The Maryland Agricultural Education and Rural Development Assistance Fund (MAERDAF) is funded through the State of Maryland's Annual Operating Budget. MAERDAF provides small grants to nonprofit organizations and community colleges located in the State's rural areas. In Fiscal Year 2014, MAERDAF received $167,000 in appropriations and awarded 9 grants to rural-serving organizations.

Overview: Nonprofit organizations and community colleges in our State's rural regions often lack access to the public and private sector philanthropic opportunities they need to obtain important programmatic and special project funding. Moreover, local governments, especially those in economically distressed rural regions, do not have the financial wherewithal to fully address these important developmental needs; consequently, a serious resource deficit exists where the need has often been the greatest.

The Maryland Agricultural Education and Rural Development Assistance Fund (MAERDAF) was established in 2000 to offer financial assistance to rural nonprofit organizations that promote statewide and regional planning, economic and community development, and agricultural and forestry education. In addition, MAERDAF offers grants to community colleges that support small and agricultural businesses with enhanced training and technical assistance.

Funding for MAERDAF grants comes from a General Fund appropriation through the Governor and General Assembly, as well as Special Funds from horse racing revenues, which typically fluctuate from year to year. For FY 2014, the total grant pool was $189,402.14. (See details below.)

Grantees are selected by a six-member interagency Grant Review Board whose members are appointed by the Maryland Department of Agriculture, Maryland Department of Business and Economic Development, Maryland Department of Housing and Community Development, Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, Maryland Department of Natural Resources, and the Rural Maryland Council. The decisions of the Grant Review Board are binding.

- Sharan Marshall, Director, Southern Maryland Regional Library Association

MAERDAF Coordinator:

- Charlotte Davis, Executive Director, Rural Maryland Council

Between FY 2001 and FY 2014, the MAERDAF program has awarded $2,815,866 in grants to 57 rural-serving nonprofit organizations. The Rural Maryland Council was pleased to receive $167,000 in a General Fund Appropriation for MAERDAF in Fiscal Year 2014. At the end of Fiscal Year 2013, the RMC received $22,402.14 in returned funds from FY 2013 projects. This funding was made available for consideration during Fiscal Year 2014. Three grant projects that were initially only partially funded were able to receive full funding in Fiscal Year 2014.

The average MAERDAF grant over the life of the program has been $16,842. In FY 2014, the average grant amount was $20,898. During FY 2014, the MAERDAF Grants Review Board received 30 grant applications requesting $577,888.94 in funding. The Board selected nine rural-serving nonprofit organizations to receive $188,079 in available funding.

The MAERDAF Program has helped many rural-serving organizations establish or continue programs and projects that have had a significant and positive impact on Rural Maryland. In addition, the modest state investment in the MAERDAF program has helped the nonprofit sector leverage a substantial amount of private and federal financial support. The MAERDAF Board is required to give preference to organizations that leverage non-state matching funds. Moreover, MAERDAF has helped many of these nonprofit service providers develop institutional capacity, improve grant-writing skills, and enhance the internal development of volunteer boards and staff.

Summary: Energetics Technology Center is a nonprofit organization dedicated to helping entrepreneurs and technology oriented businesses in Southern Maryland start and grow successful, sustainable companies that compete in the global marketplace.

Grant funds were to be used to determine the feasibility of and develop a plan for an agricultural based technology transfer assistance program. Evergreen Heritage Center Foundation, Inc. – Award Amount: $21,705 (Amount Requested: $21,705)

Summary: The Evergreen Heritage Center Foundation is dedicated to utilizing experiential learning to provide rural Maryland’s young people with the knowledge and practical experience to sustain themselves and the environment, and to compete in today’s economy.

Grant funds were used to provide experiential learning in sustainable agriculture and forestry to students and increase their environmental literacy. The Foundation was able to purchase a portable small-scale sawmill that can be moved to create lumber on the site of a logging or tree removal operation. Portable sawmills became popular in the U.S. in the 1970’s with increased interest in small woodlots and self-sufficiency. In 1982, Wood-Mizer company created the band-saw mill, which uses a band blade instead of a circular blade. This reduces the amount of waste sawdust and increases the usable lumber from each log.

Small-scale sawmills allow the user to create lumber on-site, eliminating transportation costs and allowing the use of local products. It also enables creation of custom products, such as uniquely sized lumber. Portable sawmills are a great addition to low-impact logging and forest management plans.

LEAD Maryland Foundation, Inc. – Award Amount: $25,000 (Amount Requested: $25,000)

Summary: LEAD Maryland Foundation, Inc. is a non-profit organization dedicated to identifying and developing leadership for agriculture, natural resources, and rural communities.

Grant funds allow LEAD Maryland Foundation to continue work with the current class of Fellows. The Fellows are enrolled into a two-year program to increase their assurance, skills, and knowledge for mobilizing people to address the above-mentioned examples of change, and other relevant issues. The grant funds will be used for Seminars 4, 5 and 6.
