DEFINITIONS

- Administrative Release allows certain offenders to be released without a hearing after serving one fourth of sentence and meeting other certain eligibility requirements created by the Justice Reinvestment Act (JRA).
- Administrative Reviews are not face to face hearings but rather "paper" reviews of offender files at the Commission office. These reviews are conducted at five year intervals until an offender reaches parole eligibility and ensures that all the essential documents and institutional adjustment summaries necessary for a parole hearing are obtained and placed in a case file.
- ➤ Commission Cases are heard by a panel of two Commissioners and include cases with a loss of life, life sentences, or life sentences with all but a fixed number of years suspended, and open parole hearings.
- ➢ Geriatric Parole allows offenders that have reached the age of sixty to petition the parole commission for relief under certain criteria established by the Maryland Parole Commission.
- ➤ Gubernatorial Commutation orders that the grantee shall suffer a lesser penalty for the offense than imposed by the court. The commutation of an offenders' sentence is normally considered by the Parole Commission only upon demonstration of extraordinary circumstances.
- ➢ Gubernatorial Pardon absolves the grantee of guilt for his criminal act(s), and exempts the grantee from the resulting penalties. Criteria for the pardon consideration are set by the Governor and normally require the passage of a substantial period of time following the end of the incarceration or any form of supervision before a pardon will be entertained.
- ▶ Hearing Officer Cases are non-Commissioner cases heard by the Hearing Officers who make recommendations reviewed by Commissioners. If the reviewing Commissioner agrees with the Hearing Officers recommendation, that recommendation becomes the Commissioners decision. An offender may appeal this decision to a panel of two Commissioners. In instances where the reviewing Commissioner does not adopt the Hearing Officers recommendation, an in house appeal results and a panel of two Commissioners make a final decision that is not appealable by the offender.
- ➤ Interested Party is an individual who is not a "victim" but rather an individual who has a "special interest" in the status of the offender as determined by the Commissioners Victim Services Coordinator.
- > Justice Reinvestment Act (JRA) Bill passed by the Maryland General Assembly that became law on October 1, 2017. The JRA seeks to reduce Maryland's prison population and use the savings to provide for more effective treatment to offenders, before, during, and after incarceration. This is intended to reduce the likelihood of reoffending, as well as to benefit victims and families. The specific parts of the JRA that pertain to the Maryland Parole Commission provide for administrative release and caps for technical violations of parole or mandatory release.

- ➤ Liaison Agent/Waiver (LAW) hearings are revocation hearings conducted by the Commissioners on offenders who have "technical" violations and admit fault/guilt to the stated violations. These offenders waive the presence of an attorney or their agent of record. For these hearings, the Division of Parole and Probation LAW unit provides an agent to act as a liaison agent who testifies during the entire docket as to the facts of each case using information provided by the agent of record.
- Medical Parole allows consideration for an inmate who is chronically debilitated, or incapacitated by a medical or mental health condition, disease or syndrome as to be physically incapable of presenting a danger to society to be released on medical parole at any time during the term of that inmate's sentence without regard to parole eligibility.
- Mandatory Supervision Release is the release of an offender from the Division of Correction due to diminution credits earned and awarded. The offenders are supervised by parole agents and are subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission after release until the maximum expiration of their sentence. Any alleged violation of mandatory release supervision conditions may result in a revocation hearing.
- ➤ Open Parole Hearings are essentially the same as regular parole grant hearings except it has been opened to the public at the request of the victim or victims representative who is permitted to speak at this hearing. Individuals must make a request in writing to attend these proceedings and the Commission determines who may or may not attend. Open hearings are conducted by two Commissioners.
- Parole is the discretionary and conditional release of an offender into the community by the Commission to continue serving the term of confinement under the supervision of an agent of the DPSCS Community Supervision Unit until the expiration of the full, undiminished term. If any conditions of parole are violated, the offender is subject to revocation and re-incarceration.
- Parole in Absentia a parole hearing that occurs when an offender is housed in a jurisdiction outside the State of Maryland.
- > Parole Eligibility is determined by sentence length and the specific crime (s) for which the offender is incarcerated.
- ▶ Parole Grant Hearing is an interview with the offender conducted by a Commission panel or Hearing Officer to elicit information from and about the offender. This interview along with information contained in the parole file form the basis of the Commissions' decisions.

- Preliminary Revocation Hearing is held before a Hearing Officer who determines if probable cause exists with respect to the stated violations. If probably cause is found, the offender is scheduled for a revocation hearing before a Commissioner. Alleged violators may elect to have or waive preliminary revocation hearings.
- ▶ Public Safety Program is an agreement between the offender and the Commission in which the offender is granted discretionary parole with the stipulation that he/she will received services through the compact provided to those returning to Baltimore City.
- Revocation Hearings are conducted by Commissioners on those offenders who allegedly have violated the conditions of parole or mandatory supervision and are returned to the customer of the Division of Correction or a Local Detention Facility. The supervising agent, who initiated the retake warrant process testifies at this hearing and is subject to cross examination. Offenders are represented by the Office of the Public Defender or a private attorney.
- > Victim is a person (or a designated family member of a deceased person) who has suffered actual or threatened physical, emotional, or financial harm as a direct result of a crime.
