who know the young person best, to identify needs and co-create the young person's success plan. YFTP is a process that can occur at any point during a young person's involvement with DJS, but is especially helpful to be used at critical decision-making points such as dispositional planning, re-entry, or when a young person is struggling under community supervision. YFTP referrals are initiated by the youth's Community Case Management Specialist.

Probation

Youth who are adjudicated and found delinquent by the juvenile court may be placed on probation under the supervision of a DJS case management specialist (CMS). Probation is the most frequently used juvenile court disposition. A probation term requires youth to abide by general supervision conditions, as well as any special conditions imposed by the court. The CMS also creates a Treatment Service Plan (TSP) for each youth under court-ordered supervision, which includes a statement of services to be provided to the youth and family. The TSP is guided by the MCASP Risk & Needs Assessment, which helps to determine the appropriate supervision level for the youth and frame specific goals for the youth and family. In developing a TSP, input from youth, parents and/or guardians, and service providers (as appropriate) is also solicited.

Aftercare and Re-entry

Aftercare supervision is similar to probation supervision in that the CMS performs many of the same supervisory tasks and relies on the same decision-making tool (the MCASP Risk & Needs Assessment). Aftercare services are provided for youth who have been committed to or released from the custody of DJS for placement outside the home, or for the receipt of in-home services in some jurisdictions. A CMS is assigned to the case upon commitment. Aftercare planning is initiated at commitment, before the youth is placed in a residential program. Plans are guided by risk and needs assessments, are updated according to youth’s progress in residential care, and also include identification and monitoring of services needed upon release. Building on services provided in the residential placement, the CMS is also responsible for managing the re-entry process so youth and family are linked to services and possible continuation of treatment in the community. Youth’s adjustment and compliance with any court directives are monitored. Additionally, many programs are available to assist youth returning to the community, including independent living programs, transitional educational services, and employment programs (e.g., job readiness training, career exploration, and vocational training). GPS may also be ordered by the court, or as a graduated response by a case manager for high-risk cases, and for youth on home passes from secure placement.

encourage positive behaviors of youth under court-ordered community supervision. AIM seeks to reduce technical violations of Community Detention, probation, or aftercare supervision by ensuring certain, fair, and immediate responses to youth behavior that promote successful completion of supervision.

Accountability Incentives Management (AIM)

Instituted in 2015, the AIM initiative gives DJS case managers a structured system of graduated responses to deter negative behaviors and

Interstate Compact (IC)

The IC unit provides for the cooperative supervision of probation and aftercare youth who move from state to state, as well as the return of runaways, absconders, and escapees. The Interstate Commission for Juveniles (ICJ) was formed in 2014 and includes all 50 states and territories (except Puerto Rico). This Commission governs each member state as to the provision of proper supervision or return of delinquent youth and status offenders on probation or aftercare who have absconded, escaped, or run away, and in so doing, have endangered their own safety or the safety of others. It is the responsibility of each member state to provide supervision and services to ICJ cases using the same standards that prevail for its own youth placed on probation or aftercare supervision.

The Thrive Academy

The Department hopes to reduce shooting incidents among DJS-involved youth. The core of the DJS gun violence reduction strategy is the Thrive Academy, which launched in FY 2024 in Baltimore City and Baltimore, Prince George’s, and Anne Arundel counties. It expanded to Montgomery County in FY 2025 and will be available statewide in FY 2026. The National Institute for Criminal Justice Reform, the Annie E. Casey Foundation, and DJS Research and Evaluation conducted analyses of cases in Maryland to support identification of youth at high risk for gun violence as a victim or as a perpetrator so that DJS can intervene with immediate and intensive services. Youth are identified for the Thrive Academy through consideration of these data-driven predictive factors, combined with human intelligence about gun possession, alleged use, or risk of being victimized by gun crime.

Thrive Academy youth are under active court orders for formal supervision and receive a robust set of services, supports, and supervision for a period of 9 to 12 months. Engagement in services can begin prior to discharge from a committed program or upon court-ordered probation supervision in the community. Each youth is assigned a Life Coach from community-based organizations staffed by “credible messengers.” These are individuals who have had life experiences similar to those of the program participants, and therefore are better able to make connections with and relate to the youth. In addition to the assignment of an individual life coach, each youth benefits from a strengths-based life plan, stipends for milestone achievements and consistent participation, access to weekend supports, workforce development programming, educational services, tuition assistance for first semesters of advanced study, weekly prosocial activities, family activities and supports, access to emergency resources for basic needs, violence disruption and mediation services, and trauma-informed counseling services.

The Intervention

- Robust case management model for youth who present highest risk for gun violence as victim and/or perpetrator.
- Youth identified and selected through a combination of predictive factors and human intelligence.

Case Management Services

- Individual life coach
- Strengths-based life plan
- DJS case manager
- Daily contacts
- 24-hour access to emergency support, including on weekends

Credible Messengers

- Credible Messengers are persons with lived experiences like those of Thrive Academy youth and their families. This experience helps them to make and sustain strong connections that often continue beyond program participation.

FY 2025 Suitcase of Supports

- Participation Stipends
- Milestone Stipends
- Weekend Services
- Workforce Development
- Educational Support
- Tuition Assistance
- Prosocial Activities
- Family Support
- Emergency Resources
- Violence Disruption and Mediation Services

Pre-Court Supervision

As discussed in the Intake Process section, one option for a case received at DJS Intake is to handle the case informally, without involving the juvenile court, through an informal adjustment option called Pre-Court supervision. This is conducted under an agreement executed by the DJS Intake Officer that stipulates conditions of the supervision period; it requires consent by the youth, parent/guardian, and victim (where applicable). Approval by the State’s Attorney’s Office is required if the case involves a violent felony offense, handgun or firearm offense or this youth under formal supervision with the court in another matter. For misdemeanor cases, non-violent felonies, when the alleged offense does not involve the use of a handgun or threat to cause physical injury or bodily harm, after conducting an intake conference, DJS can proceed with Pre-Court supervision and does not need approval from the States Attorney’s Office. DJS must make reasonable efforts to contact the victim prior to proceeding with the Pre-Court supervision agreement.

Pre-Court agreements are tailored to the individual circumstances of the case, and they may include the payment of restitution, the completion of community service hours, participation in specialized community-based services, and counseling or treatment programs such as substance abuse treatment. Agreements are generally in effect for a period of 90 days; however, in some circumstances the period may be extended to 180 days to allow for the youth to participate in a substance abuse or mental health treatment program. If a youth fails to meet the conditions of the agreement, the DJS Intake Officer may elect to forward the case to the State’s Attorney’s Office for review.

Section III: Detention

A snowman built by youth at BCJJC to mark the first snowfall of 2025.

Introduction to Detention

DJS operates five detention facilities across the State, since closing Alfred D. Noyes Children’s Center in October 2022, to provide temporary and secure custody of youth subject to court jurisdiction. Youth may be detained at various points in the juvenile justice system. The juvenile court may order detention for youth pending a court hearing (pre- or post-disposition), pending initial placement in a treatment program, or pending placement in a treatment program post-removal. Youth are commonly detained for new complaints alleging delinquent behavior, writs and warrants issued by the court, or violations of alternative to detention (ATD) program conditions. Additionally, DJS intake officers have the authority to detain youth under certain conditions. Youth pending adult criminal charges may also be held in DJS detention facilities while the transfer of jurisdiction from adult to juvenile court is being considered. (see “Youth Charged as Adults Pending Transfer” on page 114-115).

DETENTION PROCESS

The decision whether to detain a youth is primarily determined by the juvenile court. However, juvenile detention may be authorized by DJS intake officers on a temporary basis at the request of a law enforcement officer or community detention officer. DJS is empowered by statute to detain a youth who either poses a clear risk to themselves/others or is deemed likely to fail to appear for the subsequent court hearing. The Detention Risk Assessment Instrument (DRAI- see Appendix O) guides this decision, which is subject to court review on the next court day. The DRAI objectively informs detention decisions by taking into account three factors:

- (1) the assessed risk that a youth will reoffend or will fail to appear for a court hearing, based on known risk factors from the youth’s history, including recent offenses adjudicated and pending adjudication;
- (2) the seriousness of the current alleged offense; and
- (3) other factors that require DJS to temporarily detain a youth regardless of risk or offense seriousness, including an outstanding writ, warrant, or interstate hold.

By law, the DRAI must be validated every five years in order to ensure that the assessed risk factors remain both accurate and predictive. The DRAI is an essential tool for the Department and the court to ensure fair and evidence-based decision making regarding the use of secure detention.

DETENTION ADMISSIONS

Each detention facility operates an admissions area 24 hours a day where all youth admitted to detention are processed. An admissions officer interviews youth to collect and verify basic identifying information. The admissions officer also searches the DJS information system to obtain available information on a youth’s delinquency and placement history. A photograph of each youth is taken and included in the case record for identification purposes. Each youth receives a facility handbook that includes information on facility procedures, the behavior motivation program, services and programming, grievance procedures, and the Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA). Youth are issued clothing to wear in the facility. Personal clothing is cleaned, catalogued, packaged, and placed in secure storage.

The admissions process includes an initial health screening. A registered nurse conducts the admission health assessment, which consists of a review of physical health, mental health, and substance abuse needs. A licensed physician or nurse practitioner conducts a review of medical history and a physical examination within seven days of admission.

DETENTION CASE MANAGEMENT

Youth detained by the juvenile court are assigned a DJS community case manager and a facility case manager. The community case manager visits the youth in detention, interviews the youth and family, and completes required investigations and/or assessments, e.g., a Social History Investigation or MCASP Risk & Needs Assessment (see Appendix P). The facility case manager acts as a liaison with the court, family, community case manager, and treatment service providers while the youth is in detention. The facility case manager also assists youth with understanding the facility handbooks and the behavior motivation program upon admission to the facility and answers any questions the youth may have. They facilitate individual meetings, weekly groups, and activities. They monitor youth progress in the behavior motivation program and may provide information and input for the Multidisciplinary Assessment Staffing Team (MAST) meetings.

Services Provided in Detention Facilities

BEHAVIORAL HEALTH SERVICES

DJS Behavioral Health Services (BHS) oversees the delivery of mental health, substance use, and evidence-based treatment services to youth under DJS supervision. Licensed and certified BHS staff counselors and contractors provide assessments and necessary services. BHS provides integrated mental health and substance use disorder screening, assessments, and short-term crisis services in DJS detention facilities. For youth who are pending placement, BHS provides individual and family therapy in order to prepare youth to transition to a treatment program. This allows youth the opportunity to begin working on treatment goals and begin learning dialectical behavior therapy (DBT) skills.

Upon admission to a detention center, each youth is screened by trained staff for urgent behavioral health concerns. Within seven days of admission the youth is assessed by a qualified behavioral health professional. The screening consists of an interview, the administration of tests as appropriate, and the review of any prior assessments or records (e.g., psychosocial or clinical assessments). If the initial behavioral health screen reveals mental health concerns, more in-depth evaluations or additional services are recommended. These evaluations, conducted by psychiatrists, social workers or licensed psychologists, examine the emotional, adaptive, and cognitive functioning of detained youth.

Youth and staff at Cheltenham Youth Detention Center created unique t-shirts in support of Breast Cancer Awareness month.

Additionally, counselors and other behavioral health staff screen and assess youth in detention and determine appropriate levels of substance use treatment. This information assists case managers in linking youth with appropriate community and residential services. Behavioral health staff work closely with the Department's medical director for those youth requiring medication management as a result of their drug addiction.

SOMATIC HEALTH SERVICES

The Somatic Health Services Unit provides comprehensive, quality health care and nutritional services in an integrated fashion to address the full range of needs of the youth and to ensure a continuum of care in the DJS residential programs. The unit's mission is to protect, promote, and advance the health of all youth in the care of the Department.

The Somatic Health Services Unit provides medical, dental, optometry, laboratory, pharmacy, and dietetic services in an interdisciplinary fashion that is developmentally appropriate for youth. These services are delivered in accordance with the standards of care set forth by the National Commission on Correctional Health Care, the American Academy of Pediatrics, the Centers for Disease Control, and the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Academy of Sciences.

Youth admitted to DJS residential programs require ongoing, routine preventative health care. In addition, youth receive care for previously unmet health care needs and for acute and chronic health care conditions identified upon admission or during their stay. The Department ensures that each facility has licensed nurses and clinical practitioners, as well as laboratory and pharmacy services, to meet the health care needs of the youth. The facilities provide health care accessibility 24/7 either on-site or off-site, with separate infirmary care offered at five facilities for youth with higher acuity health needs. For emergency room, in-patient, surgical, or other specialty care, youth are transported to community providers as needed.

Each youth must have a current nursing assessment, history and physical examination, vision screening, and dental screening upon admission. Additionally, youth receive testing or screening for anemia and infectious diseases, including tuberculosis, COVID-19, sexually transmitted infections, and HIV. Obstetrical, gynecological, and other reproductive health care is provided either on-site or in the community in order to meet individual needs.

Immunization records are requested for all youth, and DJS makes every effort to fully immunize youth who are not up to date on recommended and required vaccinations. DJS participates in the Federal Vaccines for Children Program.

The care and services delivered are continually monitored by the Somatic Health Services Unit in order to ensure compliance and optimal quality of care.

EDUCATIONAL SERVICES

The primary focus of the Juvenile Services Education Program (JSEP) is to provide exceptional educational opportunities to students, and assist them in accruing credits toward graduation or to receive a diploma by examination (GED). JSEP utilizes a combination of online course providers and blended learning courses facilitated by JSEP teachers to provide credit recovery and original credit opportunities for students. Blended courses and online course providers afford students the opportunity to retake courses to obtain the mastery needed for credit to use towards graduation requirements. If a student has successfully attained their high school diploma or GED, higher education courses are available through college partnerships (see the JSEP Section on page 12 for more information). In FY 2025, there were nine colleges that worked with DJS youth.

RECREATIONAL SERVICES

Structured recreation programs are available to all youth in detention. The recreation program provides a variety of activities promoting physical health and wellness. DJS programming exceeds the minimum one hour per day required by policy.

Changing Habits and Making Progressive Strides (C.H.A.M.P.S.) is an incentive-based program that provides youth opportunities to compete with other facilities through recreation, arts, athletic, and academic events.

Innovation Teams

Connected to the goals of improving public safety, improving youth outcomes, building strong and effective partnerships, and achieving organizational excellence, the Department is working toward residential centers that are more rooted in a positive youth development framework. The work began in three facilities during 2024: Baltimore City Juvenile Justice Center, Western Maryland Children's Center, and Victor Cullen Center.

Innovation Teams have been formed to help manage this endeavor. These teams are comprised of youth, staff, family, and facilitators who help with strategy development and implementation planning. The voices, perspectives, and wisdom of staff and young people are central to the approach and therefore are critical to the sustained success of this effort. By centering the voices and perspectives of staff and young people, the goal is to transform the climate and culture within DJS residential facilities, where staff feel more valued and fulfilled and where young people are able to tap into their full potential.

To commemorate Juneteenth, youth from Western Maryland Children’s Center collaborated with James Twigg from the Creative Arts & Technology Program on an epoxy canvas project where they used only black, green, red, and yellow to create vibrant abstract paintings.

Pending Placement

PENDING PLACEMENT (POST-DISPOSITION)

Youth who have been committed to the custody of the Department for residential placement may be placed in detention on a temporary basis by the juvenile court. Youth detained post-disposition are considered to be ‘pending placement’ as they are waiting to be placed into an out-of-home treatment program for committed youth.

Youth who are pending placement receive the same core services as listed above for pre-disposition cases in addition to services offered to youth that are housed in DJS treatment facilities, including individual and family treatment. As offered in treatment facilities, youth on Pending Placement status have the opportunity to earn treatment hours each week.

Youth receive visits from their community case manager within the first 10 days of detention and every 14 days after their initial visit. Each facility also allows family visitation daily.

A juvenile court holds a review in accordance with Maryland Code’s Courts and Judicial Proceedings Article, §3-8A-15(k) for any youth in detention 14 days after the court has made a disposition. At the hearing, DJS is required to explain the reasons for continued detention. The court will conduct a hearing every 14 days thereafter until a youth has been placed. Pursuant to the 2024 law change, a hearing may be waived one time on the consent of the court, the State’s Attorney, and the youth’s counsel.

During the pending placement period, the facility and community case managers maintain contact with the youth’s family, with family visitation allowed daily. Case Managers are also responsible for reporting to the juvenile court regarding the youth’s placement status.

In addition to court review, pending placement cases are reviewed by the Department on a weekly basis at facility management meetings. Regional-level meetings are held monthly to review placement statistics and identify barriers to placement and ways to expedite the process.

PENDING PLACEMENT UNITS

At the start of FY 2024, as a part of the new Comprehensive Treatment Model, DJS implemented a new initiative to begin treatment services for youth pending placement in DJS detention centers. The pending placement units (PPUs) opened at BCJJC and Cheltenham Youth Detention Center at the end of June 2024. The new initiative allows youth to begin individual therapy, DBT skills groups, coaching sessions with staff, and family interventions while awaiting placement. Progress youth make toward their treatment plan goals while in pending placement can shorten the length of their ultimate treatment stay.

Youth in pending placement at Cheltenham Youth Detention Center took part in a special staff-organized yoga session to allow for stress release and relaxation.

While a youth is detained pending a new placement, the Department's Central Review Committee (CRC) re-evaluates the youth's case and works to secure acceptance to the most appropriate alternative program. Youth ultimately placed in a committed treatment program are transferred as soon as possible based on available bed space.

- In FY 2025, 78% of youth placed in a Post-D detention had a stay in the PPU (based on unique youth count.)

PENDING PLACEMENT AFTER REMOVAL FROM A TREATMENT PROGRAM FOR COMMITTED YOUTH

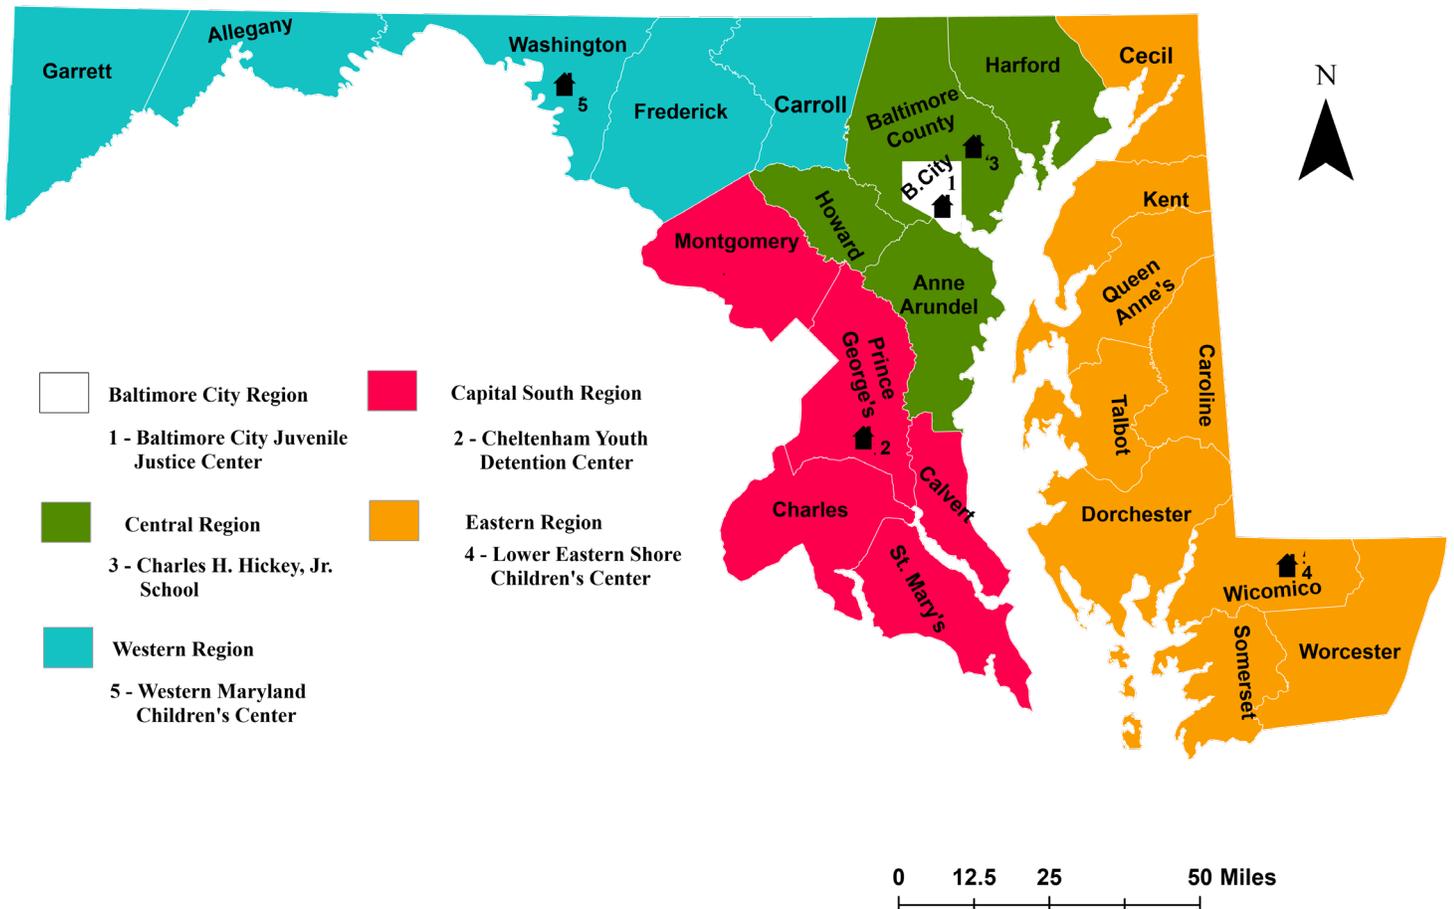

Some youth committed to the custody of the Department cannot be safely maintained in their program and must be removed. Youth removed from a treatment program who require a new committed placement are often placed in detention. Those with a new offense are considered Pre-Disposition (Pre-D).

A Note to Readers:

Placements versus Admissions: A placement is based on a decision made by an intake officer or judge to place a youth into detention. An admission occurs when a youth physically enters a facility either through direct placement or through transfer. Therefore, during one placement, a youth may have several admissions, and these counts will not match.

Pages that present statewide data report placements, while facility-specific pages report admissions. The only exceptions are tables that present data that are collected once upon placement, such as risk level. These are reported as placements.

DJS Secure Detention Facilities by Region

Total Statewide Activity for Detention Centers

Total Capacity: 306 beds

DJS operates five detention facilities across the State following the closure of Noyes. Each facility accommodates youth awaiting juvenile court disposition (Pre-D) and youth committed to DJS by the juvenile court and pending placement in a treatment program (Post-D). Youth returned to detention following removal from a treatment program, with no new offenses requiring court processing, and needing a new placement are reported here as “removals.” Youth with pending adult criminal charges may also be held in DJS detention facilities (see pages 114-115 for more detail). These youth are included in the data presented except for demographic, offense, and risk level tables/charts.

PLACEMENTS, FY 2023-2025

*Youth can be counted in Pre-D, Post-D, Removal, and Adult Court; therefore, the sum of the status categories may not equal the total.

• Source of Placements (FY 2025):

- 93.9% of placements were from Maryland jurisdictions. Of those from out of state, there were 71 from Washington, D.C.; 11 from Virginia; 3 from West Virginia; 2 each from Florida and Pennsylvania; and 1 each from Connecticut, Delaware, Louisiana, North Carolina, and Texas.

• Average Length of Stay (ALOS) in Days FY 2023-2025:

- Pre-D LOS decreased 0.6%.
- Post-D LOS decreased 12.1%.
- Adult Court LOS increased 9.2%.

• Pre-D Offense Category (Most Serious Offense) Trends FY 2023-2025:

- The percentage of Crimes of Violence decreased from 39.3% to 38.3%.
- The percentage of Felonies decreased from 26.4% to 22.1%.
- The percentage of Misdemeanors increased from 30.1% to 33.6%.

• Average Daily Population (ADP):

- Overall, ADP increased 24.4% between FY 2023 and FY 2025 and decreased 0.5% between FY 2024 and FY 2025.
- Overall, ADP has consistently been below capacity.
- The overall statewide detention utilization rate increased from 62.0% in FY 2023 to 85.9% in FY 2025.

ADP BY PLACEMENT TYPE, FY 2023-2025

PRE-D PLACEMENTS BY RISK LEVEL FOR YOUTH WITH A COMPLETED DRAI*, FY 2023-2025

*79.1% of Pre-D placements in FY 2025 had a completed DRAI.

ALOS* BY PLACEMENT TYPE, FY 2023-2025

*For cases involving a transfer from facility to facility, the total ALOS is reflected on the statewide pages. The specific facility's page reflects only the ALOS at that particular facility.

Female Statewide Activity for Detention Centers

During FY 2025, Lower Eastern Shore Children’s Center and Western Maryland Children’s Center served girls. Some youth are detained awaiting disposition (Pre-D), and some are post-disposition (Post-D) awaiting placement in a treatment program. Youth returned to detention following removal from a treatment program, with no new offenses requiring court processing, and needing a new placement are reported here as “removals.” Data include youth charged as adults pending transfer (see pages 114-115 for more detail), except for demographic, offense, and risk level tables/charts.

PLACEMENTS, FY 2023-2025

*Youth can be counted in Pre-D, Post-D, Removal, and Adult Court; therefore, the sum of the status categories may not equal the total.

• Source of Placements (FY 2025):

- 92.9% of placements were from Maryland jurisdictions. Of those from out of state, there were 7 from Washington, D.C.; 4 from Virginia; and 1 each from Connecticut and Louisiana.

• Average Length of Stay (ALOS) in Days FY 2023-2025:

- Pre-D LOS increased 19.2%.
- Post-D LOS increased 21.9%.
- Adult Court LOS decreased 1.0%.

• Pre-D Offense Category (Most Serious Offense) Trends FY 2023-2025:

- The percentage of Crimes of Violence increased from 20.3% to 26.0%.
- The percentage of Felonies increased from 21.9% to 23.1%.
- The percentage of Misdemeanors increased from 40.6% to 41.0%.

• Average Daily Population (ADP):

- Overall, ADP increased 83.3% between FY 2023 and FY 2025 and increased 6.7% between FY 2024 and FY 2025.
- Overall, ADP has consistently been below capacity.

Under Age 13 Statewide Activity for Detention Centers

Youth who are under 13 years of age represent a small population of youth detained in DJS detention centers. Rather than placing these youth in a detention facility, DJS most frequently uses an alternative to detention (ATD) with placement at home or in a shelter. However, if a youth must be in a detention center, they are housed with youth closest in age and size. If deemed highly vulnerable, they may be placed in the infirmary, with one-on-one staff supervision, or sent to a smaller facility with a lower population. Regardless of placement type, youth under 13 receive the same services as other detained youth. Note: Youth under age 13 are not eligible to be charged in adult court.

Youth of Color Statewide Activity for Detention Centers

The data shown in this section provide additional detail for youth of color (non-white youth). Although each summary page in the Data Resource Guide Detention Section provides an overall race/ethnicity breakdown for detention placements in the demographics table, the tables in this section show more detailed information on placements and ADP by type and county, offense type and severity, and length of stay for youth of color as a whole. With the exception of the demographic, offense, and risk level tables/charts, data presented below include youth charged as adults pending transfer (see pages 114-115 for more detail).

Youth Charged as Adults Pending Transfer

Youth under the age of 18 who are charged with certain offenses may be excluded from the original jurisdiction of the juvenile court and instead begin their cases in the adult criminal justice system. These youth may be held in adult detention centers while awaiting trial. However, under Maryland law (Md. Code, Criminal Procedure, §4-202), youth charged as adults who are eligible to request a transfer of their case to juvenile court may instead be held in a secure juvenile detention facility while awaiting a transfer hearing. At this hearing, the court determines whether the case should remain in adult court or be transferred to juvenile court.

In 2015 the Maryland General Assembly changed the statute to establish a presumption that eligible youth to be held in a juvenile detention facility unless: (1)The youth is released, (2)There is no available capacity in the juvenile facility, or (3)The court determines that holding the youth in a juvenile facility would pose a risk of harm to the child or others and states the reason on the record.

This section presents data on youth held in DJS detention facilities while awaiting transfer hearings in the adult court system. It also includes information on youth whose cases were ultimately transferred to juvenile court, whether or not they were detained during the reporting year.

Note: The population data for youth detained by the adult court are also included in the data presented in the rest of the Detention section, with the exception of demographics, offense, and risk level tables/charts. It is important to note that the offense data shown here reflect the resulting juvenile court offense for those cases that were transferred down from adult court jurisdiction and do not reflect the original adult charge.

Western Maryland Children's Center

Capacity: 24 Females (On October 23, 2023, the facility became a female-only facility.)

Western Region

Note: Youth returned to detention following removal from a committed treatment program, with no new offenses requiring court processing, and needing a new committed placement are reported here as "removals." With the exception of the demographic, offense, and risk level tables/charts, data presented below include youth charged as adults pending transfer (see pages 114-115 for more detail).

* Offense may not be reason for placement. For Pre-D, the offense is alleged, and for both Post-D and Removal it is adjudicated sustained. Data do not include Adult Court. <sup>1</sup> Includes: Assault Weapon, CDS-Possession of Cannabis < 10g, Danger to Self/ Others, Discharging Firearms, Escape, False Statement, Harassment, Motor Vehicle Tampering, Reckless Endangerment, Runaway, Threat of Mass Violence, Ungovernable, Unspecified Felony, and Weapons in General. <sup>2</sup> See Appendices G and K for COV and other offense classifications. **Excludes burglary offenses (except Burglary-Home Invasion). For a current COV offense list see Appendix G.

ASSIST is a live database; therefore, updates made subsequent to these data being run will not be included. Percentages may not add to 100% due to rounding. Data may not be comparable to previous Data Resource Guides due to methodology changes. VOPs are categorized by the original offense.

ADP BY ADMISSION TYPE, FY 2023-2025

PRE-D PLACEMENTS BY RISK LEVEL FOR YOUTH WITH A COMPLETED DRAI*, FY 2023-2025

*The DRAI is completed at initial placement, and not at subsequent facility admissions/transfers. 71.4% of Pre-D placements had a completed DRAI in FY 2025.

ALOS* BY ADMISSION TYPE, FY 2023-2025

*For cases involving a transfer from facility to facility, the total ALOS is reflected on the statewide pages. The specific facility's page reflects only the ALOS at that particular facility.

Alternatives to Detention (ATD)

DJS has a variety of programs designed to safely supervise and monitor youth in the community as an alternative to secure detention. ATDs include Community Detention (CD) – with or without Electronic/GPS Monitoring (EM) – and DJS-managed Evening Reporting Centers (ERC) serving females and males. Shelter beds may also serve as ATDs when release-eligible youth are unable to return home. If a youth is presented at intake for detention, DJS staff may assign an ATD based on the youth’s risk level (placements must be reviewed by the juvenile court the next day). The juvenile court may also assign an ATD directly. These alternatives allow youth to remain at home or in shelter care to continue school or work and maintain community ties/programs that mitigate risk while awaiting adjudication. Youth on ATD supervision are expected to appear for scheduled hearings, abide by ATD program guidelines, and not incur any new offenses.

<sup>1</sup>The offense tables on the other ATD pages report CD/EM combined, so if a youth is transferred from CD to EM or vice versa, the youth is counted as one admission. This table separates out CD from CD/EM, so the sum of this total will be slightly higher than the offense table totals presented on the other ATD pages.

A person wearing a green t-shirt and tan pants is working on a black and green CARPAT bicycle. The bicycle is mounted on a blue repair stand. The person is standing on a black perforated mat. ## Section IV: Treatment Programs For Committed Youth

In conjunction with the Reflections Program, Victor Cullen Center offered a two day bicycle mechanic course to teach youth basic bike rental fleet management, customer service, workplace and tool safety, brake and gear adjustments, and pre-ride safety inspections.

Introduction to Treatment Programs for Committed Youth

DJS aims to select the most appropriate out-of-home program for youth who have been committed to the custody of DJS by the juvenile court. The court may not commit a youth to DJS for an out-of-home placement when the most serious adjudicated offense is a misdemeanor (unless it is a handgun violation) or for a “technical violation” of probation. The court determines the appropriate level of care for each youth but does not select the specific programs to which the youth are referred. Treatment programs vary based on the services provided, as well as by security level.

DJS has made significant reform efforts in recent years, including an increased focus on several key principles to guide decision making regarding out-of-home placements. These principles are:

- Utilize community-based treatment whenever possible;
- Utilize lengths of stay that maximize treatment benefits;
- Utilize research-based programs;
- Prioritize out-of-home placements in Qualified Residential Treatment Programs (QRTPs) when available;
- Identify trauma and provide trauma-responsive care;
- Reduce racial and other systemic biases;
- Utilize a restorative approach by seeking options to repair harm to victims and communities;
- Foster positive youth development and resiliency.

DJS first implemented its Comprehensive Treatment Model (CTM) in July 2023. The model identifies Dialectical Behavior Therapy (DBT) as the treatment framework and incorporates principles of positive youth development (PYD) and trauma-informed care. The model establishes that the intensity and duration of services a youth receives are determined by the youth’s risk of recidivism and treatment needs, and identifies the unique strengths of a youth to create an individualized treatment plan. These changes are intended to improve outcomes for justice-involved youth and increase public safety.

Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS): PBIS is an evidence-based framework that is designed to facilitate the development of pro-social youth behavior, and guides the behavior motivation system, STARR. STARR helps youth learn problem-solving and leadership skills, as well as accept responsibility for their behavior. Program staff are trained to teach and model problem-solving and social skills.

PYD is a framework that sees youth and families as full of potential and provides them with opportunities, relationships, and support to build on their strengths and achieve positive outcomes.

The utilization rate for state-operated programs in FY 2025 was 84.3%. This rate is calculated by ADP/Capacity.

Trauma Informed Care (TIC): Trauma Informed Care is an approach that takes into account past trauma and how it shapes fundamental beliefs about the world and affects behavior. DJS has implemented TIC since March 2017. The National Association of State Mental Health Program Directors (NASMHPD) trained all DJS treatment program staff in a TIC model that was originally developed for the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), a nationally recognized leader in Trauma Informed Care. TIC is taught in entry-level training for all staff and teaches staff to recognize the signs, symptoms, and common reactions to trauma. It also teaches staff about the impact of trauma on the developing brain, and how it impacts the behaviors, reactions, and lives of youth. Through training with the NASMHPD trauma trainers, DJS staff have developed and implemented specific strategies to help youth address their reactions to trauma triggers, and programs have developed more trauma-informed environments.

PEACE (Progressing Everyday And Changing Everyway) Academy: PEACE Academy opened March 4, 2024, on the grounds of the Western Maryland Children’s Center (WMCC) as a six-bed hardware secure treatment program for girls that has fluctuated in size. This program provides individual and group therapy, DBT skills groups, coaching sessions with staff, and family interventions. Girls can be placed into the PEACE Academy quickly, allowing them to have overall shorter lengths of stay.

ASSIST is a live database; therefore, updates made subsequent to these data being run will not be included. Percentages may not add to 100% due to rounding. Data may not be comparable to previous Data Resource Guides due to methodology changes. VOPs are categorized by the original offense.

PLACEMENT PROCESS

The DJS placement process is designed to select the most appropriate program and treatment services for youth. The process begins after adjudication with a comprehensive case review of each youth.

Community or Multidisciplinary Assessment Staffing Team (MAST) Staffing: For youth in the community at the time of adjudication, the local DJS office conducts a community staffing. The community case manager coordinates the community staffing meeting, bringing together key parties responsible for treatment service planning including community case manager supervision, resource staff, and parents and/or guardians. For detained youth, a MAST staffing takes place in the detention facility center. MAST is a specialized diagnostic team responsible for assessing youth who are detained pending court disposition and are at risk of out-of-home placement. The MAST includes a psychologist, social worker, professional counselor or substance use counselor, community case manager, detention facility case manager supervisor, resource specialist, an education representative, and the youth and family. Youth who require more specialized assessments (e.g., a neurological, psychosexual, or medical assessment) are referred for evaluation, and the results are presented during a MAST staffing.

Referral for Services: Each staffing meeting considers all pertinent information, including the current offense(s), delinquency history, social history, recommended supervision level and treatment needs based on the DJS MCASP Risk & Needs Assessment, educational records, any behavioral health and medical assessments, youth and family input and strengths, service access considerations, and the involvement of any other state agency. Staffing meetings culminate with recommendations to the juvenile court for program participation and/or treatment services tailored to the circumstances of each youth. After court disposition, DJS refers each case to the recommended program(s) for consideration. Programs may either accept or reject a youth based on program eligibility criteria or capacity.

The Department has established three levels of residential treatment program placements based largely on the level of program restrictiveness (see the figure). Level I includes all programs where youth reside in a community setting and attend community schools. Level II includes programs where education is provided on-grounds, and youth movement is restricted primarily by staff monitoring and supervision. Level III programs provide the highest level of security by augmenting staff supervision with physical attributes of the facility (i.e., locked areas and fences).

DJS operates and contracts with an array of programs, both in and out of state, to provide treatment services to committed youth. The full range of DJS placement options include: (a) Foster Care Homes (treatment foster care); (b) Group Homes (general service and therapeutic); (c) Independent Living Programs/Alternative Living Units (often used as a step-down from a more restrictive program placement for older youth); (d) Residential Treatment Centers (RTCs) and non-Medicaid Residential Treatment Facilities (out-of-state); (e) DJS-operated and out-of-state staff-secure treatment programs; and (f) hardware-secure treatment programs, both DJS-operated and privately contracted out of state.

In 2021, DJS added an additional placement option as a result of Congress passing the Family First Prevention Services Act (FFPSA) in 2018. FFPSA defined a new level of child care institution (i.e., group home setting) - Qualified Residential Treatment Program (QRTP). A QRTP is a federally reimbursable, non-family-based setting that serves children with treatment needs that cannot be met in a home/family setting. The QRTP must meet the following requirements: use a trauma-informed treatment model; have a registered or licensed nursing and clinical staff available 24/7; provide discharge planning and family-based aftercare support; facilitate outreach to and include the participation of the child and family members; and be state licensed and accredited by the Joint Commission, the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF), or the Council on Accreditation (COA). The State of Maryland has designated six programs as QRTPs, including the DJS-licensed program VisionQuest Morning Star Youth Academy.

Case Reviews: The DJS case management team conducts monthly reviews of all youth under Departmental supervision to ensure that youth are receiving recommended treatment services and appropriate supervision. Local and regional teams meet regularly to ensure that youth are progressing in programs, receiving all needed services while in a program, and being evaluated for court in a timely manner. This is in addition to the already established Central Review Committee process.

Central Review Committee (CRC): DJS established the CRC in 2012 after legislation was passed granting DJS the authority to transfer youth to a placement with a higher security level without first requesting the court to modify the commitment order. That legislation expired in 2016; however, the CRC continues to conduct weekly case reviews of youth at risk for removal from a treatment program and those who have been removed from a program due to safety issues or a significant change in the behavioral, emotional, and/or medical needs of the youth. The Director of Behavioral Health serves as the Chair of the CRC. The CRC directs changes in the provision of services to youth, recommends placement transfers, and requests modifications to court orders for those cases requiring increased security.

SERVICES PROVIDED IN DJS-OPERATED TREATMENT PROGRAMS

Youth served in a DJS-operated treatment program receive a multitude of services, including behavioral health, case management, somatic health, educational services, and substance abuse services as needed. Upon admission, the treatment team determines the amount of treatment for each youth. The amount of treatment is based upon the youth's assessed overall risk for recidivism as estimated by the MCASP and the youth's identified Behavioral Health treatment needs. Youth's risk scores fall among low, moderate, high and/or very high. Each delineation outlines a specific number of hours and programming for each category. Additional identified needs such as substance abuse treatment, medication management or other specialized services are also factored into the service plan. In 2021, DJS achieved accreditation through the Council on Accreditation (COA) for all state-operated treatment programs.

BEHAVIORAL HEALTH AND CASE MANAGEMENT SERVICES

DJS Behavioral Health Services (BHS) provides integrated mental health and substance use treatment in DJS-operated treatment programs. BHS includes the following: substance use services; suicide assessment and prevention; crisis intervention and stabilization; medication evaluation and monitoring; and individual, group, and family therapies. All youth participate in the TAMAR-Y (Trauma, Addiction, Mental Health, and Recovery – Youth) curriculum, which combines psychoeducation with cognitive behavioral interventions and expressive art therapy. As of July 2023, all youth participate in individual and group Dialectical Behavioral Therapy (DBT) sessions. DBT is an evidence-based, cognitive behavioral intervention that helps individuals learn how to better manage negative emotions, reduce impulsive and other negative behaviors, improve relationships, and improve the quality of their lives. Case Management staff work with youth in the Forward Thinking Interactive Journaling sessions weekly program, which uses cognitive behavioral strategies to assist youth in making positive changes in their thoughts, feelings and behaviors. Telepsychiatry services are available to all youth as needed. Trauma-Focused Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (TF-CBT), an evidence-based cognitive behavioral program, is available to all youth who need trauma-specific treatment.

Substance Use Services: All DJS treatment programs offer Seven Challenges substance abuse treatment, which was implemented in 2009. Seven Challenges utilizes a decision-making model, encouraging youth to make well-informed decisions by weighing the costs (e.g., physical, psychological, and social harm) and benefits of drug use. All programs provide substance use services to youth at the needed American Society of Addiction Medicine (ASAM) level, ranging from early intervention to clinically managed medium intensity residential services.

SOMATIC HEALTH

The Somatic Health Services Unit provides comprehensive, quality health care and nutritional services in an integrated fashion to address the full range of needs of the youth and to ensure a continuum of care in the DJS residential programs. The unit's mission is to protect, promote, and advance the health of all youth in the care of the Department.

The Somatic Health Services Unit provides medical, nursing, dental, optometry, pharmacy, laboratory, and nutritional services in an interdisciplinary fashion that is developmentally appropriate for youth. These services are delivered in accordance with the standards of care set forth by the National Commission on Correctional Health Care, the American Academy of Pediatrics, the Centers for Disease Control, and the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Academy of Sciences.

Youth admitted to DJS residential programs require ongoing, routine preventative health care. In some cases, youth may have unmet or chronic health care conditions upon admission or may develop an acute medical problem that needs to be addressed. DJS ensures that each residential program has licensed nurses and clinical practitioners, as well as comprehensive laboratory and pharmacy services to meet the health care needs of the youth. Youth requiring treatment for opioid use disorder are able to receive medication-assisted treatment. For specialty, surgical, emergency, or in-patient care, youth are transported to community providers as needed.

Each youth must have a current admission nursing assessment, history and physical examination, vision screening, and dental screening upon admission or soon thereafter. Youth are also screened or tested for anemia and infectious diseases, including tuberculosis, COVID-19, sexually transmitted infections, and HIV. Girls receive comprehensive gynecological care either on-site or in the community in order to meet their individual health needs.

DJS makes every effort to request immunization records for all youth and to fully immunize youth who are not up to date on recommended and required vaccinations. DJS participates in the Federal Vaccines for Children Program.

The care and services delivered and the performance of the private health care providers are continually monitored by the Office of Somatic Health Services to ensure compliance and optimal quality of care.

EDUCATIONAL SERVICES

The Juvenile Services Education Program's (JSEP) primary focus is to provide exceptional educational opportunities to students and assist them in accruing credits toward graduation or to receive a diploma by examination (GED). JSEP utilizes an in-person learning model, supplemented by a combination of online course providers and blended learning courses facilitated by JSEP teachers. These services provide students with credit recovery and original credit opportunities. Online course providers afford students the opportunity to retake courses to obtain the mastery needed for credit to use towards graduation requirements. If a student has successfully attained their high school diploma or GED, higher education courses are available through three community college partnerships. (See the JSEP Section on pages 12-15 for more information).

CLASSIFICATION

All DJS-operated treatment programs utilize the Housing Classification Assessment, an objective internal classification tool to assess a youth's potential vulnerability and supervision needs, taking into account history of offending, medical or mental health concerns, and youth age and size (see Appendix L). The classification assessment is implemented for all youth upon admission to the program, and the results guide appropriate housing decisions and room assignments. The tool allows for reclassification in response to circumstances or special needs that may require modification of housing or room assignment.

RE-ENTRY PROCESS

DJS recognizes the importance of effectively transitioning committed youth from a treatment program back to the community. These youth may face challenges re-enrolling in school or accessing needed somatic or behavioral health services. In addition, the DJS Comprehensive Treatment Model provides youth with the opportunity for Behavioral Health services and aftercare support through the Bridge Program when transitioning back to the community in limited numbers and as staff are available. Aftercare support includes weekly sessions with the youth to continue generalization of learned DBT Skills, participation in meetings with community case management and youth to ensure linkages to services have occurred; and preparing the youth for transition to community treatment provider. Aftercare support may be extended for up to 30 calendar days upon recommendation of the youth's Community Case Management Specialist, and Community Case Management Specialist Supervisor, youth and/or family.

A re-entry staffing meeting is held prior to release, involving the youth, facility treatment team, community case manager, and the youth's family, who are invited and encouraged to participate. For youth in DJS treatment programs, a meeting is requested once the youth has completed 70% of the treatment they were to complete in the program. The care team reviews progress on the youth's individual treatment service plan, housing plan, educational or occupational needs, ongoing behavioral and somatic health service requirements, and family relationships and supports. A re-entry checklist guides and captures the results of this process (See Appendix L for more information). Most youth continue under DJS aftercare supervision, as their treatment plan continues to guide service and supervision efforts. After 30 days, a DJS resource specialist ensures that the youth has accessed all needed services, has successfully re-enrolled in local public school when appropriate, and has remained in stable and suitable housing

A Note to Readers

Placement versus Admission: A placement is based on a decision made by the Department or a judge to place a youth into a treatment program. An admission occurs when a youth physically enters a program either through direct placement or through transfer. Therefore, during one placement, a youth may have several admissions, and these counts will not match.

Average Length of Stay (ALOS) Data: is based on all releases: successful, unsuccessful, and transfers.

DJS State-Operated Treatment Programs by Region

* Remained closed throughout FY 2025

Statewide Total

The juvenile court may commit a youth to the care of DJS, thereby transferring legal custody to the Department. A range of out-of-home program options has been developed for committed youth. Community-based program options include placement in a foster home, group home, or independent living program. Placements in non-community settings include Residential Treatment Centers (RTCs), DJS-operated Youth Centers, and secure confinement programs. In FY 2025, DJS operated three treatment programs. DJS also contracts with both in- and out-of-state programs.

Note: Community-Based Family Therapy Programs are presented within this section (pages 160-162) because one of their primary goals is to divert youth from out-of-home committed placement. These data are not included on the statewide tables, which only include youth in committed out-of-home placements.

Statewide Females Only

Female youth represented approximately 6% of the population of youth committed to the care and custody of the Department during FY 2025. Community-based programming included the same continuum of options as the males have in: foster care, group homes, independent living programs, and Residential Treatment Centers (RTCs). Victor Cullen Center’s hardware-secure program became available as an option for females as of October 11, 2022. Out-of-state contracted programs were also available for female youth. PEACE Academy opened on March 4, 2024. Data for placements are included in total placements throughout the statewide female pages.

Statewide Youth of Color Only

The data shown in this section provide additional detail for youth of color (non-white youth). Although each summary page in the Data Resource Guide treatment program section provides an overall race/ethnicity breakdown for treatment programs in the Demographics table, the tables in this section provide more detailed information on programs and ADP by type and county, offense type and severity, and length of stay for youth of color as a whole.

PEACE Academy opened on March 4, 2024. Data for placements are included in total placements throughout the statewide youth of color pages.

RELEASES BY COMPLETION STATUS*, FY 2025

* Release completion status is based on case worker determination. Youth released home or to a step-down program are included as successful, and youth transferred to another program are included as transferred.

Foster Care

Foster Care serves youth who need placement, primarily because it may not be appropriate for youth to return home. Treatment Foster Care (TFC) is continuous 24-hour care with intensive support services operated by a licensed child placement agency or local Department of Social Services (DSS). TFCs provide a family setting for children with serious emotional, behavioral, medical, and/or psychological conditions. The behaviors of the youth served are not so severe that removal from the community is necessary.

Group Homes

General group homes are non-profit residential programs for youth in placements licensed by the Department of Human Services (DHS), DJS, or the Office of Health Care Quality (OHCQ), which is part of the Maryland Department of Health (MDH). They provide out-of-home care for four or more youth who are moderate to high risk and need more structure and supervision than a relative, foster parent, or treatment foster care program could offer. General group homes also provide a formal program of basic care, social work, and healthcare services. Therapeutic group homes (TGH) are residential programs for youth in out-of-home care licensed by OHCQ and must be non-profit organizations. TGHs provide access to a range of diagnostic and therapeutic mental health services to youth who are moderate to high risk and have an emotional or developmental disability. Those TGHs that provide educational programs on their grounds are considered staff-secure programs.

Independent Living Programs (Including Alternative Living Units)

Independent Living Programs are operated by DHS-licensed child placement agencies for youth 15 to 21 years of age who need to become self-sufficient and learn responsible living skills, as they are unlikely to return home. Youth reside in supervised apartment units and must be enrolled in high school, college, vocational training, or be gainfully employed. During the program, youth learn interpersonal skills, financial literacy, career readiness, conflict management, use of positive leisure time, and communication skills. Alternative Living Units are residences owned, leased, or operated by a licensee that: (a) provides residential services for children who, because of a developmental disability, require specialized living arrangements; (b) admits no more than three children; and (c) provides 24-hour care.

Residential Treatment Centers (Includes Psychiatric Hospitals)

Residential Treatment Centers (RTCs) provide intensive psychiatric and psychological treatment services. These centers are required to have psychiatrists, psychologists, and psychiatric nurses on staff to lead treatment. Maryland RTCs are approved for operation through the State Certificate of Need (CON) process and are licensed through the Office of Health Care Quality (OHCQ). Some RTCs concentrate on specific youth populations. For example, some staff-secure and hardware-secure RTCs focus on youth with behavioral problems and/or considered to be potentially harmful to themselves or others. The RTCs are intended to stabilize the youth's emotional condition, provide services that increase the youth's ability to manage mental illness as a potentially lifelong challenge, assist the youth in developing skills for coping with daily and/or difficult situations and interpersonal relationships, and transition the youth to a less restrictive environment or home.

ADP AND ALOS, FY 2023-2025

RELEASES BY COMPLETION STATUS*, FY 2025

* Release completion status is based on case worker determination. Youth released home or to a step-down program are included as successful, and youth transferred to another program are included as transferred.

ASSIST is a live database; therefore, updates made subsequent to these data being run will not be included. Percentages may not add to 100% due to rounding. Data may not be comparable to previous Data Resource Guides due to methodology changes. VOPs are categorized by the original offense.

Out-of-State (OOS) Programs

Maryland law prohibits an out-of-state placement for youth unless a court finds that the youth’s individualized needs cannot be met through in-state resources. Additionally, DJS policy states that youth may not be placed out of state without the Secretary’s or designee’s approval. The Department adheres to Interstate Compact requirements and agreements with other states regarding requests for permission and notification when youth are placed in another state. Youth placed in out-of-state programs are visited by DJS staff at least quarterly, and parent(s)/guardian(s) are given the opportunity to visit youth at least once per quarter. OOS programs are licensed by local authorities and not by Maryland agencies. DJS contracts with vendors to provide services in two broad categories: (1) RTC-level specialized mental health services and (2) staff- and hardware-secure programming.

Backbone Mountain Youth Center (State-Operated)

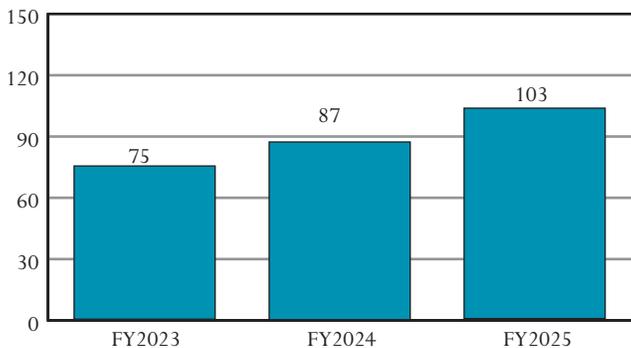

Capacity: 28 Males

Staff Secure - Garrett County

124 Camp 4 Road
Swanton, MD 21561
301-359-9190

This treatment program is located on Backbone Mountain in Garrett County. Programming includes STARR, the DJS behavioral motivation program, and a complete array of evidence-based and Dialectical Behavior Therapy Services. Case Management and Behavioral Health staff provide treatment programming as detailed in the Behavioral Health & Case Management Services section (see page 135). Services are delivered via various modalities, including individual, group, and family sessions. Family engagement in treatment planning is paramount, as regular family interaction is encouraged through family visits, phone calls, special family day activities, and home visits to help youth successfully transition back to the community. Recreational programming includes camping and intramural sports competitions. See the JSEP section on pages 12-15 for information pertaining to educational services.

Victor Cullen Center (State-Operated)

Capacity: 27 Males

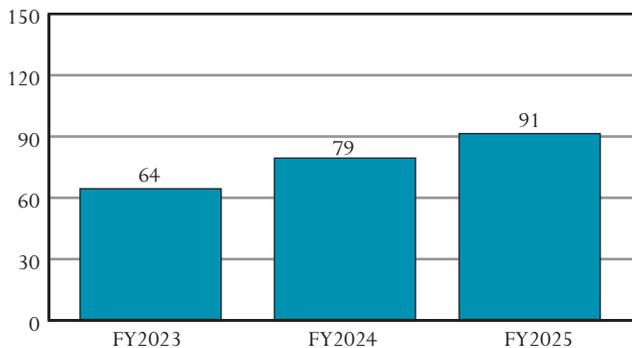

Hardware Secure - Frederick County

6000 Cullen Drive
Sabillasville, MD 21780
301-739-8122

(Facility became male only on 12/2/2023.)

The Victor Cullen Center (VCC) is a hardware-secure treatment program, primarily serving youth ages 15-21 in a six- to nine-month treatment program for mental health and/or substance abuse issues. Programming includes STARR, the DJS behavioral motivation program, and a complete array of evidence-based and -informed treatment services. Case Management and Behavioral Health staff provide treatment programming as detailed in the Behavioral Health & Case Management Services section (see page 135). Services are delivered via various modalities, including individual, group, and family sessions. Family engagement in treatment planning is of paramount importance. Regular family interaction is encouraged through family visits, phone calls, special family day activities at the facility, and home visits to help youth successfully transition back to the community. Recreational programming includes camping and intramural sports. Specialized programs include Yoga and Mindfulness Training, and arts-based programs. See the JSEP section on pages 12-15 for information pertaining to educational services.

Community-Based Family Therapy Programs

DJS uses research-supported, community-based family therapy programs to address youth needs, reduce further system involvement, and prevent out-of-home placements. These Evidence-Based Services (EBS) are included in Maryland’s Family First Prevention Services Plan, making them eligible for federal reimbursement. Functional Family Therapy (FFT) – A family-based intervention focused on improving communication and relationships while reducing problem behaviors (rated Well-Supported by the Title IV-E Prevention Services Clearinghouse). Multisystemic Therapy (MST) – An intensive in-home model that engages the family, school, and community to address serious behavioral issues and prevent out-of-home placement (rated Well-Supported by the Title IV-E Prevention Services Clearinghouse). Family Centered Treatment (FCT) – A family preservation model of in-home therapy that builds skills and positive behavioral patterns to stabilize the family (rated Supported Practice by the Title IV-E Prevention Services Clearinghouse).

These therapeutic models are designed to strengthen family functioning, support caregivers, and provide effective alternatives to out-of-home placements for youth involved with the juvenile justice system. DJS also funds and supports EBS delivery through community collaboratives (e.g., Truancy Court, Local Care Teams) to reach youth who may be diverted from formal DJS involvement.

With an extensive research base, FFT and MST have consistently demonstrated positive outcomes with juvenile offenders from diverse ethnic and cultural backgrounds. These programs use different approaches, but both focus on individual, family, and extra-familial risk and protective factors that influence youth behavior and risk for offending. To ensure their programs have achieved the desired results, EBS providers collect measures throughout treatment to assess youth and family progress and outcomes. In particular, both FFT and MST collect information related to three key indicators of success for youth involved with the justice system: (1) keeping youth in their homes/communities; (2) ensuring youth are engaged with school, vocational training, and/or employment; and (3) reducing delinquent behavior. Similar data are not yet available for FCT.

Section V: Recidivism Rates and Outcome Measures

CHAMPS youth participated in an art contest in which some artwork was selected to be displayed and auctioned off at Artscape 2024. The theme given to the artists was "growth."

Recidivism

Measuring recidivism for DJS youth is a vital tool for understanding the effectiveness of interventions aimed at reducing future system involvement and for measuring the ultimate public safety impact of services provided. Though other outcomes are also important to study, including future educational attainment, employment, and other non-offense-related outcomes, recidivism remains the primary measure of success. DJS therefore conducts an annual recidivism study and publishes comprehensive recidivism reports as part of the Data Resource Guide. It is important to note that recidivism is not only a measure of the effectiveness of the program/services provided, but it also depends on the quality of re-entry planning, aftercare supervision, availability and quality of supports in the community and/or family to which youth return, local economic opportunities, and other factors. It is also important to account for the assessed risk levels of youth served when analyzing success. All youth assigned to probation or placed in an out-of-home treatment program are assessed for risk of future reoffending using the validated MCASP Risk & Needs Assessment. The assessed risk level guides decisions about the level of supervision and intensity of treatment services required for an individual youth. MCASP identifies factors that have been shown to predict future reoffending, such as prior delinquency and criminogenic risk factors including school, family, substance use, and peers. Programs that serve higher-risk youth might expect to see higher recidivism rates than those serving lower-risk youth. Studies have also shown that services designed for higher-risk youth may not be effective, or even prove detrimental if provided to lower-risk youth. For these reasons, these reports include a breakdown of the levels of risk of the youth involved.

RECIDIVISM DEFINITION*

The juvenile justice community has not reached a consensus on how best to define recidivism with a single measure, so DJS captures and reports several measures. Because youth may age out of juvenile court jurisdiction during the recidivism follow-up period or be charged as adults while under 18, DJS includes information from the adult criminal justice system. Since many charges are not ultimately sustained by the juvenile court or found guilty in an adult court, DJS measures not only new arrests, but also resulting juvenile court adjudications or adult convictions and new juvenile out-of-home commitments or adult incarcerations. Maryland tracks new arrests for up to three years, but publishes rearrest rates after a one-year follow-up period, and reconviction and reincarceration with a two-year lag, to account for often lengthy court processing times. For purposes of these recidivism studies, a new arrest includes any new delinquent or criminal felony/misdemeanor offense. Not counted are status offenses, traffic citations, violations of local ordinances, and technical violations of probation that do not include a new delinquent or criminal offense. Only those new adjudications, convictions, commitments, and incarcerations that are the result of a new arrest are included, not those stemming from offenses prior to the probation or commitment treatment episode. All recidivism rates are calculated at the youth level, rather than the case level. Youth who recidivate in both juvenile and adult systems are counted only once by the first offense or arrest date during the follow-up period. It is, however, possible for a youth to appear in both the probation and committed treatment study cohorts.

RECIDIVISM OF YOUTH RELEASED FROM A COMMITTED TREATMENT PROGRAM

Youth released from out-of-home committed treatment programs are a primary focus for measuring recidivism. These data include youth who had been committed to DJS by the Maryland juvenile court for placement in an out-of-home treatment program (whether within Maryland or out of state) and who were released within the study year. Youth from outside Maryland are included if they have been committed by a Maryland court. Treatment programs ranging from foster placements to programs involving secure confinement are included, and programs may be operated by DJS or a contracted provider. New offenses that occur on the same day of commitment release while youth are in a treatment program are not counted as recidivism. Results are shown by year of new offense, level of recidivism, demographics, county, risk level, program type, and by individual program. In cases where a youth had been served by multiple programs during a commitment spell, transfers are not considered as a release, and rates are attributed to the program representing the final release.

PROBATION RECIDIVISM

This cohort includes all youth with a new juvenile probation disposition during the year. Recidivism events are tracked from the disposition date for up to three years, regardless of how long a youth remains under supervision. Results are shown by year of new offense, level of recidivism, demographics, county, and risk level.

Cohort	Definition	Clock Starts	Assigned to	Further Breakdown/Summary
Probation	Youth with a probation disposition in FY. The first probation disposition is selected if youth have more than one.	Date of probation disposition	County of jurisdiction	Year, Race, Gender, Age, County, Assessed Risk
Treatment Program	Youth released from a treatment program in FY who stayed at least 16 days	Date of final release, excluding transfers	Final program from which youth was released	Year, Race, Gender, Age, County, Program Type, Program, Assessed Risk

*Prior to 2015, date of the court action/placement was used, and non-delinquent referrals were counted. Also, the measure of probation recidivism was expanded in 2019 to include all probation cases, not just first-time dispositions. This Guide includes a five-year chart using the revised methodology for all years to show the long-term trend.

Recidivism	Definition	Date Used	Excludes	Data Source
Juvenile Arrest	Subsequent offense referred to DJS	Offense date within follow-up period	Excludes violations of probation or aftercare not involving a new delinquent offense; CINS referrals, civil citations, local ordinance violations, arrests in other states, arrests for offenses occurring prior to release, and arrests diverted by police and not referred to DJS.	DJS ASSIST
Adult Arrest	Adult arrest in Maryland	Arrest date within follow-up period	Excludes violations of probation or parole, civil citations, arrests outside of Maryland, Federal holds, arrests for offenses that occur on the same day of release from a treatment program.	CJIS
Juvenile Adjudication	Sustained delinquent adjudication included in reoffense	Offense date within follow-up period	Excludes continued cases	DJS ASSIST
Adult Conviction	Conviction on charges included in adult arrest	Arrest date within follow-up period	Same as adult arrest	CJIS
Juvenile Commitment	Committed placement stemming from offense included in reoffense and readjudication	Offense date within follow-up period	Excludes commitments not resulting in out-of-home placement	DJS ASSIST
Adult Incarceration	Conviction on charges included in adult arrest count resulting in a sentence of incarceration (or possible confinement)	Arrest date within follow-up period	Same as adult arrest	CJIS

For purposes of this Data Resource Guide, rates will be combined for the juvenile and adult system into three overall categories using juvenile and/or criminal justice recidivism measures and labeled as:

1. Rearrest
2. Reconviction
3. Reincarceration

DATA SOURCES

Information from two different databases (juvenile and adult) is retrieved, processed, and compiled for each of the selected released cohorts. Data gathering involves the following procedures:

- A list of all youth with a probation disposition or released from DJS committed residential treatment programs is obtained from the Department's ASSIST management information system.
- Master cohort files are created containing gender, race, date of birth, county of jurisdiction, and county of residence. For committed youth, the last program name and program type from which youth was released during the release cohort are also included. Risk level is added using the full MCASP assessment completed or updated closest and prior to the committed release date for committed youth, and closest to the disposition date for probation youth.
- For both committed and probation cohort files, juvenile recidivism events are added from the ASSIST database, including subsequent arrests, adjudications, and commitments. Dates of offense are used to code recidivism events as occurring one, two, and three years after release.
- Adult arrest and court disposition information is obtained from the Criminal Justice Information System (CJIS), using DJS youth name, date of birth, race, and gender as identification or index fields. These records are added to a text file and returned to DJS with the response data. Name match is as follows: Smith, Gregory will match with Smith, Gregory and Smith Greg. Smith, Greg will match with Smith, Greg and Smith, Gr, but not with Smith, Gregory. DJS youth names are given in full and checked for any abbreviation as Gr or Greg for example.
- Youth who recidivate in both systems are counted only once by the first offense or arrest date during the follow-up period.

Overall Recidivism Rates for Treatment Program Releases

6-, 12-, 24-, AND 36-MONTH JUVENILE AND/OR CRIMINAL JUSTICE RECIDIVISM RATES FOR FY 2022-2024 RELEASES

Follow-up Period	FY2022 (N=240)			FY2023 (N=232)			FY2024 (N=308)
	Rearrest	Re-conviction	Re-incarceration	Rearrest	Re-conviction	Re-incarceration	Rearrest	Re-conviction	Re-incarceration
6 Months	35.0%	10.4%	6.7%	38.8%	10.8%	6.9%	34.7%
12 Months	46.3%	15.4%	9.6%	52.2%	18.5%	12.1%	46.1%
24 Months	60.4%	23.3%	13.8%	63.8%	27.6%	17.7%
36 Months	64.6%	27.5%	16.3%

- 81.5% of youth released in FY 2023 were successful at 12 months, meaning they were not reconvicted of a new offense.

- When examining the percentages presented above, it is important to consider the number of releases. Some counties have a small number of releases; therefore, if a few youth reoffend, this can greatly impact the recidivism rate.

Note: All data represent both juvenile and/or adult recidivism. Due to methodological changes, data are not comparable to Data Resource Guides prior to FY 2015.

TREATMENT PROGRAM RELEASES BY RISK LEVEL*, FY 2021-2023 RELEASES

* Percentages for each FY may not add to 100% due to cases with missing or incomplete risk assessments. The Very High category was added in FY 2020 after the MCASP Risk & Needs Assessment was validated. All pre- and post-validation risk categories are not directly comparable due to changes in cut points. FY 2021 releases include cases with both pre- and post-validation assessments. ^In FY 2022, there were 4 releases with pre-validation assessments which are excluded from the above chart.

- Prior to validation, the highest percentage of youth fell into the high risk category. Post validation, the highest percentage of youth fell into the very high risk category in FY 2021 but since FY 2022, high risk and very high risk had the same percentage. This is especially important when considered in conjunction with the recidivism data presented in the graph below.

12-MONTH JUVENILE AND/OR CRIMINAL JUSTICE RECIDIVISM RATES BY RISK LEVEL, FY 2023 RELEASES*

*The Very High category was added in FY 2020 after the MCASP Risk & Needs Assessment was validated. All pre- and post-validation risk categories are not directly comparable due to changes in cut points.

- Youth with a very high risk has the highest rates for rearrest, were equal to those with high risk for reconviction, and were lower than high risk youth for reincarceration.

12-MONTH JUVENILE AND/OR CRIMINAL JUSTICE RECIDIVISM RATES, FY 2019-2023 RELEASES

- In recent years, reconviction and reincarceration have been relatively consistent and have decreased overall between FY 2019 and FY 2023. Rearrest rates increased between FY 2019 and FY 2023.

Due to methodological changes, recidivism data are not comparable to Data Resource Guides prior to FY 2015. Risk-level data are not comparable to previous Data Resource Guides.

Note: The probation cohort includes youth placed on probation (not youth released from probation). Therefore, recidivism is measured starting at the disposition date and may include new offenses while under supervision or after supervision.

- Some age groups are comprised of a small number of youth. Therefore, the reoffense of a few can strongly influence the overall rate. For this reason, caution should be used when attempting to compare age groups.

+Due to methodological changes, data are not comparable to Data Resource Guides prior to FY 2019. * Since the probation cohort includes youth who may not have been previously placed in a treatment program, "incarceration" reflects a subsequent commitment to an out-of-home placement or incarceration in the adult system.

- When examining the percentages presented above, it is important to consider the number of placements. Some counties have a small number of placements; therefore, if a few youth reoffend, this can greatly impact the recidivism rate.

+Due to methodological changes, data are not comparable to Data Resource Guides prior to FY 2019. * Since the probation cohort includes youth who may not have been previously placed in a treatment program, "incarceration" reflects a subsequent commitment to an out-of-home placement or incarceration in the adult system.

PROBATION YOUTH BY RISK LEVEL<sup>1</sup>, FY 2019-2023^

<sup>1</sup> Percentages for each FY may not add to 100% due to cases with missing or incomplete risk assessments. The Very High category was added in FY 2020 after the MCASP Risk & Needs Assessment was validated. All pre- and post-validation risk categories are not directly comparable due to changes in cut points.

- Post-validation, the proportion of low risk probation cases has increased while the proportion of high and very high risk cases has decreased. This is important to note as assessed risk predicts recidivism, meaning high risk youth tend to recidivate at higher rates.

12-MONTH JUVENILE AND/OR CRIMINAL JUSTICE RECIDIVISM RATES BY RISK LEVEL<sup>1</sup> FOR PROBATION YOUTH+, FY 2023^

<sup>1</sup> The Very High category was added in FY 2020 after the MCASP Risk & Needs Assessment was validated. All pre- and post-validation risk categories are not directly comparable due to changes in cut-points.

- Youth with low risk levels on the post-validation MCASP had the lowest recidivism rates for all three measures.

12-MONTH JUVENILE AND/OR CRIMINAL JUSTICE RECIDIVISM RATES FOR PROBATION YOUTH+, FY 2019-2023

- FY 2021 had the lowest rates for all three measures of recidivism rates.

+ Due to methodological changes, recidivism data are not comparable to Data Resource Guides prior to FY 2019. ^ Risk-level data are not comparable to Data Resource Guides prior to FY 2020 due to the MCASP matching methodology change. * Since the probation cohort includes youth who may not have been previously placed in a treatment program, "incarceration" reflects a subsequent commitment to an out-of-home placement or incarceration in the adult system.

Recidivism Rates for Treatment Program Releases Whose Cases Originate in Adult Court

The data on this page represent recidivism rates for youth who have been released from a committed treatment program who had any previous charge (not necessarily the charge that placed them into the treatment program) transferred from adult court jurisdiction which was found sustained by the juvenile court. These are a subset of the overall treatment program release recidivism cohort as shown in the previous section. The data sources and methodology are identical to those outlined previously.

Note: The probation cohort includes youth placed on probation (not youth released from probation). Therefore, recidivism is measured starting at the disposition date and may include new offenses while under supervision or after supervision.

- Some groups comprise a small number of youth. Therefore, the reoffense of a few can strongly influence the overall rate. For this reason, caution should be used when attempting to compare groups.

* Since the probation cohort includes youth who may not have been previously placed in a treatment program, "incarceration" reflects a subsequent commitment to an out-of-home placement or incarceration in the adult system.

Intake Reoffense Rates for Youth Diverted from Juvenile Court

The reoffending rate for youth diverted from formal juvenile court processing by DJS Intake was a new measure for the Department in FY 2023. Diverted youth may have their complaints resolved outright, often with referrals to community services, or they may be placed into a pre-court informal diversion supervision. This analysis presents the rates of return to the system following the decision to divert. It is important to remember that intake charges are alleged.

REPORTING GROUPS

The terms “reoffending” and “reoffense” are used for this post-intake follow-up measure as distinct from the term “recidivism” because charges at intake are alleged: they have not yet been brought before a judge with evidence or subjected to the standard of proof beyond a reasonable doubt. Similar to recidivism measures, reoffending post-intake is reported at the levels of rearrest, adjudication/conviction, and commitment/incarceration for any new juvenile or adult offense that occurs after the case forwarding decision date for the intake complaint, and within the follow-up period. The follow-up periods for post-intake reoffending differ from those of probation and committed treatment release cohorts because the public is often interested in what happens in the short term after DJS makes a case forwarding decision. DJS 30-, 60-, and 90-day periods are presented, as well as 6-month and 12-month follow-up periods. The follow-up period for post-intake reoffending begins at the date of case forwarding decision, which is legally required to be within 15 business days of the receipt of the complaint by DJS.

COMPLAINT-LEVEL ANALYSIS, NOT YOUTH LEVEL

The reoffending analysis has been done at the level of complaint; that is, a single youth is included in the cohort more than once if they have multiple intakes that occurred within the fiscal year, and the follow-up period after case forwarding decision is checked for another arrest (and subsequent adjudication/conviction and commitment/incarceration) for each time that youth was at intake. Thus, the measure counts the rate of successes by complaint but does not show a success rate by youth — compared to a youth-level lens this analysis gives a heavier weight to the small number of youth who offend multiple times.

CAUTION IN COMPARISON

As with recidivism outcomes for probation and treatment program cohorts, it is difficult to make direct comparisons between cases diverted and cases formally referred to court. The DJS case forwarding decision process, informed by the Intake Decision Tool (IDT), intentionally selects which youth are best suited for case closure, informal, and formal processing based on risk and individual circumstances. Research indicates that unnecessary formal court processing, especially for low-risk youth, can encourage reoffending. For higher-risk youth, more formal accountability and rehabilitation may be needed — and in that case, the structure and services are intended to lower the number of youth who reoffend. In neither case do these reoffending numbers tell us what would have happened if that group of youth had received a different response to the complaint.

DJS Youth Development Outcomes

Although recidivism has historically been the primary measure of success in juvenile justice systems, DJS recognizes that other important outcomes exist, including high school completion, postsecondary enrollment and completion, employment, and earnings. These outcomes align with the DJS principle of approaching its work through the lens of positive youth development and resiliency. A national body of research has demonstrated, for example, that education is one of the strongest contributors in reducing recidivism.

An important step toward measuring these positive youth outcomes among DJS youth occurred in 2019 with the passage of House Bill 704 by the Maryland State Assembly. This legislation made DJS a partner in the Maryland Longitudinal Data Systems (MLDS) Center. State law established the MLDS Center in 2010 to serve as a central repository for education and workforce data. The Center collects and organizes individual-level student and employment data from all levels of education – elementary, secondary, and postsecondary – and the state’s workforce. The Center’s data dashboards and annual reports provide information about student performance and workforce earnings that can help improve the state’s education system and provide guidance to policymakers.

Becoming a partner to the MLDS Center better enables DJS to measure outcomes beyond recidivism for youth who have been involved in the juvenile justice system. Outcomes of interest include high school completion, postsecondary enrollment and completion, and median quarterly employment earnings.

Methodology

The analysis examined the high school completion, postsecondary enrollment, and labor market earnings of youth who have been involved with DJS. For the purposes of this analysis, DJS involvement means adjudicated youth who have been placed on probation or in a committed treatment facility. The involvement with DJS could have occurred before or during high school. To prepare for the outcomes analysis, research staff from DJS and the MLDS Center met to discuss specifications of the work. MLDS analysts extracted and summarized the data, then provided summary tables to DJS research staff for further analysis.

The analysis sought to examine the following outcomes:

1. High school completion and dropout rates
2. College enrollment and completion of a degree by age 25
3. Median quarterly earnings by age 25

High School Completion and Dropout Rates

To examine high school completion, MLDS analysts examined ninth grade cohorts of youth with DJS involvement prior to or after ninth grade. A cohort refers to a group of students who began ninth grade for the first time in a particular school year. A typical cohort would complete high school in four years. For example, students in the graduating class of 2020 were first-time ninth graders in the 2016-2017 school year. The analysis defined DJS involvement as youth who had been either placed on probation or in a committed treatment program (includes DJS-operated and private/contract provider programs).

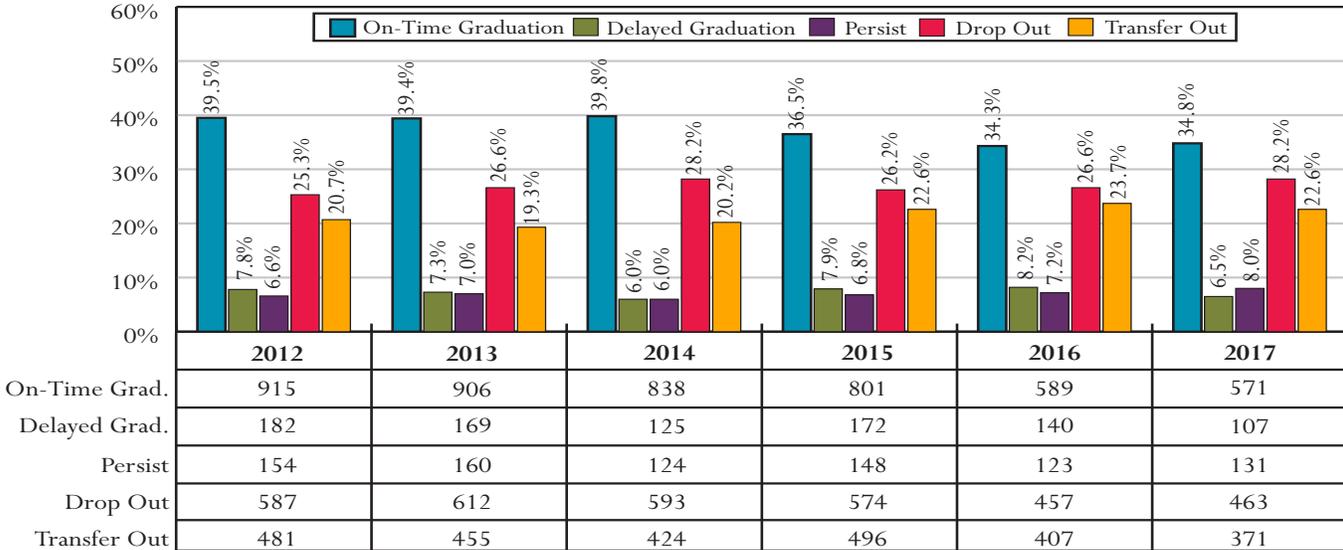

Examining six cohorts of youth (high school graduating classes of 2016 through 2021, or 9th grade cohorts of 2012 through 2017), the analysis sought to answer what percentage of youth completed high school on time (4 years) or delayed (5 or 6 years). High school completion includes graduation with a diploma or completion of a GED.

In addition to high school completion, the analysis examined persistence, dropout, and transfer rates. Persistence refers to cohort members who continued in a Maryland public high school five or more years after beginning ninth grade, without graduating or dropping out. A dropout refers to a youth who exited a Maryland public high school without graduating. A transfer refers to a youth who exited a Maryland public high school without graduating and who has an exit code of transfer.

The data provided by the MLDS Center have limitations, however. The MLDS Center does not contain data on Maryland private high schools, out-of-state high schools, or out-of-state GED or National External Diploma Program (NEDP) completions. NEDP is a high school diploma program for adults and youth who have left school. It is possible that some youth involved with DJS who were reported as dropouts graduated or earned a GED/NEDP out of state. DJS-involved youth who earned a certificate of high school completion are excluded from this analysis because of low numbers overall. A certificate of high school completion is awarded when a student completes a special education program but does not fulfill the requirements for a high school diploma.

College Enrollment and Completion of a Degree by Age 25

The MLDS Center evaluates college enrollment and graduation using two main data sources. The Maryland Higher Education Commission (MHEC) provides data on enrollment and graduation from Maryland’s community colleges, four-year public institutions, and state-aided independent institutions. The National Student Clearinghouse, based in Herndon, VA, provides data on enrollment and graduation from out-of-state public colleges and universities, as well as in-state private colleges and universities.

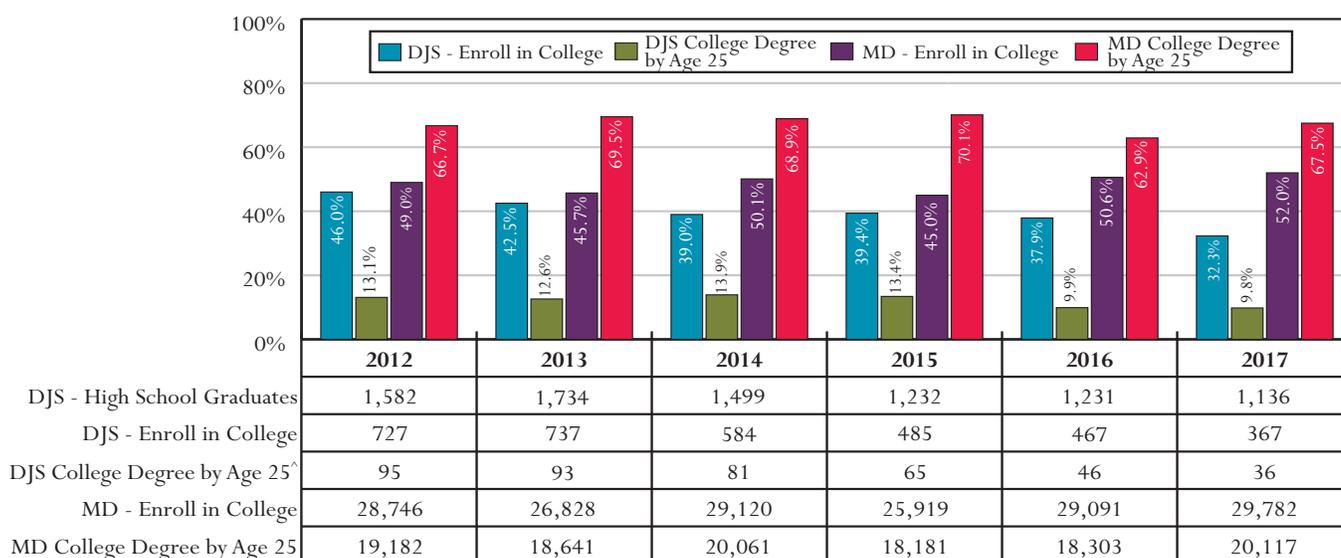

The analysis reports college degree attainment by the age of 25, which is approximately seven years following graduation from high school. A high school graduate is defined as any student who earns a high school diploma from a Maryland public high school by the age of 21 or who completes high school in Maryland through GED or NEDP by age 21. The analysis accounts not only for students who enroll in college immediately after graduating high school, but also those who delay enrollment up to two years after high school completion.

A college degree is defined as a postsecondary certificate, or an associate’s, bachelor’s, or master’s degree, or higher. Some students could have earned more than one degree by age 25. Other students who earned a degree by age 25 may still be enrolled in college pursuing an additional postsecondary degree. Students reported as “Some College, But No College Degree by Age 25” may be actively pursuing a degree at age 25 or earn a degree after age 25.

The charts report college enrollment and completion rates for youth who were involved with DJS (either probation or commitment) and who completed high school, based on the year of high school completion. For comparison, the chart includes statewide college enrollment and completion rates.

The 12th grade cohorts for 2013 and later include reporting periods impacted by the COVID-19 closures that began in March 2020. Stay-at-home orders, college closures, distance education, and required quarantining may have impacted college enrollment and graduation.

Median Quarterly Wages

The MLDS Center collects and analyzes workforce data from quarterly Unemployment Insurance (UI) wage reports beginning in 2008 for individuals with a Maryland education record. Consequently, earnings data are available only for Marylanders who work for an in-state employer required to file UI. This means wage data would not include employers who are not required to file UI, such as the federal government (including the armed forces), some non-profit organizations, and self-employed individuals and independent contractors. Individuals working in temporary employment, including postsecondary work-study programs, also are not subject to UI filings. These omissions mean it is incorrect to assume that individuals not counted as “employed” in these analyses are unemployed.

The UI wages reported reflect the compensation paid during the quarter, not when the compensation was earned. UI wages reflect the sum of all forms of compensation, including wages, bonuses, tips, commissions, and others. The wage data do not distinguish among full- and part-time employment, hourly and salaried earnings, regular wages and commissions, bonuses, and other incentive pay. The wage data do not indicate the number or days or hours a person worked in a particular fiscal quarter. UI filings for a given quarter may be incomplete. Employers may have filed UI wages after the data have been transmitted to the MLDS Center or have omitted individuals from their files. Missing wage data and/or corrections to previously reported wages may be provided in subsequent fiscal quarters. Although there is no time limit on correcting UI filings, most changes are completed within one fiscal quarter.

The charts that follow display the median quarterly wages for cohorts of former DJS youth – probation and committed – who have reached the age of 25. The chart includes high school completion year and postsecondary education status (college degree by age 25, some college but no degree by age 25, and no college by age 25), along with the quarterly living wage in Maryland. The majority of high school graduates are 18; however, some high school graduates may be younger or older. Degree attainment and wages for these graduates are evaluated six years after graduation, making some graduates older or younger than 25 when reporting college degree attainment and earnings.

Wage figures are based on average quarterly earnings, and the living wage for the year a youth would reach the age of 25. For example, an adjudicated youth who graduated high school in 2015 would reach the age of 25 in 2022. It is also important to note that the data are not in 2025 inflation-adjusted dollars. They are contemporaneous to the year in which the wage data are reported. As previously stated, this is not the same as the high school completion year.

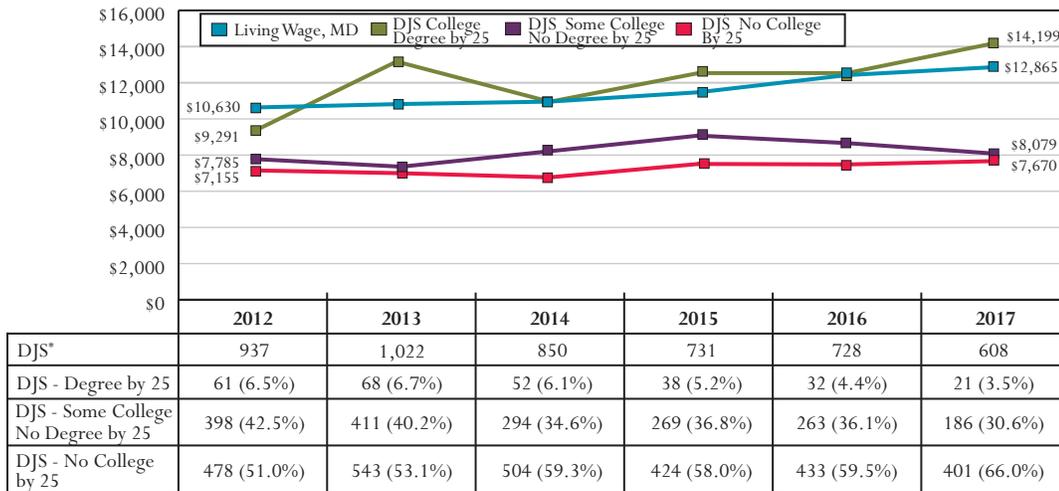

Living wage figures are based on the Massachusetts Institute of Technology’s living wage calculator, which includes data on living costs in geographic areas of the United States. The calculator incorporates the cost of housing, food, health insurance, taxes, transportation, clothing and other personal items to derive the minimum annual income needed for basic self-sufficiency. For example, the living wage for a single adult with no dependent children in Maryland was $51,460 a year in inflation-adjusted dollars in 2024, or $12,865 per quarter.

A college degree is defined as a postsecondary certificate, or an associate’s, bachelor’s, or master’s degree, or higher. Some students could have earned more than one degree by age 25. Other students who earned a degree by age 25 may still be enrolled in college pursuing an additional postsecondary degree. Students reported as “Some College, No Degree by Age 25” may be actively pursuing a degree at age 25 or earn a degree after age 25.

The earnings data reported here include wage periods that were impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. Additionally, the data include wage periods that may be impacted by the distribution of funds under the CARES Act and the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP). It is possible that some wage data reported through UI reflect monies paid under CARES or PPP for employment retention during the state of emergency in Maryland rather than wages paid for work. These monies may or may not be equal to the wages that would have typically been paid. Further, the monies paid in one fiscal quarter may include amounts from more than one fiscal quarter as monies may have been paid in arrears due to the lag time between an employer filing for CARES and PPP funding and receiving CARES and PPP funds to distribute. It should also be noted that CARES and PPP did not require employers to report these monies through the UI system; therefore some graduates in this report may have received CARES and PPP monies that were not reported in UI.

Finally, due to the emergency orders in place in 2020 and 2021, many employers were unable to complete UI wage filings as scheduled. Delays in filing may decrease wage visibility temporarily while employers work to complete their UI filings.

MEDIAN QUARTERLY WAGES AT AGE 25 FOR FORMER DJS YOUTH BY EDUCATION STATUS AND HS COMPLETION YEAR

* Number of youth in a DJS cohort who had a wage record in the MLDS system by age 25. UI wage data are available only for Maryland employees who work for an in-state employer required to file UI. Examples of employers that are not required to file UI include the federal government (including the military), certain non-profits, and self-employed and independent contractors. Because of these omissions, it is incorrect to assume that youth who are not visible in the wage data are unemployed.

Workforce Earnings for DJS Youth Graduates vs. Dropouts

Years of research have consistently demonstrated that youth who do not complete a high school diploma have lower workforce earnings compared to their peers who graduate. The chart below demonstrates this, comparing median quarterly earnings by age 25 for DJS youth who dropped out of high school, compared with those of DJS youth who went on to complete a high school diploma or GED. Cohorts are based on the year in which students began ninth grade and the corresponding expected high school graduation year. For example, students who began ninth grade in 2012 would have an expected graduation year of 2016.

The COVID-19 pandemic and the resulting economic shutdowns that occurred in 2020 and 2021 affected the visibility of UI wage data, resulting in lower numbers of youth with earnings records.

MEDIAN QUARTERLY EARNINGS FOR HS GRADUATES AND DROPOUTS WITH DJS COMMITMENT OR PROBATION RECORDS, BY EXPECTED HS COMPLETION YEAR^

* Number of youth in a DJS cohort who had a wage record in the MLDS system by age 25. UI wage data are available only for Maryland employees who work for an in-state employer required to file UI. Examples of employers that are not required to file UI include the federal government (including the military), certain non-profits, and self-employed and independent contractors. Because of these omissions, it is incorrect to assume that youth who are not visible in the wage data are unemployed.

^ It is important to note that 2020 and 2021 were heavily impacted by COVID-19 shutdowns, stay at home orders, business closures, emergency orders, etc. All of these affected the filing of UI reports, which limits the availability of wage data.

*"Per Diem Rates" are presented for privately-operated programs that DJS reimburses for service using a single rate. Rates are not presented for programs that are funded in whole or in part by other sources such as private health care insurance or Medicaid. Psychiatric Hospitals are excluded as a class for this reason. Rates for in-state Residential Treatment Centers are based on 4 of 5 programs utilized by DJS during the fiscal year.

** Note that educational costs are not included in the per diem rates. Educational costs may vary within a program depending on the combination of services provided (e.g., regular education versus special education) and the educational needs of youth placed in the program.

*** Note that the average per diem rate should not be used to calculate the total cost by program type given the range of per diem rates. The average per diem rate does not take into account individual program utilization and the total cost may vary substantially based on the number of youth who actually participate in each program.

^ Note that Treatment Foster Care and Independent Living rates are included, summarizing rates for existing contracts, though there were no youth in these placements during the fiscal year.

<sup>1</sup> The proportions of age ranges 11-14 and 15-17 have been computed from the population by age (single year), race and ethnicity for Maryland. The proportions were then applied to estimate each jurisdiction's/county's pop, from the population by age (5-year age group), race and ethnicity of Maryland jurisdictions.

Note: Estimates with fractional values are rounded to whole numbers; therefore, totals may not sum exactly.

RELATIVE RATE INDEX (RRI)

The Relative Rate Index (RRI) is a measure of Disproportionate Minority Contact (DMC) with the juvenile justice system. It is a standardized tool for measuring how youth of color compare with white youth at various contact points (court referral, diversion, etc.). The RRI was developed by the National Center for Juvenile Justice, with funding from the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP), part of the Office of Justice Programs within the U.S. Department of Justice.

DEFINITIONS FOR KEY CONTACT POINTS

The definitions below describe each key contact point included in the tables that follow, along with a brief explanation of each point. Understanding each contact point and how it is defined in the calculations will provide the basis for proper interpretation of the rates. Though not a 'contact point,' the general youth population is included because it is a key data point for calculating the rate of contact.

Contact Point	Definition
Population	Population of youth ages 11-17 as of July 2024. Source: MD Dept. of Planning. Note: DJS uses 11-17 as a population denominator due to the low number of cases under 11.
Referrals to Juvenile Court/Intake	Juvenile complaints referred to DJS intake, from police or other sources, including delinquent & non-delinquent offenses, recorded in ASSIST. Rate is based on youth in the general population.
Diversion	Complaints diverted by DJS Intake (resolved or informally adjusted to pre-court supervision) without formal petition. Rate is per referral.
Detention	Cases resulting in pre-disposition detention. Rate is per referral.
Petitioned	Complaints resulting in juvenile court petitions. Rate is per referral.
Delinquent	Complaints resulting in delinquent findings. Rate is per petition.
Probation	Probation dispositions. Rate is per delinquent finding.
Confinement	Youth placed in hardware-secure state-operated treatment programs or staff- and hardware-secure private out-of-state programs. Rate is per delinquent finding.
Transferred	Juvenile petitions waived up to adult court. Does not include charges under original adult jurisdiction. Rate is per delinquent finding.

The data presented here show the RRI for youth of color compared to white youth. The RRI for each decision point is based on the number of youth of each race/ethnicity represented at that point compared with the number at the previous decision point.

- Statistically significant results are shown in red.
- Insufficient number of cases for analysis are shown as **; an RRI of 1.0 indicates no disproportional contact. A rate higher than 1.0 indicates that youth of color are over-represented at that decision point, and a rate below 1.0 shows they are under-represented.

* Cases diverted include pre-court supervision and resolved at intake.

- This table calculates the rate of DJS contact for all youth at each stage, compared with the general population (Census ages 11-17). For example, for every 100,000 youth in Baltimore City, there were 749.7 youth detained pre-d, and in Prince George's County there were 129.7 youth detained per 100,000 youth.

Appendix G

CRIMES OF VIOLENCE

The definition of “crimes of violence” is found in the Maryland Annotated Code, Cr. Law Art. § 14-101*. Maryland Annotated Code, Criminal Law Article, Section 14-101 provides a list of crimes identified as crimes of violence. In this section, “crime of violence” means: (1) abduction; (2) arson in the first degree; (3) kidnapping; (4) manslaughter, except involuntary manslaughter; (5) mayhem; (6) maiming, as previously proscribed under former Article 27, §§ 385 and 386 of the Code; (7) murder; (8) rape; (9) robbery under §3-402 or §3-403 of this article; (10) carjacking; (11) armed carjacking; (12) sexual offense in the first degree; (13) sexual offense in the second degree; (14) use of a firearm in the commission of a felony except possession with intent to distribute a controlled dangerous substance under §5-602(2) of this article, or other crime of violence; (15) child abuse in the first degree under §3-601 of this article; [16] Not applicable to youth offenders]; (17) home invasion under §6-202(b) of this article; (18) a felony offense under Title 3, Subtitle 11 of this article; (19) an attempt to commit any of the crimes described in items (1) through (18) of this subsection; (20) continuing course of conduct with a child under §3-315 of this article; (21) assault in the first degree; (22) assault with intent to murder; (23) assault with intent to rape; (24) assault with intent to rob; (25) assault with intent to commit a sexual offense in the first degree; and (26) assault with intent to commit a sexual offense in the second degree.

**The Maryland State Commission on Criminal Sentencing Policy uses the definition found in the Maryland Annotated Code, Correctional Services Article, Section 7-101(m), which defines “violent crimes” as the offenses listed under CR §14-101 and adds burglary 1, 2, and 3. However, Section 7-101(m) pertains only to individuals sentenced in the adult court. DJS used this expanded definition through November 1, 2024. As of November 1, 2024 DJS adopted CR § 14-101 as its official definition of crimes of violence.*

PEACE ORDERS

A peace order is a court order that requires an individual to stay away from and refrain from contacting another individual. Peace orders can be requested if an individual has been subjected to abuse, assault, rape or other sexual offense, false imprisonment, harassment, stalking, trespassing, or malicious destruction of property. Other grounds include misuse of telephone facilities and equipment, misuse of electronic communication or interactive computer service, revenge porn, or visual surveillance. Peace orders involving juvenile respondents are requested through the DJS Intake Office in the jurisdiction where the alleged offense occurred, and must be requested within 30 days of the act described on the complaint. If DJS Intake or the State's Attorney files a request for a juvenile peace order, a petition is prepared and sent to the court. The court will set a hearing date, and a judge will decide whether to grant a peace order against a juvenile. If granted, a peace order can be in effect for up to 6 months.

++ The MD State Commission on Criminal Sentencing Policy assigns each offense a seriousness category (ranging from I to VII) for purposes of MD sentencing guidelines. The guidelines distinguish person, property, and drug offenses and utilize a separate sentencing matrix for each offense type. The DJS Offense Severity score ranges from 1 to 5, with 1 designating the most serious criminal offenses. The score is based on a combination of MD sentencing guidelines seriousness category and offense type designation (person, property, or drug).

ANNOTATED LIST OF ASSESSMENTS

The following represents a list of forms/tools that were previously published in the Data Resource Guide. A summary is provided for each, and the forms/tools can be accessed online at: <https://djs.maryland.gov/Pages/DRG-Forms.aspx>

1. Housing Classification Assessment and Reassessment

The DJS Housing Classification Assessment is completed for each youth upon admission to a DJS detention facility and/or treatment program. The Assessment gives guidance towards the appropriate unit or room assignment that best meets the supervision level required for each individual youth.

2. Youth Vulnerability Assessment

The Youth Vulnerability Assessment tool is used at admission to detention and/or treatment programs to assess a youth's risk of being victimized sexually or being sexually aggressive towards others.

3. Human Trafficking Tier One Screening Tool

This tool is used to identify youth within the DJS system who are at high risk of trafficking victimization and flag them for additional assessment and services. Developed in partnership with TurnAround, Inc., and revised in collaboration with the University of Maryland's Support, Advocacy, Freedom, and Empowerment (SAFE) Center for Human Trafficking Survivors, the Tier One tool is an 11-item questionnaire administered to youth by DJS facility intake staff and case management specialists (CMS) to help identify potential victims of both sex and/or labor trafficking. The tool is one part of a screening process in which the tool is administered by DJS staff and then reviewed by an anti-trafficking service provider.

4. Racial Impact Assessment Lens

The Racial Impact Assessment Lens (RIAL) is a tool used by the DJS to advance racial equity. Updated for 2026, the RIAL helps DJS leaders and staff identify and address the disparate and adverse impacts of agency policies and practices on youth of color. It guides practitioners to meaningfully engage stakeholders, reduce systemic harm, and promote equitable outcomes. The DJS Office of Equity and Inclusion (OEI) provides technical assistance to ensure consistent application of the RIAL and effective integration of equity principles into daily practice.

5. Re-Entry Checklists (Pre-Discharge and Post-Discharge)

The Re-Entry Checklists are used by DJS case managers as part of the structured re-entry planning process. The Pre-Discharge checklist is completed as part of the re-entry staffing process, prior to release from a committed treatment program. It ensures that key items are accounted for and documented, including living arrangement, education or job readiness plans, and plans to address medical or mental health needs. The Post-Discharge checklist is completed 30 days after release and is designed to capture information on whether the youth was successfully connected to needed somatic or mental health services, education enrollment or employment, and other needed services.

6. Accountability Incentives Management (AIM)

The AIM grids are designed to structure case manager decisions when responding to positive or negative behaviors of supervised youth. The Graduated Responses grid determines incentives when youth are successfully engaging in supervision and achieving significant positive milestones in treatment, education and the community as well as responses based on the level of infractions balanced with their identified risk level. This structured process supports the Department's efforts to reward positive behaviors, while objectively identifying and sanctioning violations, which reduces inequalities and increases successful completion rates.

Appendix R

TERMS AND CONCEPTS

Absent Without Leave (AWOL): A condition describing a youth who absconds from a non-secure residential program.

Accountability, Confidence, Communication, Economic self-sufficiency, Skills training, & Success (ACCESS): A program providing intensive supervision support from credible messengers for youth who are placed by the courts in the community while their cases are pending. This was formerly known as the Detention Diversion Advocacy Program (DDAP).

ACCUPLACER: A post-secondary assessment given by JSEP to help colleges assess student readiness for introductory credit-bearing courses and make reliable placement decisions for students.

Accountability Incentives Management (AIM): A structured statewide system of responses to deter negative behaviors and encourage positive behaviors of youth under court-ordered community supervision. AIM seeks to reduce technical violations of supervision by ensuring certain, fair, and immediate responses to youth behavior to promote successful completion of supervision.

Adjudicatory Hearing: A proceeding before a juvenile judge or magistrate to determine whether allegations made against a youth are true. If the allegations concerning the commitment of a delinquent act are found to be “facts sustained,” the youth may be adjudicated delinquent.

Admission: See definitions for “commitment versus placement” and “placement versus admission.”

Aftercare: Supervision and individualized treatment services provided to youth in the community following discharge from a residential program. A youth is assigned an aftercare worker at the time of commitment.

Alternatives to Detention (ATD): Community-based program options that provide structured supervision and accountability of youth who would otherwise be detained pending adjudicatory hearings in the juvenile court.

ASSIST: The Automated Statewide System of Information Support Tools used as the DJS client database from 1999-present.

Average Daily Population (ADP): Daily population of youth averaged over the number of days in a given time period.

Average Length of Stay (ALOS): Average total number of days per youth in placement, generally residential, between admission and release. Youth detained in more than one facility during a contiguous stay are counted as a single placement. For youth in committed treatment facilities who are temporarily quarantined in another facility, those days are “credited” to their original facility length of stay.

Career and Technical Education (CTE): CTE courses prepare students for in-demand, high-skilled, and high-waged jobs. CTE courses allow students to earn industry-recognized certificates, earn credits toward graduation, and gain work experience.

Case Management Specialist (CMS): DJS staff who provides case management services to youth in community and residential settings. Case managers provide supervision, develop treatment plans, link youth with necessary resources and services, monitor progress, and modify treatment plans as needed.

Central Review Committee (CRC): A committee that convenes weekly to hear case reviews of youth at risk of removal from a committed treatment placement, direct changes in the youths’ provision of services, and make youth placement transfer decisions. Members include the Directors of the Behavioral Health and Resource Offices, the Executive Directors of Residential Placements and Community Supervision, and a representative from the Maryland State Department of Education (MSDE).

Certificate of Placement (COP): The document that reflects a youth’s placement location, services, and authorizes service payment.

Child in Need of Assistance (CINA): A youth who is found by the court to require court intervention, such as removal from the home and placement with a foster family or relative, because of abuse or neglect by a parent, guardian, or other person responsible for their care.

Child in Need of Supervision (CINS): A youth who is found by the court to need guidance, treatment, or rehabilitation because the youth committed an offense applicable only to children, is habitually truant, a runaway, poses a risk of injury to themselves or others, or is ungovernable (See definition for “Ungovernable”).

Cognitive Behavioral Theory: The theory that people’s thoughts, feelings, and actions affect each other cyclically and can sometimes keep people stuck in unhelpful patterns. The applied theory helps people identify patterns and learn skills to disrupt them. Use of

Cognitive Behavioral Theory in treatment has been shown by research to reduce violence; help people cope with trauma, anxiety, and depression; and ultimately prevent crime by changing the lives of youth involved in gangs, gun violence, and substance abuse.

Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (CBT): A problem-focused, evidence-based form of treatment that puts into practice Cognitive Behavioral Theory.

Commission on Juvenile Justice Reform and Emerging and Best Practices: A statewide commission to review and report on juvenile services, facilities, and programs in Maryland. Authorized by 2024 legislation, the commission is housed within the Governor’s Office of Crime Prevention and Policy. In addition to reviewing and reporting on juvenile services and facilities, the 26-member commission is charged with reviewing programs to divert children from the juvenile justice system; support programming for girls in the juvenile justice system; and oversee the use of child-in-need-of-supervision petitions, the number of petitions authorized or denied by jurisdiction, and wait times for placement of children in facilities.

Commitment versus Placement: A youth adjudicated as delinquent by the juvenile court may receive a disposition for commitment, which is a court order placing a delinquent youth in the Department’s care, which allows for placement into an out-of-home treatment program. In some cases, services may instead be provided in the child’s home, so not all committed youth are placed out of home. Those who are may wait some weeks in a detention facility pending placement; therefore, the date of committed disposition and of placement may differ. A placement to an out-of-home program could also be the result of multiple commitments - a youth may be committed on multiple charges - and a youth may be admitted to several programs under a single commitment order. Thus, the number of committed dispositions will not equal the number of placements or admissions to treatment programs.

Community Assistance for the Release Eligible (CARE): A new program that will work with system-involved youth who are neither detained nor placed on community detention to support them and their families and provide service referrals and courses to prepare students for in-demand, high-skilled, and high-waged jobs.

Community Detention (CD): A DJS program that monitors a delinquent child or a child alleged to be delinquent who is placed in the home of a parent, guardian, custodian, other fit person, or in shelter care, as a condition of probation or as an alternative to detention (ATD). Community detention often includes electronic monitoring (EM).

Complaint: A written statement made to a DJS intake officer by an individual, police agency, or another agency that alleges that a youth (or more than one youth) has committed one or more delinquent acts or is a runaway, truant, ungovernable, or a danger to self or others and may be subject to juvenile court jurisdiction. A complaint may also be referred to as an intake case and is an important unit of analysis in this Data Resource Guide.

Comprehensive Treatment Model (CTM): A DJS policy developed to better match treatment services and length of stay to youth needs. Implemented in 2023, CTM seeks to enhance the youth’s experience within residential treatment programs and increase community success.

Court Remand for Informal Action (CRIA): A petition forwarded to the juvenile court that is returned to DJS Intake with the consent of all parties prior to an adjudicatory hearing, allowing it to be handled informally as a pre-court case. At the conclusion of the pre-court supervision, the court is notified of the outcome and either dismisses or continues the proceedings.

Credible Messengers: Persons with lived experiences who, paired with case managers, serve as life coaches to youth. Credible messengers are utilized in several programs, including the Thrive Academy and the ACCESS program.

Crimes of Violence (COV): Offenses designated as crimes of violence in Maryland’s Annotated Code, Criminal Justice Article, §14-101 (see Appendix G for more detail). These include primarily felony offenses, but also some misdemeanors.

Crossover Youth Practice Model (CYPM): A program to coordinate casework of youth who are dually involved in both the juvenile justice system and the child welfare system and to foster increased communication and collaboration between the staff members of DJS and local Department of Social Services (DSS). DJS partnered with Georgetown University to implement the CYPM in Prince George’s County in 2015. Since then, the model is being slowly rolled out in other Maryland counties.

TERMS AND CONCEPTS

Delinquent Act: An act which would be a crime if committed by an adult.

Delinquent Child: A child who has committed a delinquent act according to the decision of a judge or magistrate and requires guidance, treatment, or rehabilitation.

Detention: The temporary care of youth who, pending court dispositions and other hearings, require secure custody for the protection of themselves or the community, in physically restricting facilities or circumstances. A youth may be detained if a court determines that they might fail to appear for a future hearing, continue to break the law, or pose a threat to the public or themselves. Detention may be utilized pending a court hearing or after disposition. A youth's detention status is generally required to be reviewed every 14 days.

Detention Hearing: A court proceeding to determine whether a youth shall be placed in or continue in detention. This decision is separate and distinct from the decision on whether to proceed with any relevant charges.

Detention Risk Assessment Instrument (DRAI): A statistically validated assessment of a youth's risk to reoffend and/or fail to appear for future court dates used to guide whether the youth should be detained, placed in a detention alternative, or released to a parent/guardian. The DRAI was revalidated and the revised tool has been in place since February 1, 2025.

Dialectical Behavioral Therapy (DBT): An evidence-based, cognitive behavioral intervention that helps individuals learn how to better manage negative emotions, reduce impulsive and other negative behaviors, improve relationships, and improve the quality of their lives. DBT has four components: mindfulness, distress tolerance, emotion regulation, and interpersonal effectiveness and involves a combination of individual therapy, skills groups, and coaching. DBT is the linchpin treatment modality in DJS facilities as part of CTM.

Direct Care Staff: An employee whose primary duty is to provide direct supervision of youth.

Disposition: The decision made by the juvenile court that outlines whether the youth requires guidance, treatment, or rehabilitation and, if so, the nature of such assistance, e.g., probation terms or commitment. (Note: In adult courts, this is known as a "sentence.")

Disproportionate Minority Contact (DMC): A rate of contact with the juvenile justice system or a point within the juvenile justice system among youth of a specific minority group that is significantly different from the rate of contact for whites (i.e., non-Hispanic White) or for other minority groups (See RRI definition).

Diversion: A program or practice where the primary goal is to reduce the occurrence of juvenile delinquency by diverting a youth from the traditional juvenile justice system and providing an alternative to formal processing. Diversion may occur at various stages: Youth may be diverted from a formal juvenile complaint (e.g., by law enforcement), diverted from formal court processing by DJS intake, or diverted from out-of-home placement by the juvenile court.

Electronic Monitoring (EM): The use of a device to provide close monitoring of youth in the community as an alternative to residential placement/detention. Youth wear an ankle bracelet that electronically monitors their movement and compliance with established location parameters.

Escape: Absconding from a secure DJS treatment program (including Youth Centers), detention facility, or Community Detention.

Evening Reporting Center (ERC): A program that serves youth as an alternative to detention. Youth are required to report daily, and the program includes transportation, meals, and enrichment activities. ERC ensures that youth are monitored and get back to court for hearings.

Expungement: The removal of court or police records from public inspection. In Maryland, a person may ask a court to expunge a juvenile record under certain criteria including: at least 2 years have passed, the person has been adjudicated delinquent one time or fewer, and the offense is not a felony or sex offense. The juvenile expungement process includes notice to the victim(s) and the opportunity for the State's Attorney and victim(s) to object to the petition. More information is available at <https://mdcourts.gov/family/juvrecordexpungement>.

Evidence-Based Services (EBS): Programs that have been found to be effective based on the results of rigorous evaluations.

Family Centered Treatment (FCT): A trauma treatment model of home-based therapy designed for families who are at risk of dissolution or in need of reunification. It is also designed to serve youth who move among the child welfare, behavioral health, and juvenile justice systems. During treatment, FCT practitioners aim to help families identify their core emotional issues, identify functions of behaviors in a family systems context, change the emotional tone and behavioral interaction patterns among family members, and develop secure relationships by strengthening attachment bonds.

Family Engagement: Family engagement in youth justice involves collaborative work relationships in which families partner with public agency officials to plan and implement treatment for system-involved youth, as well as provide insight about the policies, programs, and practices of the system that improve outcomes for youth and families.

Family Peer Support Initiative: A program that connects DJS youth and families at any stage of DJS contact with a family peer support specialist who has had previous experience with the juvenile justice system. Family peer support specialists help guide a family through the juvenile justice process, connect families to community-based services, and increase family empowerment. The program began in 2018 in Baltimore City and Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Prince George's, and Wicomico counties.

Family Therapy: A type of behavioral health intervention designed to identify and address family patterns and issues that affect the functioning of the family as a whole, and individual family members. These may include behavioral patterns and issues, mental health and substance use issues, patterns and styles of communication, as well as family transitions and changes.

Felony vs. Misdemeanor: In Maryland a crime is either a felony or a misdemeanor. (Crime of violence is a separate designation independent of felony/misdemeanor status). Generally, felonies are the more serious of these two types of crimes. However, there is no clear line for determining whether a crime is a felony or misdemeanor based on the statutory maximum penalty associated with the offense. Unless specified in a statute or the offense was a felony at common law, a crime is considered a misdemeanor. Most statutes specify whether a crime is a misdemeanor or a felony. Common law crimes retain common law grades as either felonies or misdemeanors unless changed through the legislative process. The General Assembly may choose to label a statutory crime a felony or misdemeanor independent of the amount of punishment the statute provides. The General Assembly may also choose to change the status of a crime from a misdemeanor to a felony or a felony to a misdemeanor.

Fiscal Year (FY): The time period measured from July 1 of one year to June 30 of the following year. FY 2025 runs from July 1, 2024 through June 30, 2025.

For Authorization of Formal Petition (FAFP): A decision by a DJS intake officer to authorize the State's Attorney to petition the court for formal processing of a juvenile complaint.

Functional Family Therapy (FFT - an EBS): An outcome-driven prevention/intervention program for youth demonstrating the entire range of maladaptive behaviors such as delinquency, violence, substance use, Conduct Disorder, Oppositional Defiant Disorder, or Disruptive Behavior Disorder. Flexible delivery of service is provided by one- or two-person teams to clients in home, clinic, school, juvenile court, community-based programs, and at re-entry from institutional placement.

General Educational Development (GED): A four-subject high school equivalency test that measures skills required by high schools. The four subjects are science, social studies, math, and reasoning through language arts. A Maryland High School Diploma is awarded to those passing all four modules of the GED tests. JSEP affords all students the opportunity, when appropriate, to obtain a diploma by exam. JSEP has Pearson Virtual University Enterprises (VUE) GED labs at the Charles H. Hickey School and Green Ridge Youth Center. Testers are limited to three tests per module per calendar year. If additional retests are needed, the tester must wait until January 1 next year to schedule retest(s).

Global Positioning System (GPS): A global navigation satellite system that provides location and time information for youth monitored with a global positioning system receiver.

Group Home: A residential program licensed by DHS, DJS, or MDH to provide 24-hour supervised out-of-home care for 4 or more youth providing a formal program of basic care, social work, and health care services.

Hardware Secure Facility: A facility that relies primarily on the use of construction and hardware such as locks, bars, and fences to restrict freedom.

TERMS AND CONCEPTS

Individual Learning Plan (ILP): A document initiated when a student enters a JSEP school. An ILP documents needs, goals, and challenges to be met to reach educational and career goals. The ILP details courses, preparations, and activities needed for high school graduation, vocational training, or college coursework and is updated every 30 calendar days to reflect ongoing needs and progress. The ILP's development is based on student input and is shared with families and the local school district. The document is also used for students' transition back to a community school.

Informal Supervision: See definition for "Pre-Court Supervision."

Innovation Teams: A 2023 initiative to improve climate and culture of DJS facilities from within. Innovation Teams have a multi-layered organizational structure, including staff and youth from each facility. With guidance from youth, families, staff and external partners, teams analyze, inform, and influence policy, practice, and culture, and champion creativity throughout the change process.

Intake: The process for reviewing a complaint against a youth and determining whether the juvenile court has jurisdiction and whether judicial action is in the best interest of the public and/or the youth. During intake, youth and their family may be offered services. DJS has statutory authority to screen all juvenile complaints referred.

Juvenile Court: A division of the Circuit Court in Maryland that hears cases for youth under age 18 accused of qualifying offenses or with a CINS petition.

Juvenile Detention Alternatives Initiative (JDAI): A best practice model of the Annie E. Casey Foundation that addresses inappropriate and unnecessary use of detention and reduces the failures of juveniles to appear in court. A primary goal of JDAI is to reduce overcrowding in detention centers by safely maintaining youth in the community in detention alternatives without jeopardizing public safety or increasing the number of youth who fail to appear for court.

Juvenile Justice Monitoring Unit (JJMU): Administratively housed in the newly established independent agency, the Office of the Correctional Ombudsman, the unit investigates the needs of children under the jurisdiction of DJS and determines whether their needs are being met in compliance with State law. This includes evaluating the conditions of youth housing, reporting on treatment of and services to youth, and investigating allegations of child abuse. JJMU was formerly housed under the Office of the Attorney General.

Juvenile Services Education Program (JSEP): Operated by DJS since July 1, 2022, JSEP provides educational services to detained and committed youth in DJS facilities across the state. An appointed board that includes the secretaries of DJS and the Maryland State Department of Education (MSDE) sets policy for JSEP. Prior to July 1, 2022, JSEP was a part of MSDE.

Maryland College and Career Ready Standards (MCCRS): Standards that cover English language arts, mathematics, and literacy in history/social studies, science, and technical subjects. The standards define what students should know and be able to do at each grade level and also align with state standards and assessments.

Maryland Comprehensive Assessment and Service Planning (MCASP): The DJS process that uses integrated case management to assess risks and needs of youth throughout their DJS involvement and develop interventions to accomplish the goals of public safety and youth rehabilitation. MCASP enables DJS to strengthen individualized service plans for youth and families and match them with appropriate services/programs, to track youth progress, and to ensure that each youth receives the level of supervision consistent with their risk to public safety.

Maryland Evaluation and Treatment Services (METS): A web-based platform that provides key case management functions, including assessments, contacts, and treatment service planning in coordination with the DJS ASSIST system.

Maryland Longitudinal Data System (MLDS): A research data center established by State law in 2010 to allow research and policy evaluation using matched, de-identified data from the State education, workforce, and (as of October 2019) DJS data systems.

Maryland Police and Correctional Training Commissions (MPCTC): Under DPSCS, MPCTC is vested with the authority to set standards of initial selection and training for all governmental law enforcement, correctional, parole and probation, and juvenile services employees in the State of Maryland, and to otherwise upgrade the professionalism of these officers. MPCTC provides certification and ongoing training to DJS staff.

Misdemeanor: See definition for “felony versus misdemeanor.”

Multidisciplinary Assessment Staffing Team (MAST): A specialized regional diagnostic team responsible for assessing and evaluating youth who are detained and at risk of out-of-home placement prior to disposition. Following an in-depth review, the MAST prepares security and treatment recommendations to the juvenile court. The MAST includes psychologists, social workers, community and facility case managers and supervisors, resource specialists, MSDE representatives, and individuals from other disciplines as needed.

Multisystemic Therapy (MST - an EBS): An intensive family- and community-based treatment program that addresses the serious anti-social behavior of juvenile offenders. The major goal of MST is to empower parents and youth with the skills and resources needed to independently resolve the difficulties that arise in coping with family, peer, school, and neighborhood problems. Intervention strategies include family therapy, structural family therapy, behavioral parent training, and cognitive behavior therapies. MST is a home-based model of service delivery.

Pending Placement: A temporary status for youth who have been committed to an out-of-home residential treatment program and are awaiting placement, including youth removed from a committed placement. Youth may be “pending placement” in a variety of settings including: detention facility, home, home with additional services, home under community detention and/or electronic monitoring, family shelter care, structured shelter care, acute care hospitals, or psychiatric respite care programs.

Pending Placement Unit (PPU): A specialized residential unit that offers a treatment-like setting for youth who have been adjudicated and are awaiting placement in a treatment program. Pending Placement Units offer dedicated staff, distinctive uniforms, and more comfortable furnishings; however, the hallmark of Pending Placement Unit is treatment opportunities including individualized and group skills DBT sessions. Treatment progress in the Pending Placement Unit is considered part of a committed youth’s treatment stay.

Petition: A formal written request filed by the State’s Attorney’s Office with the juvenile court alleging that a child is delinquent, in need of supervision (CINS) or in need of assistance (CINA).

Placement versus Admission: A placement is based on a decision made by an intake officer or judge to place a youth into detention or a treatment program. An admission occurs when a youth physically enters a facility either through direct placement or through transfer. Thus, during one placement, a youth may have several admissions.

Positive Behavior Interventions and Supports (PBIS): An implementation framework for maximizing the selection and use of evidence-based prevention and intervention practices along a multi-tiered continuum that supports the academic, social, emotional, and behavioral competence of youth in DJS facilities. PBIS principles guide the provision of medical, behavioral health, education, and recreation services, as well as Trauma Informed Care (TIC) and the Department’s behavior motivation program, STARR. Facility teams use data on youth behavior to evaluate the effectiveness of facility operations, and youth behaviors and progress.

Positive Youth Development (PYD): The intentional engagement of young people in environments, experiences, and relationships that facilitate positive developmental outcomes. PYD in practice is an approach to working with young people that defines goals (outcomes) based on capacities, strengths and developmental needs of young people. Young people are provided opportunities with corresponding supports and services which result in positive developmental outcomes. The PYD approach is in contrast with models that focus on youth’s needs and problems but ignore their inherent strengths and drive toward growth.

Post-Secondary Education Enrollment: The students enrolled at JSEP schools have the opportunity to enroll in college-level courses online through Frederick Community College, Anne Arundel Community College, and Baltimore City Community College. Students at Backbone enroll and attend classes at Garrett Community College.

PowerSchool: The JSEP student information system (SIS) that provides real-time analytics based on student performance; creates report cards, transcripts, and progress reports; and performs progress monitoring for grade books, student attendance, and state standardized exams.

Pre-Adjudication Coordination and Training (PACT): An alternative to detention program in Baltimore City that serves youth ages 14 to 17. PACT utilizes a youth development model and collaborates with participants, their families, DJS, and other partners to develop a plan to address the underlying issues that lead to anti-social or delinquent behavior.

TERMS AND CONCEPTS

Pre-Court Supervision: An agreement consented to by the youth and parent/guardian diverting the case from formal court proceedings. The term is up to 90 days and may be extended to 180 days for substance abuse and mental health treatment needs by DJS or as otherwise ordered by the court. Failure to comply with the supervision agreement may result in a formal petition being filed.

Probation: Court-ordered supervision of youth in the community requiring youth to meet court-ordered conditions (general and case specific), including, for example, school attendance, employment, community service, restitution, counseling, or participation in substance abuse treatment.

Qualified Residential Treatment Program (QRTP): A residential program that has a trauma-informed treatment model that does the following: a) addresses the needs, including clinical needs as appropriate, of youth with serious emotional or behavioral disorders or disturbances; b) implements the treatment identified for youth within the required 30 calendar day assessment of placement appropriateness; c) has registered or licensed nursing staff and other licensed clinical staff available on-site 24 hours a day, 7 days a week; and d) is accredited by any of the independent, not-for-profit organizations approved by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

Racial and Ethnic Disparities (RED): A term referring to the systemic and structural differences in how the legal system interacts with young people of various racial and ethnic backgrounds. More specifically, RED highlights the overrepresentation of youth of color within the system, their harsher, more punitive treatment compared to similarly situated white youth, and the unnecessary entry and deeper movement into the justice system for youth of color.

Racial Equity: The reality in which a person is no more or less likely to experience society's benefits or burdens due to their race or ethnicity. Work to achieve racial equity meaningfully involves persons most impacted by structural racial inequities in the creation and implementation of institutional policies and practices that impact their lives.

Recidivism: Subsequent juvenile/adult delinquent or criminal involvement of youth released from treatment programs or youth placed on probation.

Relative Rate Index (RRI): A standardized measure used to assess racial disparity at each decision point within the justice system process (e.g., detention, court referral). It achieves this by comparing the rate at which youth of color encounter a particular decision point with the rate for white youth at that same point. For instance, the RRI quantifies the gap between the pre-d detention rate for white youth and the pre-d detention rate for youth of a specific racial or ethnic group (See Appendix E). This measure is also commonly referred to as the "disparity gap." (W. Haywood Burns Institute, <https://usdata.burnsinstitute.org/about/measurements>)

Re-entry: A broad term used to refer to the transition from out-of-home committed placement to community supervision. Generally, re-entry involves a plan to ensure youth are connected to school, employment, and continued treatment services when returning to the community.

Removal from Committed Placement: A youth's removal from an out-of-home placement upon determination that the youth failed to comply with the rules and conditions of the program. Following a removal, a youth may require a new out-of-home placement. A youth may remain in detention pending a new placement.

Resident Advisor: A DJS staff member who provides supervision, support, care, and monitoring of youth placed in DJS-operated facilities.

Residential Treatment Center (RTC): A mental health facility that serves children and adolescents with serious long-term emotional, behavioral, and psychological problems. RTCs provide intensive services and should be considered only when services in the community are insufficient to address a youth's needs. In addition to Maryland RTCs, DJS uses a variety of out-of-state providers, including RTCs funded through Medical Assistance. Treatment models vary by program focus, but all RTCs provide individualized treatment plans and structured, comprehensive services that are treatment-oriented and behaviorally focused.

Residential Treatment Service Plan (RTSP): A structured treatment planning tool to guide treatment services for youth placed in DJS-operated treatment programs.

Resolved at Intake: A determination by the DJS Intake officer that furthering a case by informal pre-court supervision or by forwarding it to the State’s Attorney’s Office for formal processing would be disadvantageous to the interests of the youth and to public safety.

Restorative Justice: An approach that seeks to repair the harm caused by criminal behavior by involving the community in rehabilitating offenders and holding them accountable for their behavior. It includes victim-offender mediation, conferencing, dialogue circles, victim assistance, restitution, and community service.

RISE (Respect, Inspire Positivity, Seek Success, Engage): A structured behavior motivation system used in DJS detention facilities that provides support to youth and staff, improves facility culture, and assists youth in achieving social, behavioral, and academic goals. RISE teaches youth the importance of respect for self, others, and environment while providing opportunities for youth to be leaders.

SafeMeasures: An analytic service provided by Evident Change that provides timely management reports and indicators to DJS case management, supervisory, and executive staff. SafeMeasures pulls data from existing DJS databases and creates visual indicators and reports to ensure that the agency’s requirements for effective facility operations, case management, and supervision are tracked and met.

Safer Stronger Together (SST): A collaborative initiative among DJS, the Maryland Department of Human Services (DHS), and the Maryland Department of Public Safety and Correctional Services (DPSCS). SST was piloted in three sites - Hagerstown, Salisbury and East Baltimore - in its first year. In 2025, SST expanded to Capitol Heights and District Heights in Prince George’s County. In each site, all three agencies are working together to serve youth and young adults and their families who touch at least two of these three governmental systems. Additionally, community residents making up a Community Action Board in each site direct resources to grassroots organizations serving the youth and young adults aged 13-25 in their neighborhoods.

Safety Planning Initiative (SPI): An intense supervision initiative for youth in DJS care who are witnesses to, or victims of violent acts, or otherwise at risk of violence.

Seven Challenges: An evidence-based program for youth with substance use issues that combines process groups and journaling. Seven Challenges focuses on helping youth make thoughtful decisions about their substance use and lives, and commit to change, as well as supporting youth in their changes.

Shelter Care: Temporary, short-term (1-30 days), non-secure housing of youth who are awaiting court disposition. Shelter beds serve as an alternative to detention where family or other housing is not available.

Social History Investigation (SHI): The written study of a youth and their family that is presented to the juvenile court. The SHI emphasizes social and legal histories as well as the following domain areas: family functioning, substance abuse, mental health, somatic health, education, employment, and life skills.

Social Skills Training and Aggression Replacement Techniques (START): Based on Aggression Replacement Training (ART), which is an evidence-based, cognitive behavioral group intervention for committed youth with chronic aggression, START focuses on developing youth’s social skills, anger control, and moral reasoning.

Staff Secure: A term describing a residential program where youth movement is controlled through staff supervision rather than by restrictive architectural features.

STARR Program: A behavior motivation program used in DJS treatment facilities that incorporates PBIS principles. STARR utilizes evidence-based principles of positive instruction, reinforcement, and modeling, and is designed to encourage and develop pro-social behavior.

State Advisory Board: A Board that recommends policies and programs to the Secretary of Juvenile Services to improve State juvenile services. The Board helps plan development and use of resources, and helps inform the public of the Department’s work. By law, it includes at least one youth member who was under the Department’s jurisdiction as well as a parent or guardian of a youth who was under the Department’s supervision. The 21 Board members are appointed by the Governor for 3-year terms.

Thrive Academy: The DJS Gun Violence Reduction Strategy that serves probation and aftercare youth identified to be at the highest risk of gun violence as either a victim or a perpetrator. Youth and families participate voluntarily; thus, the intervention is not court-ordered, and the program involves an intensive case management model using “credible messengers.”

TERMS AND CONCEPTS

Transfer/Reverse Waiver Hearing: A hearing in which a court with criminal jurisdiction over a case excluded by statute from juvenile jurisdiction waives it and transfers the child to juvenile court (see Appendix I.) This is permitted if it is “in the interests of the child or society.” The court may not transfer a case of any child who (1) has previously been convicted of an excluded offense; (2) has previously been waived/transferred to juvenile court and adjudicated delinquent; or (3) is accused of first degree murder and was at least 16 at the time of commission. The law specifies various factors that must be considered in making a reverse waiver determination.

Trauma, Addictions, Mental Health, and Recovery for Youth (TAMAR-Y): A structured trauma education group that teaches youth to identify stress and trauma triggers. Youth also learn skills such as deep breathing and mindfulness techniques to address their reactions to stress and trauma triggers. TAMAR-Y uses a multimedia approach that includes videos to stimulate discussion, and it incorporates expressive arts therapies that involve writing and drawing activities to engage youth and help them develop a better understanding of their experiences. Some of the topics covered in groups include: Understanding Trauma’s Impact, Dealing with Triggers, Trauma and Addiction - How We Cope, Keeping It Together - Containment, Who I Am, and Connections.

Trauma Informed Care (TIC): A service delivery approach that takes into account past trauma and the resulting coping mechanisms when attempting to understand behaviors and provide services. Trauma informed care is a framework or a lens used to recognize the prevalence of early adversity in the lives of youth, view presenting problems as symptoms of maladaptive coping, and understand how early trauma shapes a youth’s fundamental beliefs about the world and affects their behavior. In trauma informed counseling, clinicians apply the principles of trauma informed care by identifying youth’s strengths and positive coping strategies in order to assist the youth in managing stress.

Trauma Specific Treatment (TST): Treatment services that address traumatic stress as well as any co-occurring disorders (including substance use and mental disorders) that developed during or after trauma. Trauma Specific Treatments directly address trauma-related symptoms and Posttraumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD). Trauma Focused-Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (TF-CBT) is an example of a trauma specific treatment.

Treatment Service Plan (TSP): A document identifying treatment objectives and services that address the specific needs of the youth and family. It is guided by the MCASP Risk & Needs Assessment (See Appendix P) for adjudicated youth, and completed by DJS case management staff when a youth is placed on probation or into a committed treatment program. It also serves to guide re-entry planning and guides aftercare service linkage and delivery.

Ungovernable: Being beyond the control of parents, guardians, or custodians or being disobedient of parental authority. This designation is one of several that can be filed with DJS as a CINS referral.

Violation of Probation (VOP): A hearing conducted by the court to determine if the conditions of community supervision have been violated. A VOP is considered a technical violation if it does not involve a new delinquent offense.

Youth Charged as an Adult: Juveniles can be charged as adults in certain sets of circumstances. If a child is 14 or older and commits a crime punishable by life imprisonment, then the adult court has original jurisdiction. For youth aged 16 or 17, an adult charge is also possible for certain other offenses. (See Appendix I).

Youth Opportunities to Learn Occupations (YOLO): A paid opportunity for young people in DJS residential facilities to work for other state agencies off-grounds.

DATA IN RESPONSE TO JOINT CHAIRMEN'S REPORT: CHILD IN NEED OF SUPERVISION (CINS) COMPLAINTS

In response to the request for population statistics in the Joint Chairman's Report Section V00D01.01, DJS submits the following data specific to FY 2025 CINS cases by jurisdiction. Total CINS complaints for which CINS was the most serious offense are broken out by the subsequent case forwarding decision (resolved, informaled, and formal petition) and then data are also presented to show the total CINS offenses when CINS was part of a complaint but may not have been the most serious offense.
