I. Introduction

Environment Article, Title 4, Subtitle 1, requires the Maryland Department of the Environment (Department or MDE) to implement an erosion and sediment control program to control sediment-laden runoff from land disturbing activities. The law allows for the delegation of enforcement authority to local jurisdictions found capable of enforcing compliance with the provisions of this subtitle, and that have the capability comparable to that of the Department in terms of laws and procedures, manpower, equipment, and overall effectiveness. Obligations for delegation include reporting the number of permits issued and violations that occurred within the jurisdiction.

In 2019, Governor Hogan approved Chapters 517 and 518, of the Acts of 2019 (House Bill 703/Senate Bill 505). This law requires that delegated jurisdictions provide additional reporting to the Department on environmental violations in the Critical Area and Sensitive Areas of the state. In addition, the legislation requires the Department to publish the data submitted by the jurisdictions and submit the data to the Governor and General Assembly on or before March 1 of each year. To meet these requirements, the Department revised its data collection and submission process for the delegation of enforcement authority to reflect the recently enacted law. These changes included developing an internet-based data collection form that was shared with the delegated jurisdictions. This form included two new sections on inspection and enforcement in the Critical Area and Sensitive Areas.

This Annual Report on Environmental Violations, 2020, published May 2021 (Annual Report), fulfills the requirement of §4-802(d), Environment Article, Subtitle 8 of the Annotated Code of Maryland. The following summarizes the data collected by the Department from the delegated jurisdictions.

II. Primary Information

The enforcement of erosion and sediment control laws and regulations has been delegated by the Department to 22 jurisdictions (see Table 1) that include 12 Counties, nine municipalities and the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission (WSSC). Delegation is granted to each jurisdiction for a period of two years, unless renewed by the Department. In the year preceding the expiration of the delegation authority, the Department conducts a review of each jurisdiction's program to determine if it should be granted continued delegation authority.

III. Summary of Environmental Violations in Maryland

Data collected from the delegated jurisdictions are presented in Tables 2 through 8. The summary presented below covers data submitted by all 22 jurisdictions for fiscal year 2020 (i.e., July 1, 2019 to June 30, 2020) or FY20.

Permit Information

- A total of 4,015 major permits were issued. Major permits typically include grading, building, and sediment control associated with an engineered erosion and sediment control plan.
 - The total disturbed acreage for the major permits was 9,721 acres.
- A total of 4,552 other permits were issued. Other permits typically include those associated with a standard erosion and sediment control plan for minor earth disturbances or single-lot residential agreements in lieu of requiring custom designed or engineered plans.
 - The total disturbed acreage for these other issued permits was 4,233 acres.

NOTE: In the following tables the use of “-” indicates that data were not reported by the local jurisdiction or were marked “N/A”.*
